HI-JINKS SUCCESSFUL.

The Hi-Jinks went over with a bang. The committee in charge, Gene Doherty, Charles Notson and Onex Parker, are to be congratulated on the success of the enterprise. Paul Hiesler and Merle Becket left little to be desired in the advertising line. The smoker which was the main event of the carnival was ably supervised by Robert Turner and Paul Hiesler. Recruits from the H Club and the Booster Club helped put the affair across. Those who had charge of the booths were as follows:
 Fish Pond—Louise Langdon, Anna McDavid and Audrey Beymer.
 Fortune Telling—Eva Hiatt and Gertrude Doherty.
 Beauty Parlor—Ethel Moore and Elizabeth Elder.
 Contest for most ugly man won by Paul Hiesler, with Mr. Johnson a close second, and for most beautiful woman won by Miss Murray. Marjorie Clark, Patricia Mahoney and Ruth Furlong were in charge.
 Bar Committee—Mae Doherty, Veltton Owen, Katherine Bisbee and Evelyn Swindig.
 Wild Animals—Merle Becket and Howard Evans.
 Nigger Baby Stand—Tom Wells and Onex Parker.
 Police Court—Frieda Akers, Mary Ritchie, Valoche Brammer and Judge, Charles Notson.
 Candy Selling—Onex Parker.
 Clowns—Hazel McDavid and Onex Parker.
 Roulette—Ellis Thomson.
 Hehisch Stand—Louise Thomson and John Conder.
 The smoker consisted of boxing matches—Gordon Bucknum vs. Albert Lawson, a draw; Jack Casteel vs. Vernon Brown, draw; Clarence Hayes vs. Robert Turner, decision for Clarence; Tom Wells vs. Merle Becket, draw; wrestling match, Elmer Hake vs. Marion Cunningham, draw.

SCHOOL PICNIC.

On Thursday, May 19, the annual school picnic will be held. This will be the climax of the exams which will be finished on Wednesday. Under the point system the class with the highest number of votes may provide nothing for this picnic, one other class will furnish the transportation, and the remaining two classes will furnish the food. A committee of three, Merle Becket, Gerald Slocum and Mr. Johnson has been selected to decide upon the location. They plan to go no farther than fifteen miles away, possibly twenty. It is reported that they may decide to go up Rhea creek.

Junior Flunk Day.

Last Friday the juniors limped in to assembly so sore and weary that they could hardly walk. It seems that their hike to the old mill from the camp was very strenuous to say the least. They all admitted that they had put in a day, getting up probably at five o'clock and getting back after dark. But they all said they had had a good time and would like to live the day over again. They went to the mountains above Butter creek.

Miss Thorpe, Miss Bleakman and Miss Fredrecksan will start upon a tour of Oregon on the 21st of this month. They will go into Idaho from La Grande, from there down through Southern Oregon to Crater Lake, then up to Bend, across McKenzie pass to Eugene, Portland and back home. They will drive in Miss Thorpe's car and plan to be gone about two weeks.

Miss Pearson: "What animal eats the least food?"
 Harlan Devin: "The moth, it eats holes."

ANNUAL PUBLISHED.

To add to the rest of the Hi-Jinks on Saturday evening, some 200 volumes of the 1926-27 issue of the high school annual, The Hehisch, came off the press and were ready for distribution. Accordingly a booth was erected at the carnival at which any who had not theretofore placed an order for an annual had the privilege of purchasing one for the sum of $1.25. Sixteen annuals were issued and the sales manager felt somewhat encouraged by the returns of the efforts put forth.

On Monday, annuals were issued to each member of the sales force for distribution and about 70 were disposed of. There have been about 135 or 140 annuals spoken for. As we have 200 printed, it spells "dig" for the salesmen, to sell the rest.

We have hopes of being able to sell the annuals readily. If the entire lot are not sold this year, next year will find the school without an annual, for Mr. Burgess is strictly against the school running into debt on the annual this year. Why can we not sell 200 annuals in a town of over 1500 population? Surely there are 200 people interested enough in the high school to buy a Hehisch. We wish all those desiring annuals, and who have not been solicited, to please put your order in as soon as possible.

The annual itself is a very fine little book, containing the news of the school for the past year, and also the pictures of the students and faculty. The cover design is unusually attractive. It is a good souvenir of your school. Secure one.

Booster Club Sales.

