Sensible Citizens Must Reduce Fire Waste.

MANUFACTURER.

EVERY year, fire, in this country, burns property worth over half a billion dollars. In addition to this direct loss, is the much greater loss caused indirectly by unemployment resulting from destruction of plants, loss of profits and good will which comes from interruption of business. It is impossible to compute the increased loss caused by these indirect agencies, but it would be safe to say the total is brought to well over a billion dollars a year.

Think what this sum of money would mean if used for schools, roads, or what may be closer to the heart, if it were used for governmental purposes and taxes lowered accordingly. Instead, it is a great fortune destroyed as completely as if so many dollars were sunk in the ocean.

Something must be done!

There has been laudable cooperation among editors in this country who have written voluminously on the subject, doing their bit to stamp it out. But that is not sufficient, valuable as it is. There must be the whole-souled opposition of the ordinary sensible citizens of every locality. The careless and irresponsible must be made to feel the enmity of public opinion. Fire loss can be checked. The people, and only the people, can do it.

Outlook Good.

ACCORDING to estimate made in quarters which are usually conservative, there is no reason to fear any decided recession in the general prosperity of the nation during the coming fall and winter.

One significant feature in the present situation is the fact that our export trade is once more showing large gains. For the seven months ending with July the trade balance for the year was in our favor to the extent of $270,000,000. For the same period in 1926 the balance of trade was against this country to the extent of a little more than $650,000,000. Our exports have grown considerably during the current year while our imports show a slight decrease. There was an increase in our sales to every grand division of the world showing that our foreign trade is in a healthy state, to say the least.

According to the National Bank of Commerce in New York, autumn trade always reflects fall

Dr. Frank Crane Says

The Echo of Applause Short Lived

RICHES may be fickle, people say they are, but most of us would like to have them awhile and watch them flick. But whatever may be true of riches, fame is surely fickle.

We all struggle for the spotlight and front page publicity but when we get it it doesn't last very long.

Those who are along in years can recall the many instances. We remember that "Doc" Cook was honored by the Danes and welcomed by the Americans and afterwards that Peary took his place for a few brief minutes.

Then there was Dewey. Nothing was too good for him for awhile but when he gave his wife his Washington home that the people had presented to him sentiment turned right away and Dewey was cast into the discard.

Then there was Jack Binns, the famous wireless operator on the steamer Republic which was rammed off Nantucket Island, who stuck to his post until the Baltic responded and the passengers were all rescued.

How many people of today know who Jack Binns was?

A man by the name of Kissinger probably did more for his country than most any man. In 1900 he was a private in the army but allowed himself to be inoculated with yellow fever to prove that that disease came from mosquito bites. He is now living in poverty and gets a pension of a meager $100 a year from the government.

Once we sat up and took notice of Louis Bleriot who flew across the English channel, the first man to perform that exploit. Where is Bleriot now? Where are the snows of yesterday?

Then there was Captain Richmond P. Hobson, the hero of Santiago Harbor. Once we were all applauding him and the girls anxious to kiss him. He now lives in Pasadena and few know that he is alive.

Gen. William Mitchell probably did as much toward winning the war in France as any American. He concentrated his efforts towards making the United States foremost in aviation. For his reward he has been ousted from the army because he disagreed with his superiors.

One time there was an ace by the name of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker who shot down more German flyers than any American pilot. For awhile he was a hero then he too flickered out.

And so we say of Amundsen, the first man to reach the South pole and to fly a dirigible over the North pole, and of Commander John Rodgers who was wrecked on his flying trip to Honolulu. George Young, who swam the Catalina channel and Gertrude Ederle who swam the English channel, that they might give a few pointers to Commander Byrd and Col. Lindbergh as to the fickleness of fame.

crops and crop prices and the indications now are for a steady business during the balance of the year.

The bank's survey of the situation indicates a satisfactory condition in most of the agricultural regions of the country. It continues:

"High prices for cattle and lambs and good prices for the last wool clip assure satisfactory fall trade in the range states. California and most other regions dependent on special crops have enjoyed at least a normally good season and fair prices.

"The forecast for spring wheat is 100,000,000 bushels larger than the 1926 crop. Even though prices are somewhat lower than a year ago, prosperity is thus assured for most areas where it is a major crop, especially the wheat-growing sections of the Dakotas and Montana. In Idaho, Washington and Oregon, where spring and winter wheat are about equally important, the crop is excellent."

In some of the corn states the crop condition is not satisfactory, the best crops being in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

Wages are good and employment is satisfactory in the industrial portions of the country the survey adds and it sums up the situation as follows: "Their demand for goods, together with that from the farming region should assure a level of business activity as good as or better than that of last year, with some consequent increase in industrial employment."

Keeping a Town Snappy.

DAYTON TRIBUNE.

NO BUSINESS man in any town should allow a newspaper in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business—general stores, dry goods, groceries furniture dealers, manufacturing establishments, automobile dealers, mechanics, professional men, druggists, and in fact all classes of business men. This does not mean that you should have a whole or half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in the town by looking at the business mentioned in the paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town but refuses to advertise his own is not a valuable addition to any town. The life and snap of a town depends upon the wide-awake, liberal advertising men. It's the truth.

Ebb Tide.

THE tide of labor migration, that is of common or unskilled industrial labor from Europe to the United States since the enactment of the quota restriction law has not only ceased, but actually has been reversed, according to an analysis of immigration trends made by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York. Whereas before the war, our annual net gain of common labor, including farm laborers from Europe averaged about 200,000 for the period 1910-14, the United States since 1924 has been losing annually an average of about 20,000 more of this group to European countries than we have received from them.

Balancing all immigration against emigration, our annual net gain of common and farm labor from all sources, including Europe, has averaged about 25,000 a year for the past three years, and has depended wholly on immigration from Mexico and Canada and, to a negligible degree, to other countries not subject to quota restrictions.

Labor immigration from Europe consists roughly of half unskilled industrial and half farm labor, but in all about three times as many common laborers have returned to Europe than have come from Europe since 1924, while farm laborers generally have remained.

Only a small proportion of the combined immigration from Mexico and Canada consists of farm labor, averaging less than 4,000 a year for the 1925-27 period, of which Mexico contributes only about 300 annually.

The influx of common and farm labor during the past fiscal year including immigration from Europe, has been heavier, and emigration from the United States less than the average in the two preceding years.

Poor John

"Tom—I can read your thoughts, Mary, dear."

"Then what makes you sit so far away?"

Misleading

"Before I can engage you, you'll have to pass an intelligence test."

"Intelligence test? Why the advertisement said you wanted a stenographer."

Missing the Mark

"Angry Customer—I see you have a sign in your window: 'We Aim to Please.'"

"Stenographer—Why, yes. That is our motto."

"Well, you ought to take a little time off for some target practice."

Marathon Guy

"She—'Your kisses are wonderful. But don't you ever get tired?'"

"He—'Don't they say that wonders never cease.'"

They're Like That

"Arthur—Give me a kiss, will you, Martha—Mercy me! So you yoo, are like the rest of the men?"

"Yes."

"Thank goodness."

Real Anxiety

"Mollie—I'm going to be married tomorrow and I'm terrible nervous."

"Chollie—Do you think there's a chance of the man getting away before then?"

Attitude Counts

"Teacher—'What is the best way to preserve peaches?'"

"Kid—'Keep them on a high shelf.'"

Fed Up

"And are you satisfied with married life?"

"Yes, I've had enough!"
