

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith of Salem have been visitors at Heppner and vicinity during the past ten days. Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Matt Hughes of Thorn creek and they spent a part of the time at the Hughes home, and also visited with the Ed Kelly family, Mrs. Kelly being a sister of Mrs. Smith. They were accompanied to Heppner by Miss Ethel Hughes, who is returning to the Valley with Mr. and Mrs. Smith and will become a student for the winter at the State Normal at Monmouth.

Some of the heaviest wheat ever received at Echo warehouse was brought in this week from the G. L. Bennett place at Sand Hollow. The wheat, which is hard federation, averaged 149 pounds to the sack. One lot of five sacks weighed 775 pounds. Ben Gaskill, manager of the warehouse, says this is the heaviest wheat he has seen since he has been handling grain.—Echo News.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sims of Medford have been visiting relatives in this city this week, having arrived here on Friday. Cliff is glad to be able to rejoice with the Morrow county folks over the fine outcome of crops here this season. Mr. and Mrs. Sims are interested to some extent in Morrow county lands. They were guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McMurdo.

Henry Krebs of Willow creek enjoyed a pleasant visit from his father during the week. The elder Mr. Krebs was formerly a resident of this county, having a ranch on Skinner fork. Since retiring he has been residing in Portland, but is always glad of the opportunity to come back to Morrow county. Other sons of Mr. Krebs, George and John, reside at Cecil.

Bert Peck is busily engaged in getting some 1100 acres of wheat on the Peck ranches, at Heppner and Lexington, through the machine. He is making a very good showing as to yield and will have a lot of wheat to move to market. Bert was in the city for a short time Monday while waiting for the grain to dry out after the shower of Sunday night.

Chas. Jayne was in the city a short time on Wednesday. He now makes his home at Umapine, Oregon, where he has a small tract of land.

Walter LaDusire came near getting a broken jaw bone while at work at the J. G. Doherty ranch in Blackhorse Friday. He was called out to make some adjustments to the gasoline engine on the thresher, and a kick back of the crank landed on the jaw and administered a complete knockout. The jaw was pretty sore for a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Doolittle and children of Heppner are enjoying an outing at Wallowa Lake. Like many other East Oregonians this is their first visit to the Wallowa country and they find it much to their liking for a vacation. Mr. Doolittle conducts a plumbing business at Heppner.—Joseph Herald.

Lloyd Matteson was injured while riding an outlaw horse at Long Creek during the race meet Saturday. He was thrown and received a badly injured left arm and sprained right wrist. The injuries were x-rayed by Dr. Johnston and Lloyd is being cared for at the Case hotel.

Leonard Carlson of Gooseberry was attending to business in the city Saturday. Harvest is over, the wheat sold and he has nothing in particular to worry about until the rains come and the summerfall has to be seeded. The Carlson boys had an abundant crop this season.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Anderson came up from Portland on Saturday and spent several days here, guests at the home of Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Campbell. They were accompanied by Mrs. Willis McCarty and children of The Dalles, sister of Mrs. Anderson.

J. A. Troedson, Morgan farmer, was a visitor in Heppner on Friday, having completed his harvesting. He is quite well pleased over his yield of wheat this season and reports that his section of the county harvested about the best crop in its history.

FOR SALE—Purebred Hampshire yearling rams. Exceptionally heavy boned and blocky. Price, $33 delivered at Heppner. Also 15 head of Rambouillet rams at $25 delivered. C. A. BARNES, Ellensburg, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Helms, residents of Lexington, were Heppner visitors on Friday.

Mrs. Desa Copenhaver and little daughter returned to Pendleton on Sunday, after spending a month's vacation visiting at Heppner. Mrs. Copenhaver has a place with the county library at Pendleton, in the public school department.

Edward Notson, who has been spending the summer season at Heppner, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson, departed on Tuesday for Tonasket, Wash., where he will have charge of the school again this winter.

Wm. Hendrix returned on Sunday from Portland, where he has been for a month under the care of a physician. Mr. Hendrix has been suffering from dropsy for some time but is now improving and able to get about much this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Becket were visitors in the city on Saturday. Mr. Becket stated that he had finished with the threshing of his wheat crop on Friday, and is quite well pleased with the yield received.

L. D. Neill and family were Saturday visitors in Heppner from their home at Pine City. Mr. Neill brought in a supply of his fine comb honey which he disposed of to Heppner merchants.

David Hynd was in the city from Rose Lawn ranch in Sand Hollow on Monday. He reports just a slight sprinkle of rain out that way Sunday night—not sufficient to benefit the roads.

W. C. Lacy, up from Portland this week to look after his ranch interests here, reports that threshing was finished on the Lacy place Tuesday; just in time to be out of the way of the rain.

Chas. Allinger, lone contractor and builder, has a job of construction of the nice new school building for District No. 6, near Grange hall at the mouth of McKinney creek. Work is now under way and the building will be pushed to completion just as rapidly as possible. Mr. Allinger tells this paper that the people of District No. 6 will have a very nice school building when the job is completed.

Master Junior Seghers, little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Seghers of Portland, has returned to his home after spending some six weeks at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Johnston, his uncle and aunt. Junior was brought to Heppner following an illness of three months and as a result of his six weeks' under the care of Dr. Johnston he is able to leave the wheel chair and is much improved. Dr. and Mrs. Johnston drove to Portland Sunday, taking Junior to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Clark, son and daughter, were Heppner visitors on Wednesday from their Eight Mile home. Mr. Clark finished with the combining of his wheat a week ago and is quite well pleased with the outcome. He had a good crop and his spring grain averaged better than 20 bushels per acre.
