"FAMILY UPSTAIRS" GIVES GOOD SENDOFF

Beeks, Raymond B. Tolbert Also Well Received At Chautauqua.

BIG TREATS COMING

The Maids 'O Dundee Head Program Today; Big Play Tomorrow; Attendance Urged.

Heppner's 1927 Chautauqua was given a grand send-off Tuesday evening when more than 400 people attended the play, "The Family Upstairs." The heavy rain never dampened the spirit of the players or audience one whit, and gales of laughter throughout attested the warm welcome received.

A little inconvenience was encountered in getting the big tent ready in time, as the tent man of the chautauqua organization failed to show up on schedule. However, Mrs. Williams, superintendent, with the close cooperation of the local committee, got a local crew on the job and the tent and seating were all arranged in time for the first performance. More than 300 folding chairs have been provided for the convenience of chautauqua goers, which with the added benches make seating room for more than 600.

Yesterday's large audience were pleased with the performance of Beek's Music Land Entertainers and the address, "The Roots of the Republic," by Raymond B. Tolbert. Interest is now reaching white heat and it is expected "The Maids 'O Dundee" who will share their program in the afternoon with F. M. Price's address, "America in 1927," will be more largely greeted than previous performances. The "Maids" have a company of five beautiful and talented young ladies, pleasing to look upon, and more pleasing yet with their varied catch phrases, artists on the xylophone, saxophone, cornet and piano are present in the company. All are good vocalists, and their interpretation of the Highland Fling is winning, indeed. This is the promise of the superintendent, whose experience in past performances with them lead her to say, "that's putting it mildly."

The address of Mr. Price is not only unique but full of fruitful knowledge. He looks into the future of our country, making predictions and almost prophecies, but which are all fact and guesswork. His thorough knowledge of present economic and social conditions qualifies him as a capable exponent of his subject.

Then tomorrow comes another big day, if anything better than "The Family Upstairs," advance word promises. It is "Believe Me Xantippe," to be given in the evening. The Pollard Players give a varied dramatic program in the afternoon. In four acts, "Believe Me Xantippe" touches the heart chords of all real Americans. It is primarily a story of adventure, reaching from New York to the far West, but carries with it a large amount of wholesome comedy. And Saturday comes a double performance by the Lovelace Twins Quartette, a wind-up program to leave fond, lingering memories of chautauqua. Twin brothers married to twin sisters, all four talented musicians, full of pep and fun who make lasting friends wherever they go. They have a record of many successes in the east and middle west, where they have been prominent in chautauqua work for several years.

The local committee urges everyone to take advantage of these exceptional entertainment opportunities.

The opening number Tuesday was everything promised and more. "The Family Upstairs" won the audience completely, depicting as it did present day American characteristics, perhaps slightly overdrawn for the comedy effect but nevertheless recognized to be a major part of American families. There was Willie "cake eater" more or less, too smart to go to school, a bear with the flappers, mamma's pet and bane of father's existence, who smokes cigarettes and spends too much time around the pool hall. His sister, sensible and good, but too slow in marrying to suit her mother, who nearly ruins the girl's life by trying to marry her to the fellow to whom the girl is already secretly engaged, causing the engagement to be broken. But dad gets busy and straightens it all out in the end. The play characterizes a family of the wage earning class in the city, who live in a flat.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beek who entertained yesterday afternoon and evening were versatile to the extreme in their musical and reading program. Mr. Beek pleased with his cornet and banjo numbers, readings and vocal selections while Mrs. Beek showed herself to be an artist at the piano. Their duet work was exceptionally good. Mr. Beek's baritone and Mrs. Beek's soprano harmonizing well. Full of life and merriment this young couple made for themselves a lasting welcome in Heppner.

Raymond B. Tolbert discussed vital problems of American democracy in his "Roots of the Republic." He showed why prohibition is not the cause of the so-called crime wave; gave the foreign element in the city, ruled by political bossism, credit for undermining our institutions; condemned New York and other states who have defied the United States constitution in abrogating enforcement of the 18th amendment within their confines; encouraged stricter

HEPPNER RODEO DATES SET FOR SEPTEMBER 22-24

Old Officers and Committees Held Over; Little Expenditure on Equipment Needed.

