

Local Happenings

A story in Tuesday's Oregonian referred to the Heppner flood of 1903 and stated that there were some 600 people who perished in that disaster. This is a misstatement of fact, as there were but 221 as the record made reveals. The loss in property was around $1,000,000, and the little city has never fully recovered from the terrible damage that was wrought. We of Heppner can fully sympathize with our sister city of Arlington in the loss sustained on Sunday by the waterspout that visited that place. They are to be congratulated, however, that there was no loss of life; the property damage can be restored in time, but lives snuffed out in these disasters are gone forever and wounds are caused that never can be fully healed.

W. C. Howard drove over from Milton and spent Thursday last in Heppner. He came to bring Mrs. Alice Adkins home, and was accompanied by his daughters, Misses Alice and Wilma. Miss Alice was a graduate at the recent commencement exercises of Whitman College, Walla Walla, and her grandmother, Mrs. Adkins, was present on this occasion, and also spent a short time visiting with friends at Milton and vicinity. Mrs. Adkins had also been on a visit to Portland, Centralia and Aberdeen. Prof. Howard has been teaching at La Pine, Oregon, for the past three years, and is to be superintendent there the coming year, and his wife, who, with their young son Billy, is now on a visit to her people in St. Louis, is also a teacher in the La Pine school.

Dwight Misner was in town for a short time Wednesday from his big wheat ranch north of Ione. We understand that Mr. Misner was feeling so good over his crop outlook that he "invested" in a new hat, donating the one that he has been wearing for the past several years to Clerk Anderson. It must have been heartrending for Misner to part with the old friend, but he anticipates putting on some airs from now on.

Preparations to begin harvest immediately after the Fourth is going on among the farmers in the north end of the county, and R. B. Rice of Artesian Well Farm, who was in the city yesterday, states that there will be lots of grain to run through the combines out that way this season. The crop is maturing very fast and is made now, the weather of the past two weeks being ideal.

Milton W. Bower and family departed on Monday, their destination being Corvallis where the parents of Mr. Bower reside. They will be gone for their summer vacation, in the meantime taking in the Turner convention of the Christian church which convenes right after the first of July. During Mr. Bower's absence there will be no preaching services at the Christian church.

Mrs. Chas. Barlow and children accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Latourell to Portland the end of the week and will remain in the city for a couple of weeks visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Akers. Mr. Barlow went to the city at the same time but returned with a truck for Latourell Auto Co.

Cole Madsen of Portland, who spent the past week visiting with friends in Heppner, returned home on Monday. He expects to be in Heppner again over the fourth, bringing with him the Madsen orchestra which has been engaged to furnish music for the two dances that have been scheduled for the celebration season.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Farrior and son Freddie returned on Sunday from a stay of a couple of weeks in Portland, during which time they took in the Rose show and the doctor attended Masonic grand lodge and the state meeting of dentists. A few days were also spent at the beach at Seaside.

Clarence Warren, residing west of Ione, was kicked by a horse one day the past week, receiving a break in the small bone of the leg just below the knee. The injury was x-rayed by Dr. Johnston and put in a cast. The injury will lay Mr. Warren off from work for about six weeks.

Troy Bogard, who farms in the Eight Mile section, was a visitor in the city on Monday. He is feeling good over the crop outlook and states that his prospects for a heavy yield of grain are excellent.

Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Moore returned the end of the week from a stay of two weeks at Cove, Oregon, where they attended the religious educational school conducted by the Episcopal church.

Mrs. W. G. McCarty departed this week for The Dalles where she will visit for a short time at the home of her son, Willis McCarty. After a short visit with friends at Hood River, Mrs. McCarty will go on to San Francisco, where she will join Mr. McCarty, and they will return home by auto after spending a few weeks visiting with California relatives and friends.

John E. Johnson, who has been spending some time at his mine in the Blue mountains, has decided to give up work there for the season and moved back to town the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orve Brown and daughter Viola returned on Sunday from a trip to Bend and on to Gold Hill where the parents of Mrs. Brown reside. They were gone a week.

Mrs. Tony Garland arrived here on Sunday evening from her home at Curram, Idaho, and visited until Wednesday morning at the home of her aunt, Mrs. T. J. Jones.

Fred Ashbaugh was in the city a short time Tuesday from his home near Hardman. Everything coming along fine out that way, according to Mr. Ashbaugh.

Maurice Frye has closed up his electrical and radio shop here, and is preparing to leave with his family for Portland where Mr. Frye will have employment.

Miss Wilma Snyder, a popular young woman of Pilot Rock, was married in Portland on Saturday to Glenn Burton, formerly a resident of Boardman.

Miss Meridee Brown returned from Pilot Rock Monday accompanied by Miss Erma Snyder, who will visit for a time at the F. R. Bown home.

Ralph Gilliam of La Grande was a visitor here on Monday, returning from a trip the past week to Portland.

Buck Lieuellen, state traffic cop, was in the city a short time on Monday afternoon from Pendleton.

Leonard Barr was called to Portland for a couple of days the past week, returning home on Friday.
