

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH.
 REV. THOMAS J. BRADY, Pastor.
 Next Sunday is known in the liturgy of the Church as Passion Sunday, commemorative of a more solemn entrance into the spirit of the sufferings of Jesus Christ for the redemption of the world. The statues in the church and the crucifixes are wrapped in violet veils which remain thus until the mass of Holy Saturday, immediately preceding Easter Sunday.

On this Passion Sunday therefore, there will be a high mass here in Heppner at 8:30, preceded by the hearing of confessions, with sermon by the pastor. Immediately after this mass the pastor will go to the Sands where another mass will be celebrated at 10:30. In the evening at 7:30 will occur the usual devotions concluding with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Every Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:30 there will occur the Lenten devotions prescribed by the Right Rev. Bishop J. F. McGrath of Baker.

The Rev. Father S. Nesdale, O. M. Cap., of Hermiston, was the guest of the parish and pastor last Friday and Saturday. He preached the sermon at the high mass on St. Patrick's Day and it was highly enjoyed by all. In the early afternoon he went by auto to Hermiston. The pastor wishes to express his appreciation and thanks to all those who contributed in any way to the impressive celebration of St. Patrick's Day. He is very happy to count so many non-catholics among his well-wishers, thus promoting the bonds of Christian charity and brotherly esteem, most valuable adjuncts to every community.

The Easter celebration will be in keeping with the mystery commemorated in the Resurrection of Christ and there will be a High mass with special sermon in the church at 8:30. A second mass will be celebrated in Ione at the home of Mr. Paul O'Meara at 10:30.

Instructions in Christian Doctrine for the children will take place in the parish house on the usual days and at the stated hours.

Les Miserables at Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

a short visit with his mother.

Mrs. Hazel Saling and Mrs. Violet McDonald are at home here again after spending a few weeks at the home of J. J. McDonald on Rhea creek where they assisted with the work during lambing time.

William Meldinger spent the week end with his parents at Walla Walla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fuqua left Saturday for their home in Portland after visiting with relatives here.

Mrs. Ina McDaniel of Lone Rock has been visiting with friends and relatives the past week.

G. A. Farrens has returned to his ranch on Rhea creek where he has been looking after his sheep during lambing.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDaniel went to Lone Rock last week where they will work for Cal Robinson.

John Howell was in town last week from his ranch on Wall creek. His daughter, Blanche, accompanied him home.

Mr. McIntyre was in town on Friday from his mountain home.

Spring house cleaning is on in full blast these balmy, sunny days. Some improvements have been made at different places—a new porch is being built on the house of Mrs. Sperry which adds much to its appearance. Mr. De Vore and James Miller have also cleaned up their property. We note some side walk repairing also.

RHEA CREEK.
 Lambing is about finished in this vicinity. Joe Hayes has taken his sheep to the range and Glen Farrens will take part of his home this week.

The Grange held its usual monthly social meeting last Saturday evening. Owing to the number of St. Patrick's Day dances given in various places, the attendance was smaller than usual. Beth Wright won the prize for the best representation of an advertisement.

George Hendrix, a long time resident of Rhea creek, passed away at the residence of his brother, William Hendrix, at ten a. m. March 18. He was of an advanced age and had been ill for years. He was buried Tuesday afternoon at the Odd Fellows cemetery near Hermiston.

Jack Devore, who has been lambing at Bob Allstott's ranch, is recovering from a rather serious attack of flu. He will take his sheep home this week.

Bob Allstott made a business trip to Pendleton the first of this week with the intention of bringing back a new car.

Sterling Fryrear has added a trailer to his Chevrolet coupe and it is rumored that he has rented out his newly acquired farm and is gathering up junk.

The Pomona drill team of Rhea Creek Grange is practicing faithfully once or twice a week, and expects to be ready to exemplify the fifth degree work when Pomona meets here on April 7th.

A dance for the benefit of the Near East Relief will be given at the Grange hall on Saturday, the 24th. Good music.

Mr. Hutton of the East Oregonian gave a very interesting and instructive talk to the student body of the Hardman Union high school here Tuesday.

The body of George Hendrix was brought here for burial on Tuesday. The many friends paid their respects to him with flowers and help.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Price and son and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Boardman took a motor trip Sunday, driving to Walla Walla.