The Heppner Rodeo dates this year have been set for September 22-23-24, the week following the Pendleton Round-Up which occurs the 14th to 17th.

Plans are now being formulated for the three-day program and C. W. McNamer, president, says little expenditure of money will be necessary from now on to have everything needed for the best show ever. Already the track has been graded up and is well packed, making it faster and safer than heretofore.

The plans now have in mind following much the same program as in former years with a few alterations and additions. Much stress is to be laid on the Morrow County Derby, which will be made a three-quarter mile event instead of a half mile. It is believed this will make it a better race and give opportunity for more entries. Purse money and entrance fees will remain much the same as they were last year.

As the date for election of officers passed without a meeting, the old officers and directors were automatically held over. C. W. McNamer is president of the association, Leonard Gilliam, secretary, and Chas. H. Latourell, V. Gentry and Jack French, directors.

All the stock and equipment is in the best of shape, Mr. McNamer declares, and the broncs will be rounded up soon and put through the paces. From past performances, it is needless to say the Rodeo bucking stock is highly capable of caring for all comers.

Premium lists will be out as soon as final arrangements are completed.

Morrow Boys to Attend Vancouver Summer Camp

Morrow county will be represented at the 1927 Citizens' Military Training camp at Vancouver Barracks, Washington, by six boys who will report to camp on June 17 for a month of training and recreation. These boys are Terrel L. Bengt, Harlan J. Devine, Maurice W. Edmondson, and Clarence W. Hayes of Heppner; Gene M. Engelman and George F. Higgins, Ione.

The C. M. T. camps are conducted by the Government under provisions of the National Defense act and aim to develop citizenship, Americanism, physical fitness and a sense of responsibility and duty of citizenship in the young men attending.

The purpose of the camps is not to make soldiers of the boys attending, for this could not be done in the brief thirty day period if it was desired, and attendance does not bind the student in any way.

Athletics under the supervision of ex-college athletes, trips to the beach and nearby places of interest, military training and general outdoor recreation will be the summer's program at the camp. Vancouver Barracks is the camp center for the state of Oregon and the southwestern counties of Washington.

TRIP TO WONDERLAND WILL FEATURE 1927 CONVENTION

LaGrande, Ore., June 8.—One of the most interesting features of the American Legion convention to be held here July 21-23-24 will be a trip to Wallowa Lake Wonderland and a chance for visitors to view Wallowa Lake and its surrounding beauties. This trip will be staged on the Sunday following the convention dates and all who wish to make the trip will be given the opportunity.

Reservations for rooms are coming in steadily and from all indications the attendance here will far exceed any of the previous conventions. Ample housing facilities have been arranged for and all reservations will be promptly attended to. The railroad companies have established low rates and many special trains will be used. The tourist camps are well equipped to handle those desiring to camp out while here and the local hotels and private homes are cooperating with the Legion, so no one need stay away for fear of a lack of accommodations.

GRANGE SPONSORS CELEBRATION
Orin Wright and S. Fryrear were in the city the first of the week on business in connection with the celebration at Parkers Mill, July 2-3-4, being sponsored by the Morrow and Grant county Pomona Granges. A full three-day program is being lined up, with special stress to be laid on a real old-fashioned good time on the fourth. Though the Granges are to hold a big closed meeting for initiatory purposes, it is wished to make it perfectly understood that the general public is invited to celebrate there. A general outline of the program will be found in an advertisement in another column of this issue.

BAPTISM OF THE HOLY SPIRIT.
What a deal of confusion there is in the world over some of the things that are very plainly taught in the word of God. A great deal of error is taught concerning the Holy Spirit and that is the reason for discussion at this time. Sunday evening at the Church of Christ the subject will be fully gone into.

The morning discussion will deal with the third chapter of the Ephesian letter.

Bible school and Christian Endeavor as usual.

MILTON W. BOWER, Minister.

SPEAKS TODAY

F. M. PRICE

Who speaks at Chautauqua this afternoon on "America in 1927."

