

FAMILY ENJOYS REUNION.

A family reunion was had at the home of Mrs. A. Reaney at Lexington Saturday, when there gathered a large number of the children of Mrs. Reaney, with their families, and a genuine, old-fashioned good time was had. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Phelps, their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Balatrum, of Kelso; Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Baldwin and daughter Olivia, of Heppner; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baldwin, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lunceford and two daughters, of Kelso, Wash.; Lawrence Reaney and family, of Lexington; Arthur Parker and wife, of Heppner; Mrs. Frank Parker of Gold Hill, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, Lexington. Mrs. Reaney was made very happy in having this many of her children at home on this occasion, but was a little disappointed that Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Lee failed to arrive from their home in California, as they were expected to come to Lexington for Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Lee's mother.

PHEASANTS SAID DEPLETED.

According to several local sportsmen and farmers, the Chinese pheasants, present in this county in large numbers before the season opened, were practically exterminated during the last hunting season. This is said to have been due to the change of schedule which permitted a large number of sportsmen to hunt nearly every day of the season whereas in past years when the season was open for a continuous period, they could not take the time to hunt as much. Game officials are also being criticized here for releasing a quantity of birds for brooding purposes just before the open season, it being said these birds were largely killed, hence frustrating the purpose for which they were released. It is probable the local gun club will pass a resolution asking for the restoration of the former hunting schedule.

"TRAIL DUST" HERE SUNDAY.

"Trail Dust," the new 101 Ranch super-special which comes to the Star theater on Sunday, Dec. 4, two shows, was filmed in its entirety on the famous "Miller Bros." ranch in Oklahoma. The "101 Ranch" is said to be the largest ranch in the world, comprising as it does over two hundred thousand acres. There are always from forty to fifty thousand cattle and ten to fifteen thousand horses on their ranges. They also have one of the few remaining buffalo herds in captivity, comprising three hundred buffalo and fifty calves. Another feature of the show is the Chief Big Boy and his musical redskins orchestra, which plays during the showing of the pictures. Five full-blooded Ponca Indians who are part of the cast in the picture.

MORE LOCAL ITEMS

T. W. Cutsforth, formerly engaged in wheat raising in this county, arrived from Salem on Wednesday last and contemplates spending several weeks at Lexington. Mr. Cutsforth retired from the farming game in Morrow county with the past season, and is now interested in a couple of tracts of land near Dallas, Polk county, and divides his time between Dallas and Salem, where his daughter Mrs. Maud Polmer, lives. One of these tracts, about 22 acres, is planted to grapes which produced a fair crop this season. On the other there is five acres of hops, as well as berries and other fruits, so Mr. Cutsforth has had to inform himself regarding a line, or lines of endeavor he had never before been interested in. He has his valley tracts leased to parties, however, who understand the game, and is quite content with the change made, though it would seem that he had retired from wheat raising here just at the wrong time, as he looks forward to a series of good crops in Morrow county, and thinks there is nothing that beats a wheat ranch in the Lexington country when conditions are as promising as they appear to be at the present time.

W. G. Palmateer, who has been spending the summer and fall in the Morgan and lone sections, working during harvest, will leave this weekend for Jasper, Lane county, where he will again work in the logging camps. Mrs. Palmateer was here for awhile, but she returned to Jasper several weeks ago. Wild reports the Morgan country thoroughly soaked this fall, the record at Morgan since August first showing nearly five inches of rainfall, and it has been a great boost to the fall seeding.
