Farm Relief.

TN THE long haul farm relief possibly will come from what a few years ago would have been considered an unexpected source. The coming Congress may pass a farm relief bill and the president may sign it, thus giving agriculture the federal aid so long sought. However, there has been another federal factor at work since 1914, when the Smith-Lever act went through, from which we are just beginning to obtain results. In fact, the Smith-Lever act made possible a demonstration of the Bible truism, "a little child shall lead them." The Smith-Lever act gave power to the Department of Agriculture to put into effect extension work in agriculture and home economics on farms by cooperating with State Agreiultural colleges.

In other words-it made possible our boy and girl farm clubs. This year there are 510,355 young people enrolled in federally controlled farm club work. It is needless to state here how those club members function. We all know of the pig, cow, poultry, garden, forestry, cooking, sanitation and health club members and their activities. We all know that our boys and girls can enter this club work and competition only under the direction of trained local federal agents. We know that they are taught to do all things agriculturally by newest and most scientific methods.

Most normal men and women live for their children.

Beyond getting what satisfaction they can out of their own lives, they want to see their children get satisfaction out of theirs, they want to see them have a better chance and more advantages than they themselves had.

lust how to accomplish this requires much thought and calls for all our intelligent planning.

It is pretty well established that leaving your children a lot of money does them no good. More wrecks have been caused, more lives ruined and more characters undermined by having things made too easy for children, by giving them too many unearned advantages than by anything else.

It may be safely concluded that if any man has a grudge against his children and wants them to be failures the surest way is to leave them a lot of money.

Thinking people know that other things, such as character and the like, count more than money. Just how to leave our dear ones what they require is rather difficult.

In the first place, we ought to do what we can to bequeath to them an orderly and law-abiding society, a state in which the laws are respected and obeyed. People, therefore, that countenance bootlegging and other illicit acts which happen to be popular, are working for a state of society which will be inimicable to the coming generation.

The second thing is character. It is our duty to our children to give them a good biological inheritance. This we can do by living clean lives ourselves and, in the final analysis, most of the good we do other people depends on how well we take care of

If the children are healthy and strong and normal physically the next thing they need is moral character.

Unfortunately, this is a more difficult thing to come at. Out of many a family with the highest ideals and the most blameless practices can come a descendant who is absolutely lacking in moral stamina. About all we can do is to give as good an example as possible and good teaching. The result then is in the lap of the gods. We can't help it and we are not to blame if the young scion turns out crooked. It is lamentable, but it is inevitable

Another thing we can leave our children is friendship and association with the right kind of people. This we can only do by associating with the right kind of neople ourselves. The best that can be done, in a nut shell, is to know our children, be companions with them and influence them by our