More Wool Sales Here Bring Good Prices

Good prices have been received for wool at Heppner during the week, and several shepherds have disposed of their clips, the highest price being 30 3/4 cents. A number of buyers have been on the field for several days, and with the sales closed there remains but about 25 per cent of the Morrow wool clip to be disposed of.

Pat Connel, O'Connor Bros., D. O. Justus received 30 1/2c; Barney P. Doherty, 27 1/2c; Bob Thompson, 30 3/4c, and Dan C. Doherty, 30c. Buyers here were J. A. Funk, representing Hollowell, Jones & Donald; Jack Stanfield, E. J. Burke & Co., and Alex Livingston.

COHN-KILKENNY.

Henry Cohn and Miss Zara Kilkenny stole a march on their many Heppner friends on Friday last, and were quietly married at Baker, Ore., according to report here the first of the week. Though the couple were in Heppner on Sunday no public announcement of the wedding was made, and many friends were left only to conjecture. Mr. and Mrs. Cohn were reported to be spending some time in Portland this week, and it was expected they would return the last of the week. Miss Kilkenny is a prominent member of Heppner's younger set, being a daughter of John Kilkenny, extensive Morrow county sheep raiser, and Mr. Cohn is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cohn of Heppner and Portland, and also is engaged in the sheep business here. This paper joins their many friends in extending best wishes.

IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK.

A party of young people in the Chrysler touring car driven by Stephen Thompson came to grief shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday evening, when the car hit the blocking fence on the highway below town near the Hughes farm. In the car besides Thompson were Shirley Elder, Elizabeth Elder and Virginia Olson. Though all four passengers were thrown through the top of the car, tearing it completely out, only slight injuries were sustained. The blockage was placed by the state highway department while repairing a bridge, and though danger signals had been placed at intervals to its approach, these failed to warn the party. The car was side-tracked into the ditch, and not badly damaged considering the impact.

WINS TRAP TROPHY.

Chas. H. Latourell returned to Heppner the first of the week after attending two big trap shoots at Eugene and Seattle. In the miss and out event of the Pacific Divisional shoot at Eugene Mr. Latourell held high gun, winning a beautiful loving cup, trophy for the event. In Seattle he broke 99 out of 100 birds in the registered championship event, but never participated in the finals as they moved him from class B to class A in competition with Frank Troth and other champion clay bird shots. If he had been left in class B, Mr. Latourell believes he stood a good chance of winning the cup.

ENTERTAIN AT LEXINGTON.

The E. J. Evans home, one mile from Lexington, was the scene of a very gay party on last Friday evening, when the Misses Gwendolyn Evans and Erma Duval entertained, honoring Miss Margaret Kirk of Freewater.

The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. At midnight refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The guests present were: Misses Helen Valentine, Mae Gentry, Eva and Dorris Wilcox, Alice Palmer, Ruth Dinges, Eva Padberg, Mary Slocom, Marie Breashers, Beryl and Ora Anderson, Eula McMillan, and Margaret Kirk; and Messrs. James Leach, Vester Lane, Marion and Elmer Palmer, Edward Keller, Raymond, Paul, and Benjamin Miller, Edward Burchell, Roy Quackenbush, Laurel Ruhl, Charles Wilcox, Emmett Kuns, and Wayne McMillan.

SWIMMING POOL OPEN.

The Legion swimming pool is now open and the past few warm days has been doing a large business. Chas. Ayers has charge of the tank this year. It was expected the tank would be opened by the middle of May, but because of the continued cool weather it was found necessary to postpone the opening.

IONE HAS HOPE OF TILTING LOCALS OFF TOP PLACE

Two Games In County Will Be Hotly Contested; Each Won Sunday.

League Standings	Won	Lost	Pct.
Heppner	8	1	.889
Ione	6	3	.667
Condon	3	6	.333
Arlington	3	6	.333

As the wind-up of the Morrow-Gilliam County Baseball league season nears, attention is centering on the two Heppner-Ione games, the first to be played next Sunday at Ione and the other the following week here. Heppner's only other game, the one at Condon, will end the league schedule.

