The contest which the high school students have been carrying on has ended. The selling of three different magazines published by the Curtis Publishing company was their aim. The juniors and the freshmen, under the name of Wildcats, competed with the sophomores and seniors who bore the name of Bearcats. There were ninety-one subscriptions sold in all. The Wildcats sold twenty more than the Bearcats, thus winning the first place. Erma Duvall proved to be the best salesman, selling sixteen sub-

The advent of modern heating systems took away from thousands of homes the cheerful, ruddy glow of the old-time fireside, with all of its romance and sentiment. That was a distinct loss to those who know the joys that dwell amid the flickering shadows

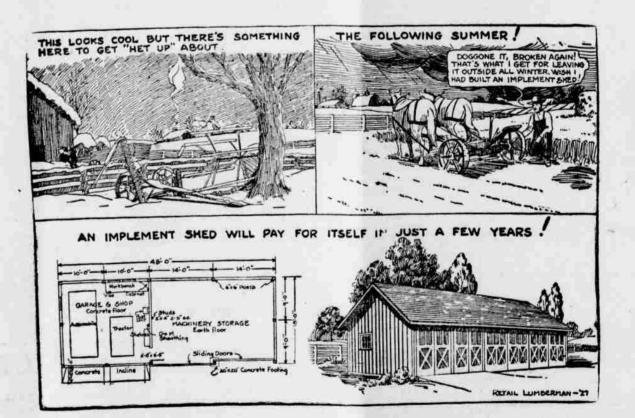

ALLEN, the pioneer builder of "above-the-floor" furnaces, has now made possible the enjoyment of that old-time fireside cheer without the sacrifice of those big advantages obtainable only with up-to-date economical, circulating heat.

Combines the ruddy glow and cheer of open fireside with the efficiency of a modern heating system.
