Be Civilized.

ARE you civilized? Be careful now before answering, because there is a gauge by which you can judge yourself—and you may be surprised at the findings. Answer accurately—"How tolerant are you?"—and you will know to what degree you are civilized.

It has been aptly put by one writer that: "The measure of your tolerance is your distance from the jungle." Schooling and manners have nothing whatsoever to do with tolerance.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

RESULTS ARE WHAT COUNT

DISCUSSION has been going on recently in the press about George Bernard Shaw's remark that a woman ought to be a mother in order to be a good teacher.

This remark was made opposing the tendencies in many places to have only unmarried teachers.

Many educators have expressed themselves upon one side or the other of this question.

After all it is merely a point of view. One side looks at the question as to whether a woman can do a good job of teaching or not.

The other side looks at the question as to whether the woman ought to have the place or not with the salary attached.

In many places of business a job is looked upon as a sort of special privilege and certain classes are favored in giving jobs out, such as world war veterans, old people, young people, unmarried people and so on.

If a man can do the business, or a woman either, what difference does it make whether he or she is married or not or young or old?

What most people want in business is results. What attains them or how they are attained is a matter of indifference so long as it is done honestly.

I remember once that a presiding elder in the Methodist church gave as his reason for sending a man to a certain place the following:

"If I send that man it will kill the place and if I don't send him it will kill him, so between the two I will send him and save the man."

This is a good example of care for the individual ranking above care for his work. Every man must be judged by the kind of work he does and not by whether he is deserving of the job or not.

The other side of civil service is to select men competent for the position, and not to give the positions out to certain groups of men.

In considering an applicant for the job, common sense tells us to consider his ability to perform the duties of that business and not his ability in some other direction.

A president of the United States or the mayor of a city should be selected because he is capable of performing the duties of his office and whether he was a good handshaker and baby kisser or not has nothing to do with the case, in reality, although in politics it has much to do with it.

mobiles traveling excellent roads—enough cars to carry our 120,000,000 people all at one time.

And, above all, the public schools, magnificent buildings, high schools and the preparatory schools everywhere. And those school buildings, for all the children, are the finest buildings in thousands of communities. This nation has much to be thankful for, with free schools so prominent, and prisons so few. It was the other way round once, all over the world.

Bar Association: "When intelligent, educated men hold up to ridicule the rules for its conduct which society makes and devote their intelligence, wit and resources to make crime and criminals attractive, it is to be expected that the thoughtless, the ignorant, the vicious, will try and get rid of the oppressor of the criminal, in any way, by any means, that will be most effective."

"Day by day, because some one pays for the doing of it and because the great body of law-abiding citizens is complaisant and says nothing to show its disapproval, flippant, jeering writers, publishers, soap-box orators and cabaret performers sow the wind and society reaps it all in whirlwinds which blast and destroy."

Plight of the Stockman. PORTLAND TELEGRAM. THE plight of the cattlemen is being laid before the examiners of the interstate commerce commission, who are conducting a hearing upon Western livestock rates. There can be no evading the fact that their problem is a serious one and any and every reasonable means that can be found to aid them through the present doldrums in the industry should be granted.

It is a long and complicated story, beginning with the inflation in values and enthusiasm that came with the war, and ending too often in a tragic collapse of both. A man whose position gives him first hand and intimate knowledge of the situation said recently that one trouble with all branches of stockraising is that it is not followed steadily and consistently through good years and bad. It has much the same tendency to fluctuate that gives rise to the garden proverb, "high priced seed grows low priced potatoes."

Some fifteen years ago there was inaugurated a vigorous campaign to persuade Oregon farmers to raise enough hogs to supply our local needs. Hog raising was talked and hog raising was practiced until within three years, Oregon had hogs enough and to spare. Naturally, over-production brought lowered price. Growers quickly lost courage and hogs went out of fashion on the farm, though bacon was still welcomed upon the table. Today Oregon produces only about one-fourth of the hogs that it uses, and a lot of our bacon money goes to Chicago and other Eastern markets.

The point we would make is that the farmer who has steadily plugged along, raising a few pigs from select stock as a staple and stabilizing feature in his farm program, has averaged a good return on his time and money and effort.

Stockmen who have held on, in spite of difficulties and discouragements, are to be commended for their courage and determination and should be accorded every assistance possible. As an agricultural state, all Oregon is interest-

Has No Place in Politics.