Ione has been stepping along prettily the last few weeks, taking everything into camp, even Heppner in the no league Memorial Day game when she threw a good scare into the locals. The way things now stand, if Ione succeeds in winning the remainder of her games and Heppner loses the last three, Ione will edge out on top by a one-game lead. But if Heppner wins from Condon, which is probable, and loses the two to Ione, the two clubs will be tied.

That's the dope leading Ione to believe she has a good chance for the pennant, but Heppner is not resting on her past laurels. The locals know they have tough opposition in the Egg City bunch and are not prone to underestimate them. In the two former games between the two clubs, Heppner nosed out by only a close margin, and the boys know they must scrap to keep their heads up.

Last Sunday both Heppner and Ione had easy games, the locals winning from Arlington 7-1 and Ione defeating Condon 14-2. Ione's lineup was bolstered by three new players, the pitcher, "Rip" Collins of Longview, and two outfielders, who looked mighty good. It is probable these players will be used against Heppner next Sunday.

Rain so far this week has prevented practice here and it is expected the boys may start a little slow Sunday. They will be at themselves before the game's over, it is hoped, and will give a good account of themselves.

Morrow Wheat Fields Drenched With Rain

Yes, it was a million dollar rain for sure. Beginning Tuesday evening and lasting till well on toward noon Wednesday, the rain came part of the time in torrents, but generally a steady downpour, and the wheat fields of the county were thoroughly drenched. Thousands of bushels have been added to the prospective yield and there would seem to be nothing to prevent the maturing of the biggest crop in the history of the county. The total rainfall for the week has been near 2 inches.

We just received our portion of the heavy rain that came all over the state, and it was one time that Morrow county was not overlooked by the weather man. There was some thunder and lightning at times, but the electrical storm here was nothing compared to what it was in many parts, according to reports.

THREE WEEKS LEFT FOR REINSTATING GOV'T. INSURANCE

ATTENTION of ex-service men is called to the fact that the time for reinstatement of Government War Risk Insurance will be up on July 1st. All ex-service men who have not reinstated their Government insurance should do so at once. Information and blanks may be secured from Spencer Crawford, commander, or P. M. Gemmill, adjutant, of Heppner Post No. 87, American Legion. The former may be found at the Gazette Times office and the latter at Cohn Auto Co. This service will be gladly given any veteran whether a member of the Legion or not.

The best endorsement of the government insurance is the fact that all the major insurance companies have instructed their representatives to urge upon all who are entitled to it, to reinstate their Government policies.

Do not delay. The time is short. REINSTATE NOW!

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Mrs. Claud White and daughter LaVerne of north Sand Hollow were in Heppner for a short time Monday. LaVerne White and Johnnie Moore, both pupils of the Pine City school, have been chosen to represent the boys and girls club and attend the summer club school at O. A. C. beginning next week. This session will last for three weeks, and Mrs. White will accompany the children to Corvallis. Mrs. White also makes report of splendid crop conditions in her locality and a lot of grain will be produced there this season.

Mrs. Florence Paul returned to Heppner from Portland on Saturday and has been busy getting the Sam Hughes residence ready for the family. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will arrive a little later. Six months ago the Sam Hughes company sold out their business at Heppner and going to Portland Sam bought a business in one part of the city and Hanson in another. They have both sold out and will return to Heppner and will likely engage in business here again.

Arthur T. E. McCoy, age 17, was committed to the reform school at Salem on Friday. He was brought out as charged on charges of pilfering, and when Judge Bengt had fully investigated the case he thought the proper place for the lad was in the state institution, to which place he was taken on Saturday by Sheriff McDuffee. McCoy drifted into Heppner from Aberdeen, Wash., some weeks ago and had been working for L. W. Gentry.

Harold Cohn, district commissioner of the American Legion, Department of Oregon, attended a meeting of the committee in Portland Saturday. On Sunday, in company with other state officers, Mr. Cohn went to Pendleton where a new post was instituted. The entire membership of the new post is composed of Indian ex-service men of the Umatilla reservation, and as far as is known this is the first all-Indian post in the United States.

