

Lexington School Notes.

The high school Commercial Geography class is having socialized recitations, which is one of the fads of the educational departments.

Pamphlets distributed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company are being used by the Physiology class.

At the rehearsal of the high school vaudeville last Wednesday evening Mr. Wynd took flashlight pictures of the different acts. These turned out very good.

The high school is getting back to normalcy after the big vaudeville last Friday evening. This was termed a great success by everyone who attended.

About seventy dollars was left for the student body fund after all expenses were paid.

Basketball practice is to start as soon as the new equipment arrives. Several games have been scheduled for the coming season.

Several play books are being read, and a play will be selected before long. It is to be given about the 8th of December.

An operetta, "Old Louisiana," directed by Miss Richardson, is to be given about the last of February.

Mrs. Frank Turner has received word that her father is gradually becoming weaker.

Several of the faculty attended the Elks' ball last Saturday evening, among them being Misses Gingrich and Richardson and Mr. Wynd.

Supt. Johnston acted as referee for the Arlington-Heppner football game last Saturday at Heppner.

Lawrence Copenhaver has left school and it is reported that he is going to California.

Laverne White has moved to the farm, and she intends to attend a country school.

The entire faculty of the school has taken up a line of reading circle work and they expect to carry it on at their regular meetings on Monday evenings.

This consists of individual reports on outside topics as well as on the text book itself.

Mr. Wynd, accompanied by Miss Richardson, went to Arlington last Friday afternoon where they met Miss Richardson's mother who came up to see the vaudeville. She returned to her home at Central, Wash. Tuesday morning by stage.

Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Johnston's mother, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Johnston. Mrs. Barker is a primary teacher at Aloha.

The students of the typing class were hosts at an informal party given Friday evening after the vaudeville. There were over forty invitations sent out to other young people.

The Irwin orchestra of Heppner furnished the music. Lemonade was served as the refreshing drink. The dance broke up at about 12:30 and everyone reported an enjoyable evening.

The high school feels very lucky in that they have secured Miss Richardson for their music teacher and Mrs. Johnston for director in dramatics.

HARDMAN.

Miss Mary Gingrich of Lexington spent Saturday at the home of E. L. Ayers.

Miss Hildegard Williams, our intermediate teacher, drove to Prosser, Wa., last week end where she enjoyed a visit with friends.

Elmer McDaniel has moved his family to town for the winter.

The pupils of the advanced room in the grade school frolicked to their hearts content on Friday evening in the old Prophet building. They had a most enjoyable time and delicious refreshments.

B. H. Bleakman now has a stock of groceries in the building where he has the postoffice.

Hardman is very proud of the work which has been done on the street. Here's hoping no one will have the unpleasant experience of being stuck in the mud this winter.

Miss Williams and Mrs. Mahrt entertained their pupils at the home of Mrs. Mahrt on Monday evening, and we have the children's word for in that they had the time of their lives. They were greeted at 8:00 o'clock by grinning jack-o-lanterns, black cats, witches, and bats but the dining room with its cleverly decorated tables was the most interesting feature. They had their fill of orange punch, orange jello, chocolate cookies, cakes and candy. After playing games until 8:30 the youngsters departed for home and slumberland.
