J. A. Williams, extensive wheat-grower and pioneer farmer of the Ione country, was attending to business matters in Heppner on Friday, taking off a little time from weeding and seeding to come to the city. Because of the abundant rains this fall the ground is in excellent condition, and weeds have come along abundantly. Mr. Williams states that in all his experience as a farmer in Morrow county, and this has extended over a period of some 35 years, he never saw conditions better than this fall. Weeds will be killed and out of the way and the grain will have a splendid start before cold weather sets in.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ruhl and Mrs. Earl Eskelson were Lexington people in Heppner on Monday. While here they were extending an invitation to the old timers to be present at a reunion in Lexington today, when it is expected that a large number of the "old homesteaders" as well as many others who have resided within the country surrounding Lexington for the past quarter of a century or more will be present to enjoy a day of fellowship. A basket dinner will be spread at noon, and there is to be an appropriate program.

Irene Fraters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fraters of Eight Mile, was united in marriage to Mr. Suprasan J. Marciel of Alameda county, Calif., at the office of E. R. Huston, justice of the peace, on last Thursday afternoon, Mr. Huston performing this, his first wedding ceremony since assuming office. We understand that the young people will make their home in California. Mr. Marciel has been spending the summer in Morrow county, working for Mr. Fraters.

Eldred McMillan, who was on the Lexington football team in the game at Heppner Sunday, suffered an injured knee. In the game on Saturday Marvin Gammell received a badly bruised shoulder, and Paul Hisler suffered a sprained knee. These boys were taken to Morrow General hospital where their injuries were looked after.

J. A. Pointer and wife, evangelists, who are at present holding a meeting at the Alpine schoolhouse, were visitors in Heppner Sunday evening and Mr. Pointer preached an excellent sermon at the Christian church. Mr. and Mrs. Pointer are former residents of Lexington, where they lived before entering the work of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lotus Robison were down from their Rock creek ranch on Wednesday. Mr. Robison states that the range is very fine in the foothills of the mountains. He understands that farmers in the Hardman country have all finished with their threshing and that the order now is putting in the fall grain.

Robert Schriver of Ione, aged 6, was thrown from a wagon at Ione on Thursday last. He was immediately brought to the office of Dr. Johnston who x-rayed his injuries and found the lad had suffered a fracture of the elbow, which received proper surgical treatment.

August Whitlammer, employed on the Edward Rietmann ranch north of Ione, is being cared for at Morrow General hospital as a result of his being thrown from a wagon in a runaway. He was pretty badly jarred up and suffered injuries to his back.

James McGuirk, while working cutting wood in the mountains Monday, struck his foot with the ax and nearly severed the big toe. Dr. Johnston was called to minister to him and it is not thought that he will lose the toe.

Charley Ayers and Art McAtee spent a day or two deer hunting in the mountains. The results were a buck apiece, the one Mr. Ayers shot being a very fine specimen. They returned home on Tuesday.

Jack Holt and Raymond Hatton at Star Theater Thursday and Friday in Zane Grey's FORLORN RIVER.

J. T. Morgan of Ione had the misfortune to get his face quite badly cut while working with a header on Sunday. He was brought to Heppner and his injuries attended to by Dr. Johnston.

Dr. A. D. McMurdo and Postmaster Smead have been absent from the city this week in quest of deer in the mountains. No report has reached this office as to the results of the hunt.

Frank Shively, Jack Terry and E. E. Clark composed a hunting party going out to the Uimah vicinity the end of the week for their last hunt before the close of the season today.

Ed Sexton of Cecil suffered a fracture of two ribs in a fall from a wheat wagon the early part of the week. His injuries were attended by Dr. Johnston.

Dr. A. H. Johnston has been among those in the mountains this week locating a buck deer that he might capture before the season closes.

George Burnside and family have moved to town from their Eight Mile farm, and expect to reside here for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Burroughs of Jordan Siding and Mrs. Missouri Jordan of Ione were visitors in Heppner on Tuesday.

Begin now to get ready for the big Armistice Day dance at Elks Temple Friday evening, November 11th.

Mrs. Rosa Jackson of Ione is a patient at Morrow General hospital, suffering with gall stones.