T. J. Humphreys departed for Eugene and other Willamette valley points this morning. At Eugene he will attend the graduation exercises at the University of Oregon. Miss Evelyn Humphreys being a member of the graduating class. While away he will be relieved in the prescription department at Humphreys Drug store by E. C. Brown, a registered pharmacist of Hillsboro and old time friend of Mr. Humphreys.

B. S. Clark of Sand Hollow was a visitor in the city on Monday. Edgar Copenhaver is farming the wheat land on the Clark place and the prospects are just right for a heavy yield. Mr. Clark himself is engaged in the milking of several head of good cows, raising chickens and pigs, and finds the business profitable. He markets his butterfat at Heppner.

Bert Palmateer, Morgan wheat-raiser, was here for a short time on Tuesday. Mr. Palmateer reports that his prospects for a bumper crop are the finest in the 30 years of his farming experience in the Morgan section. The crop in that part of the county is practically made now, and the weather conditions have been ideal for its development.

O. M. Whittington, theater man of Bend, spent a couple of days at Heppner and Eight Mile the first of the week, coming over with Dr. Ben Tyler, eyeglass specialist, who spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the Buhn store. Mr. Tyler is a former Morrow county boy, being a resident for many years of the Lexington section.

O. T. Ferguson, who made a trip over the north end of Morrow county the first of the week, reports that entire section as giving promise of a bumper yield of grain. Many fields should yield 30 to 35 bushels from present outlook, and Mr. Ferguson thinks it will be the greatest crop the north end has ever produced.

Mrs. Jess Hall states that she has been quite successful in her venture in chicken raising this spring. Out of 1500 eggs hatched she was able to raise more than 1300 chicks and the weather conditions of the early spring were not what they should have been either. Mr. and Mrs. Hall are on the Harry Road place on Heppner flat.

Mrs. C. L. Keithley of Pendleton, spent Sunday and Monday in this city enjoying a visit with friends. She accompanied her nephew, Ralph Gilliam who was here in the interests of the company he is representing, the Dickson Accounting company. Ralph's headquarters are at La Grande.

HARRY DUNCAN HELD FOR DEATH OF IDAHO MAN

Car Handle Serves as Clew Leading to Arrest; Man Hit on Columbia Highway.

What proved to be a fatal accident occurred on the highway west of The Dalles last Monday night and some party was charged with being a "hit and run driver." The man was picked up towards morning and hurried to the hospital in The Dalles where he died in the afternoon without gaining consciousness.

Officers immediately got busy, having as their clew the handle of a car, and by Thursday evening had traced the owner as Harry Duncan of this city.

Mr. Duncan returned home on Monday evening from a visit to Eugene, and it was shortly after dark that he passed the point where the man was picked up, but it had not occurred to him that anything out of the way had happened, though on Tuesday morning he discovered that the handle to the right hand door of his Buick coupe was gone and he could not account for it. He immediately took steps to order another handle through Vaughn & Goodman and the order went in to the Howard Automobile company at Portland, who had been informed to look out for just such a contingency. Officers arrived here from The Dalles late Thursday evening and charged Mr. Duncan with being responsible for the accident that had caused the death of the man found on the highway, and he was taken to The Dalles Friday where a preliminary examination was held and he was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $5000. Bail was promptly furnished, as a number of Heppner friends had gone along to assist Mr. Duncan in every way they could.

The arrest of Mr. Duncan came as a shock, not only to himself, but to his large circle of friends in this city, all of whom realize that Harry would never have struck a man down on the highway and then ran off and left him. When he heard what had happened, and that the man had passed away from his injuries, Mr. Duncan was completely overcome. His case will be heard later at The Dalles. The following is a report of the accident as carried by the Optimist of The Dalles:

An unidentified man, thought to be Frank Black of Klockman, Idaho, died Tuesday afternoon at The Dalles hospital, the victim of a hit and run driver. Black, if he is definitely identified as that, was found early Tuesday morning by Chief of Police Frank Heater and Deputies George Scherrer and Hans Blaser, lying at the foot of a steep, rocky bank on the Columbia river highway about a quarter of a mile west of the Chenoweth creek bridge. This was almost the exact spot where E. M. Hill of Dufur was crowded from the grade and killed about three years ago.