THE announcement is made from Salem that Governor Patterson has accepted the resignation of Wm. Duby of Baker, chairman of the state highway commission, and appointed in his place, Robert Sawyer, editor of the Bend Bulletin and county judge of Deschutes county. The resignation and appointment are to take effect as of August 1st.

It will be generally conceded that Chairman Duby has filled the place on the highway commission very satisfactorily to the state at large; this is true as far as Morrow county is concerned. The Baker County Chamber of Commerce, writing an official letter under date of July 9, expresses the opinion that the move to get rid of Mr. Duby at this time was for the purpose of appointing a political friend to the place. We are not informed as to this, but if it is true, it is to be regretted. This letter states that Mr. Duby was willing to serve out the term of his appointment, and that would end on March 31, next, but it appears that he was perfectly willing to step out at this time.

We recall that upon the election of Mr. Pierce to the governorship and shortly after he entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office, Commissioners Booth and Barratt tendered their resignations, not, perhaps, at the request of the governor, but feeling that it was best to do so. Thereupon two men of the same political faith with the governor were appointed, but they no doubt have performed their duties on the highway commission with no thought other than to serve the people of the state in an unselfish manner and administer the affairs of the state highway department to the best of their ability and thus maintain the confidence of the people.

We believe that Governor Patterson has no other thought than to place such men on the commission as will continue the splendid record that has been maintained for the ten years of existence of the state highway department, and Judge Sawyer should measure up to the standard that has been set.

We agree with the Baker Chamber of Commerce that the highway commission should be kept out of politics.

A subscriber to an Iowa paper, being displeased with some remarks made by the editor, went in to whip him. How well he succeeded is given in the editor's own words: "There was a blow; somebody fell. We got up. Turning upon our antagonist, we succeeded in winding his arms around our waist, and by a quick maneuver threw him on top of us, bringing our back at the same time in contact with the solid bed of the printing press. Then, inserting our nose between his teeth, and cleverly entangling his hands in our hair, we had him."

E. S. McCormick, superintendent of schools of Toledo, Oregon, was in Heppner Saturday afternoon, on business with Superintendent Burgess and County Superintendent Walker.

The Judge's Joke

THERE'S ONLY ONE THING PEOPLE WILL GIVE UNTIL IT HURTS—AND THAT'S ADVICE

Brutally Frank Percival—Will you please marry me? Helen—Oh Perc, this is so sudden. Why? Percival—Well, I'll let you in on a secret. I want to take you home. My mother hasn't had a laugh in years.

Regular Raffle Parent—Yes, my boy, the lad who marries my girl gets a prize. Thomas—Goodness, that's an inducement.

And Ditto He—Do you think men are made of dust? She (emphatically)—No. If they were, I imagine you'd dry up once in a while.

Himself—What shape is a kiss? Herre—Give me one and we'll call it square.

Personally Prescribed The druggist was becoming disgusted. He had been explaining and pricing dozens of articles to the shopper who really didn't want to buy anything at all. Finally she picked up a bottle. "Is this Pest Exterminator guaranteed?" she asked. "How is it applied?" "You take a teaspoonful every half hour, ma'am."

Literal Len "I'm striking a happy medium, said the detective as he hit the fake spiritualist over the head.

They Are Like That When Dumbdora heard that Betty swore she'd never been kissed, she said, if she had never been kissed, she'd swear, too!

This Way Out "It's as plain as the nose on your face," said the tactless idiot as he tried to explain something to his sweetie.

Throwing Is Good A forty-ton truck loaded with five thousand imported eggs recently overturned. Probably the truck was just throwing off the foreign yolk.

"I advise women to use long cigarette holders," declared Farmer Shiklewofsky, "for that will tend to keep them away from tobacco."

Old Gray

Down yonder where it's shady Old Gray is waiting, Son, A patient little lady And mighty faithful one; Go tell her Grandpa's coming, Then fetch my crooked cane, And then you go a-running, And get her pan of grain.

Wait just a minute, Sonny, Dash in and see if Ann Won't find a lump of sugar To hide down in the pan! We'll add a little sweetness To Old Gray's lonesome day To pay her for her fleetness When she was sleek and gay Old Gray, life took the harness From you some time ago— Me, too. That's just to warn us Our steps are getting slow. But there's a lovely pasture That isn't far away; Suppose we go some evening And look for it, Old Gray?
