

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HERKIM, Correspondent.

A new grader has been purchased for use in the north end of the county. It was unloaded Friday.

Mrs. Henry Kinges and daughter Jessie came Saturday for a week-end visit at the Harvey Huff home.

Mrs. S. H. Boardman went to Portland Friday where she attended one of the "Report Dinners" of the group which is putting on the campaign for the Pension of Aged Ministers fund.

From there she went to Salem to visit over Sunday with her daughter Dorothy, who is employed in the state library.

Clifford Olson came Saturday for an over-Sunday visit with home folks. He is working in Portland.

Boardman friends were surprised and interested to hear of the marriage of Mrs. Olive M. Wilson to Wm. Henry Keen May 1 at Spokane. They will be at home after June 1 at Athena, Wn. Mrs. Wilson was the primary teacher here last year and has many friends who wish her much happiness.

Baccalaureate services for the class of 1927 were held Sunday at the boardman community church. Rev. D. A. Thompson of Portland gave an interesting and able address. The platform was very attractive with potted plants and high school pennants.

Mrs. Ralph Davis sang with Mrs. Mead accompanying, and Linda Hango played a piano solo. Rev. Thompson went to Pilot Rock from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Lester moved Sunday to Arlington where they will be closer to Mr. Lester's work. He is employed on Ballenger's fertilizer plant which is grinding up sheep guano near Arlington at present.

Miss Gertrude Kankonen came up Saturday from Astoria and will visit for the week with her sister, Miss Esther, who teaches the 5th and 6th grades.

Rev. A. D. Swogger and family were guests Sunday at the Hereim home.

The H. B. Hawkins family are glad to be released from quarantine for scarlet fever.

Miss Lavelle Leathers and her primary folks had a merry picnic Wednesday at the Duggan's on the Price ranch. An abundance of good eats, and many games made the hours pass rapidly. Mrs. Duggan, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Hallenger assisted Miss Leathers.

Mrs. Freeman Fortier was hostess Wednesday to the Ladies Aid at a silver tea at her home. About 25 ladies were present. A pleasing program was enjoyed, consisting of a duet by Mrs. Chas. Goodwin and Mrs. Bands, with Mrs. Davis accompanying; a solo by Mrs. Messenger and some clever games. Mrs. Fortier was assisted by her committee which is made up of Mrs. Leo Root, chairman, and Mesdames Claude Coats, Guy Barlow, Harvey Huff and Chas. Goodwin. Mrs. Claude Myers is also a member of this group but was absent. A delicious lunch was served. The president, Mrs. J. R. Johnson, has appointed seven committee chairmen each of which have 6 or 7 members, who are to assist at these silver teas. Mrs. E. T. Messenger and her group will have charge of the next one which will be at the Messenger home.

Miss Lavelle Leathers was presented with a beautifully bound Bible by the senior class last Monday as a mark of appreciation for her help in coaching the senior play.

Another attempt was made to hold a P. T. A. meeting on Tuesday of last week but there were almost as many teachers as there were patrons, so it was voted to adjourn until fall.

The Legion and Auxiliary had a pleasant time Friday evening when they gathered at the Tom Hendricks auto camp for a farewell picnic dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. John Corawell who have been active workers in the two organizations.

The Boardman teachers will almost be forced to take a rest cure or diet most meticulously after reaching their various homes as they have been "dined" so frequently of late at various homes on the project, almost every night for the past two weeks.

In fact, on Thursday evening five teachers were passengers on the East End bus. The Misses Kankonen and Leathers were guests at a lovely dinner at the Geo. Gross home. Miss Alice Falk was an overnight guest at Hereim's, Miss Ethel Beougher was entertained at a sumptuous dinner at the O. B. Olson home and was an overnight guest, and Miss Silver was a guest at the G. A. Harju home.

On Monday evening a lovely dinner was enjoyed at the Olson home by a congenial group who also remained overnight. Guests were the Misses Gertrude and Esther Kankonen, Lavelle Leathers, Elsie Silver and Esther Imus.

Mrs. Joe Muller left this week for an extended visit with relatives at Mt. Angel. Two of the Muller children have been attending school at Mt. Angel the past winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen and baby were up Sunday from Arlington and visited at the Jess Allen home.

Another grave was added to the Boardman cemetery recently when a tiny little baby who came to the Leon Cooney home April 27 was buried. Cooneys had waited for years for a child and a year and a half ago adopted a lovely little girl and were so very happy in their anticipation of a child of their own, but the little one was still born.

A sumptuous dinner was enjoyed by a number of high school students at the home of Rachel Johnson, a member of the junior class, Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Those present were Mabel Brown, Rachel Johnson, Helen Chaffee, Esther Imus, Ray Barlow, Robert Berger, Eldon Wilson, Russell Mefford and the six seniors, who are Erma Broyles, Catherine Berger, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander.

The Ladies Aid is planning a play to be given shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

to be given shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended, and life opens up with a new vista. The graduates this year were Catherine Berger, Erma Broyles, Nellie Messenger, Weldon and Carl Ayers and Hector Wicklander. The commencement program follows: Invocation—Rev. W. S. Gleiser, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have another boy, a 10-lb. lad who came Friday, May 5, at Pendleton. This makes four boys.

J. P. Barlow motored to Heppner Monday on business.

The Misses Esther and Gertrude Kankonen and Lavelle Leathers were entertained at a lovely dinner Wednesday evening at the J. R. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Porter motored to Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skobo and family and Hans Nelson were guests Sunday at the Adolph Skobo home, helping Adolph celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Jay Cox were hostesses Saturday night at a pleasant surprise party honoring their brother Ray Barlow and Noel Klitz, each of whom had a 17th birthday Saturday. The party was held at the Coats home and various games made time pass all too rapidly. Two lovely cakes, each with 17 candles were part of the delicious refreshments provided. Guests were Eldon Wilson, Mabel Brown, Alex Ayers, Nellie Messenger, Robert Berger, Russell Mefford, Helen Chaffee, Rachel Johnson, Esther Imus, and the two honorees, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barlow, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Guy Barlow and wife, V. J. Gillespie, Jay Cox and children and little Miss Echo Coats.

The home economics club of the Grange met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. S. Calkins. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. O. King and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the hostess.

The efforts of four years of hard study culminated Thursday night for six members of the class of 1927 of the Boardman high school. Excitement has been keen; the mad whirl of picnics, school parties; the busy preparation of lovely new gowns; the girls; the odor of flowers; the sending of announcements; the termination of the tense moment when the young acolyte receives his prized diploma from the hands of Mr. Packard, and his high school days are ended,