When the man was found he was unconscious. Blood had flowed freely from a fractured skull and had dried on his head and face. He was breathing heavily when Dr. Taylor of The Dalles hospital arrived and rushed him to the city.

It was the opinion of officers and attending physicians that the man had been hit sometime late Monday night or early Tuesday morning. Near the scene of the accident, the handle of a sedan door was found, and close to the body, a pack, containing a few clothes was discovered. The victim, evidently had been walking towards Portland on the highway at the time he was struck. In the meantime state traffic officers are trying to locate the driver of the machine.

The only clew to the injured man's identity is a sales slip, on which had been written the name Frank Black and the address of Klockman, Idaho. He is thought to be about 35 years of age.

Regular June Term of Circuit Court Monday

The regular June term of circuit court for Morrow county will be convened at the court house on next Monday morning, with Judge Parker of Condon presiding. It had been arranged for Judge Parker to take charge of this term in place of Judge Phelps, so Judge Fee, the new appointee, prevailed upon him to act as the court at Pendleton was taking all of his time at present.

Clerk Anderson states that the docket is not very long, and the prospects are for a very short session. There will be a few cases to try, and unless the grand jury should create further business the term will be over in a few days.

ALPINE FARM BUREAU MEETING.

A meeting of the Alpine Farm Bureau was held on Saturday, June 4, at the Alpine schoolhouse. A large crowd was in attendance and a very interesting musical program was given. County Agent Charles W. Smith attended and outlined his program of work in this community for the coming year. Several Heppner people were present and contributed much to the success of the meeting. After the business meeting and program all present adjourned to the basement of the schoolhouse where they were served with sandwiches, cake and coffee. The next meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held on Saturday evening, July 2.

Lindbergh and Columbus. A Wonderful Motor. No Jumping. Lungs too Good.

By the way, father and mother, and because their sons lack college education, will observe that Lindbergh went to no university, and his "prep school" was a plow on his father's farm. He was a solitary boy, thinking, enjoying danger and new things. Robert Westover, a garage owner in Montana, who once hired Lindbergh to make parachute jumps, says, "I don't think he was lonesome on that trip. Slim Lindbergh was a peculiar guy. He did not care for company or any excitement, except daring stuff. Everything he had he carried with him, helmet, goggles and toothbrush stuffed in the big pockets of his overalls."

Lindbergh's difficulty now will be to find something worth doing that will not kill him.

Lindbergh proves that deeds of daring "mad-cap audacity" seeming reckless at the time, are of great permanent value. It was called reckless folly when Columbus made his transatlantic "hop" in the opposite direction. Cool heads told him he would fall over the edge of the ocean and his crew wanted to turn back.

Fulton's experiment with steam, and Franklin's with the kite, seemed foolish. Congressmen that voted to spend money on Government experiments with telegraph messages were beaten for re-election. The voters "had no use" for a Congressman that would vote to waste money.

Lindbergh's feat will find an echo in the next Congress. It will occur to some Congressmen that if one man, all alone, could fly from here to Europe, some thousands might fly from Europe or Asia here, and be less welcome than Lindbergh was in Paris.

The record shows that Lindbergh's Wright motor used less than twelve gallons of gasoline per hour of flying and did better than 100 miles an hour. At twenty cents a gallon that means about $81 worth of gasoline, plus twenty gallons of oil. Not expensive for a trip to Paris.

Anybody who doubts that airplanes will carry passengers across the ocean for less than $50, "all daylight route," has little confidence in human ingenuity.

Statistics show this country's income in 1926 totalled seventy-eight billion, six hundred and forty-nine million dollars, from all sources—the ditch digger's wages, the coupon cutter's toil.

That means $671 for every man, woman and child, or $1,805.37 for every person engaged in earning money.

Professor Nash, teacher of physical education in New York University, justly criticizes violent exercise for young girls.

To permit competition for girls in burdle races, high jumping, broad jumping, etc., is a crime against the girls now, and against the future generation.

Girls were not made to JUMP. They were made for motherhood, and should be taught to respect and protect their complicated machinery.

In the Fall "medicinal whiskey" bourbon and rye, made of corn and rye, will be manufactured under supervision of the Treasury Department.
