Wool. Further strengthening with me definite advances on the Boston narket and considerable activity in wool prooucing districts and abroad feature latest wool market news. Prices in foreign markets are still above the parity of the Boston mar-ket. More mohair has been shipped abroad out of foreign mohair stored in bond in American ports and some mall lots of Texas mohair. Wool mill activity is greater than last Butter. Good grades were steady at 41 % to 42 cents in San Francisco but poor grades draggy. Supplies are iberal, considerable moved into stor Eastern markets first unsettled out closed steady and firm. Storage continues heavy and trade estimates ow place the total slightly above a ear ago. Production has passed the eak apparently but is still running hend of last year's somewhat. Livestock. sharply on light receipts and lambs were steady on the Portland market. Receipts were light in San Francisco with good grades strong. Eastern markets were strong on all good live-stock with receipts light following the holiday. Lamb prices advanced with little activity in feeder and

Grain. Light receipts of grains with considerable uncertainty as to out-turn of winter wheat caused a firm tone generally. Corn and spring wheat made generally favorable progress. Rye and barley harvests are beginning with favorable prospects but cats are not so good and the market tended to strengthen. The flax crop is making good progress. London's wheat advanced about 2 cents a bushel reflecting European demand from delayed harvest. new European crop is expected to be better than last year's but not so good as two years ago. Domestic de mand was good especially for high protein on which premiums advanced Large crop prospects on the Pacific coast weakened the market and very little business for immediate ship-ment was done, $1.37 to $1.38 a bushe being bid for August-September de-livery at Portland and $2.20-$2.25 the hundred for cash No. 1 Sonora at San Francisco. Coast malting barley continued firm but central western bar-ley went lower permitting exporting from Chicago.

Testing Times

ON a levee at a bend in the Mississippi a thousand men were building with sand-bags a second-line defense against rising waters which threatened hundreds of miles of fertile cropland. Over a telephone, housed in a wooden box nailed to a tree, an engineer was talking to headquartersreporting on the progress of the work, asking for reinforcements and additional material, receiving Weather Bureau forecasts which would be vitally important to him in planning the strategy of this grim battle for lives and property.

The telephone had been put in service but a few minutes before, after a construction crew had worked from sunrise to sunset, often waist-deep in swamp water, to string fifteen miles of line to this isolated outpost.

Such is telephone service in an emergency-service in which telephone men and women do very much the same things they do every day of their lives, but do them under conditions that give vivid emphasis to the import of their efficiency, devo-tion, and fidelity to public interests.

In such crises, when even the most commonplace of calls may become a matter of life or death, the public realizes its day-by-day dependence upon the telephone and upon the men and women who make of it an instrumentality of human service.