The Girls' Booster club has awakened to the fact that they are in dire need of funds, and to meet this demand, they are planning a series of sales. On Thursday, May 12, the club will sell lemonade and orangeade for five cents a glass. This will appease the thirst of those who want something slightly stronger than water. Friday, the 13th, will see the club selling small souvenir yell books. These little volumes will be of the high school colors, purple and gold, and will sell for ten cents. The souvenirs will contain five of the favorite yells of the high school, and every student should have one as a remembrance of his high school days. On the day of the high school picnic the booster club girls will have a booth of ice-cold drinks, and sell them at the popular five cent price.

Grade Athletics.

The grade school baseball team played its last game of the season at Lone Friday. Ritchie, the lone pitcher, twirled with great effectiveness, allowing only one hit which was obtained by Bruce Gibb, Heppner catcher. The Heppner boys played very good ball in the field while lone allowed two scores to be made on errors. Lone won 7-2.

Four games were played during the season. Heppner beat Lexington twice and dropped both games to the lone team.

Baseball letters will be issued to the following boys: Bruce Gibb, Elmer Hake, James McNamee, Orrin Furlong, Roy Gentry, Oral Wright, Alex Ulrich, Gay Anderson, Earl Thomson, Lyle Cowdrey and Clarence Erwin.

Athletics in the grades have proven successful during the whole year. It is believed that it has caused better attendance, better work in the classroom, and has lessened discipline trouble. The boys have taken a great interest in it, have done all the work outside of school hours, and have paid all expenses by the gate receipts from their own games. Two or three years of training in the grades will undoubtedly improve athletics in the high school in the years to come.

It is hoped that the work will be continued next year.

Faculty Banquet.

The faculty gave a banquet in honor of the school board Tuesday. The decorative scheme was carried out in rose and white tulips, narcissi and candles.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Huston, Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Smith, Mr. W. O. Dix and Junita Wilson. Winifred Thomson, Doris Hiatt and Zelia McFerrin served.

Examinations.

High school students are nervously cramming for the exams which will be given Tuesday and Wednesday as the exemptions have as yet not been published. Students are hastily scribbling term papers, book reports and outlines which, as usual, have been left to the last possible moment.

The junior-senior banquet which is to be given Saturday is progressing rapidly. Both committees are working hard and it is hoped it will be a success.

A deep and sonorous rumble, not unlike a worn out saw, pierced the stillness of assembly the other afternoon. The noise was discovered to emit from a certain small boy in the sub-freshman row. Not even the uproar of returning classes could disturb his somnolence. Though his name was announced upon the eighth period list he heard it not. The sympathetic upperclassmen tried in vain to suppress their mirth that his slumber might not be rent. At the dismissal of school, Mr. Johnson was forced to arouse the young man who awoke to a circle of grinning and somewhat boisterous classmates. He yawned at his audience, a trifle embarrassed, but very much refreshed. This young Dreamer of Dreams was Joe Swindig.

Mae Groshens gave an interesting 45-minute talk on Poison Gas, in chemistry Tuesday. It was enjoyed immensely, especially as there was no class recitation.

Mr. Burgess: "Have you ever done any public speaking before?"
 Paul Hiesler: "Once; I asked a girl for a date over our party line."

Dorothy Herren: "Are you going to the fair?"
 Norma Short: "What fair?"
 D. H.: "Well, the paper says fair here today and tomorrow."

The Honor Roll for the grades will not be published this term because they cannot be determined until the last day of school.

The sixth grade will take their exams in Oregon History and Hygiene this week.

The fifth grade have been corresponding with school children in other states. An interesting box from Eastport, Maine, came to Billy Thomson. It contained many different post cards and a box of sardines.

A box made up of Morrow county produce was sent in return. Billy's mother made three tiny wheat sacks which were filled with rye, oats and wheat.

State tests for the eighth A will be taken Thursday and Friday. Eighth B exams will come next week.

Miss Roger's room, the seventh grade, had a wienie roast last Monday. They invited the eighth B grade.

The fifth grade has just received a framed picture of Pilgrims Going to Church.

possession of the New Testament is a very interesting one and one with which all Christians ought to be familiar. This will be the theme for the evening discourse at the Church of Christ on Sunday next. All other services as usual. A cordial welcome to all.

MILTON W. BOWER, Minister.

Judge C. H. Finn of Portland, was a visitor in Heppner on Monday, looking after business matters of a legal nature.
