

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. French drove in from Pendleton on Tuesday afternoon, and departed on the train in the evening for California. They expect to visit with relatives at San Francisco and Oakland, and then go on to Los Angeles, where Mrs. French has relatives. Dilard expressed himself as about in the notion of joining Gurdane and Lieullen at Hollywood and getting in the movies, but a press of business at home may prevent him doing this. Up at the French ranch at Gurdane the winter has not been severe. There has been some four inches of snow this winter, and this all disappeared the first of the week. Stock is in fine condition and running on the hills again. Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Walton, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. French, will have charge of affairs at the home ranch during their absence on the California visit.

W. O. Hill, cashier of Lexington State bank, was in the city a short time Tuesday. He states that the work of liquidating the bank is moving along nicely, and it will not be a great while until final settlement is made with depositors and the bank's affairs closed up. Mr. Hill is in charge of the bank at the present time.

E. W. Thielson, in charge of the liquidation of Bank of Ione for the state banking department, has resigned and departed for California. We are informed that the affairs of the bank will be handled through the state office at Salem, but there seems to be no information available as to when the bank's affairs will be settled up.

Sheriff McDuffee, a patient at Hot Lake, where a short time ago he underwent an operation for hernia, is reported to be getting along well. Frank Turner was over there the past week-end, and called on the sheriff and states that he is looking well and should be able to leave the sanitarium before long.

John Kelly, sheepman, visited Pendleton Monday and Tuesday, where he attended the state meeting of Oregon woolmen.

A letter received this week from A. R. Cox, Route 3, Box 20-A, Woodland, Calif., states that he had just returned from Long Beach, where he spent Christmas with his sisters, Mrs. J. R. Nunamaker and Mrs. John Geiss. He wanted to call on E. M. Shutt, but did not find time to do so. Speaking of conditions in his part of California, Mr. Cox says, "The weather has been very favorable this winter in this section of the state. We have had a number of warm rains and the feed conditions are exceptionally good. The farming conditions look very favorable. The spring crop of peas and lettuce is coming up and looking very good. Lambing season is in full swing and is a busy season for us."

Jack Hynd, member of the firm of Hynd Bros., extensive sheep and woolgrowers of this county, whose ranch is located at Butterby Flats, Cecil, represented the firm at the state woolgrowers meeting in Pendleton, Monday and Tuesday of this week. He reports it one of the best meetings yet held of the woolgrowers, and he has been at the most of them for the past several years.

Herbert Hynd was in the city Tuesday from Cecil. It has been some time since he visited Heppner last, having been pretty busy with the feeding on the Hynd ranch. Stock are all doing fine, and the Cecil country is yet covered with some five or six inches of snow. The snowfall there was around 11 inches.

Ralph Thompson and W. H. Cleveland were Willow creek sheep men who attended the state woolgrowers meeting at Pendleton on Monday and Tuesday. Henry Cohn local wool dealer and sheep man, was also attending the convention at Pendleton.

Harold J. Warner and John Killenny, Pendleton attorneys, were here on Wednesday, looking after matters pertaining to the guardianship of Justus A. Miller, at present an inmate of the Eastern Oregon hospital at Pendleton.

Bob Allstott was able to be in town on Friday, following about ten days illness with flu, which kept him confined at home. He reports that there are far more pleasant ways of spending the Christmas season than being laid up at home with this affliction.

Tom O'Brien and Fred Hoskins were sheepmen of this county who attended the woolgrowers meeting at Pendleton the first of the week. Mr. O'Brien operates on Butter creek and Mr. Hoskins is located on Rhea creek.

Andrew Olson, representative of Portland auto supply house, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Heppner, calling on customers.

Robert A. Thomson took in the meeting of Oregon Woolgrowers in Pendleton on Monday and Tuesday, and states that it was one of the best sessions it has yet been his privilege to attend. There was a representative attendance from all over the state.

Floyd Gammell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gammell arrived home the first of the week from Eugene, where he enjoyed a visit of some five weeks at the home of his grandmother and aunt. Floyd says he liked the Valley very much.

Miss Edna Vaughn went to Portland on Friday to receive dental treatment, and returned home Tuesday morning.

From Silverton Appeal, we have this item concerning a former Heppner boy: John Elder, a former resident of this city, visited Silverton Wednesday. Mr. Elder and family now reside at Westfir, where he is employed with a lumber company there.

Karl Beach, who was in the city for a short time Wednesday, says the snow is now about all gone around Lexington, but its disappearance has been very gradual.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Rietmann, who reside north of Ione where Mr. Rietmann engages in wheat-raising, were visitors in this city on Monday.

Chas. W. Smith, county agent, was at Pendleton Monday and Tuesday attending the meeting of the Oregon Woolgrowers association.

Emil Groshen, Rhea creek stockman, attended the meeting of Oregon Woolgrowers association at Pendleton on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bauman found it rather inconvenient getting to town on Saturday forenoon, as the excess of water down the creek had washed out their bridge on the road leading out to the highway, and they found it necessary to come up along the hill and get on the highway at the Art Parker place.

Howard Lane, Lexington wheat buyer, was doing business at Heppner on Tuesday.

The Tires We Sell Are Protected

For One Year Against--Damage, Injuries, and Any Road Hazard

To quote from letter of instructions of SEIBERLING PROTECTED SERVICE CORPORATION to Seiberling dealers: Our coverage is very broad. We place no limitations upon the customer, no restrictions upon the dealer. We are in your hands to a very large degree. You have a valuable service if you will use it. In the matter of claims I would ask you to be guided by your own best judgment. If a tire is brought in for service, if it is not worth the price of a repair it should be replaced, regardless of its age and service. If it is worth more than the cost of a repair, repair it. Make this wonderful protection feature the basis on which your sale is made. Never lose sight of the importance of being able to save people money for themselves. They appreciate a service of that nature.

This Valuable Protection is Guaranteed by the Seiberling Protected Service Corporation, a National Protection Organization
