NORTHWEST TO GET STOCK QUOTATIONS

Ticker Service for Portwith opaque side drapes and valance with sheer net under drapes. The overdrapes hang to the bottom of the apron and the underdrapes to the land, Seattle, Tacoma, Will Start Soon.

The chattering stock ticker, with all its connotations of Wall Street the room, placing opaque curtains out along the wall and raising the va-lance above the framework will apand millionaire stock brokers, is soon to be heard in the Pacific Northwest. When the new sevice is installed, financiers and brokers of this section will receive by ticker, not only the transactions of the New York Stock Exchange, but also full quotations from the Board of Trade and the Cotton Exchanges.

After 18 months of successful op-eration to San Francisco and Los Angeles-proof positive that the ticker will work perfectly over great dis-tances—the Western Union Telegraph company, which has exclusive ticker service arrangements with the va-rious exchanges, is now engaged in rerouting its overland facilities be-tween Chicago and the Pacific Coast, so that quotations on stocks, grain and cotton will reach the Coast by way of Denver and Ogden instead of Dallas and El Paso. This more central route will permit the forking of the trans-continental circuits at Ogden, the northern fork carrying the quotations to Portland, while the southern extension will serve San Francisco and Los Angeles. Special automatic rotary repeaters have been designed and constructed for use a

There will be no change in the na ture and handling of the service to points in California, but the new ar rangement will permit the establishment of Portland as a prime re-trans-mission station. Plans virtually com-pleted contemplate the installation of three transmission plants at Port land, duplicating in all respects the existing plants at San Francisco and Los Angeles. By means of these subsidiary transmission stations, other cities in the vicinity can be given practically instantaneous srevice.

Three new wires are being constructed between Portland, Tacomand Seattle. One of these circuits is for assignment to the stock trans grain and a third to the cotton trans mission plant, so that ticker service subscribers in the three northwest ern cities will receive simultaneously the Portland transmission of all quo tations reaching the Pacific Coast sta-tions directly from Chicago.

The new service is scheduled to start about the first of the year. To effect the expansion of service it was necessary to provide nearly 2,500 miles of new truck line wire construc tion. Additional costs for channel and ticker central office and subscribers' equipment bring the total expenditures on the part of the tele-graph company to more than $200,000 As soon as the service is in operation to Portland, Tacoms and Scattle, it is parmed to exterd it as rapidly a possible to Spokene, Walla Walla Vançouver, Victoria, Butte and other points.

Rerouting of the transcontinental circuit via Denver makes it possible to provide a re-transmission station at Denver, for which plans also are under way. The Denver distribution will constitute the last link in the country-wide chain of stations from which extensions of the ticker service can be made to practically any city or town in the United States. Service to be supplied includes complete transactions in the stock issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange, complete transactions of New York and New Orleans ton Exchanges, the Chicago Board of Trade, including cotton quotations of that board, and, for one-half hour prior to the opening and for forty minutes after the closing of the Chi-cago grain market, the complete transactions in bond issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

Owing to the difference in time, the ticker service will open on the Coast at a relatively early hour. As the New York Stock Exchange opens at 10 o'clock Eastern Standard time the first quotations will begin to ar-rive in Portland at 7 a. m., Pacific Coast time. Pacific Coast brokers who wish to have the benefits of the quotation service from the time of opening of the Eastern markets, without the inconvenience of going to their offices at that early hour, may have tickers instlled in their homes.

The tickers instilled in their nomes.

The ticker works at a speed of 390 characters a minute, and is always "up" with the quotations as delivered to the ticker service from the Stock Exchange. When the direct ticker service was first established between Chicago Los Angeles and San Franchise and San Chicago, Los Angeles and San Fran-cisco, there were misgivings in some quarters as to whether a ticker cir-cuit could be made to work satisfac-factorily over such a distance. The tests proved, however, that the efficiency of the circuit was even his her than that of ordinary telegraph cir-cuits, inasmuch as the average daily loss of operating time because of wire trouble was only 30 seconds, a high-standing record in such matters.

As an extra precaution for insur ing the Northwest the best of serv ice, arrangements are being made for a spare ticker circuit from San Francisco to Portland, automatically repeated, so that in case of interrup-tion on the Ogden-Portland route the connection can be almost instantniously switched to a San Francisco-Portland leg, thus assuring the Northwestern region of direct service to Chicago.

E. A. Peirce and Company of New E. A. Petrce and Company of New York are cooperating with the West-ern Union Telegraph company in the extension of the ticker service to Oregon and Washington.
