This section of the county has never had a representative at Heppner and is entitled to a member of the county court.

Mr. Wicklander is a competent man well able to handle the position and look out for the interests of this section and will have the loyal support of friends. He is an active worker in the Greenfield Grange and master of Pomona Grange and will doubtless have the support of this organization over the county. The Boardman and Irrigon Granges urged his candidacy.

The Silver Tea was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Mofford. The weather was cold and windy so the attendance was smaller than usual but all enjoyed a pleasant time. Two attempts have been made recently to wreck the train, one near Hood River and one near Castle. A large reward has been offered by the O. W. for the apprehension of the malefactor. Last week some powder and dynamite caps were taken from the wreck crusher plant and it was thought perhaps an attempt might be made to wreck the train but this fear proved groundless.

Edward McClelland spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Ed Kunze. The Cox's were up from Rufus for a few days.

Mrs. Nick Faler has been appointed a member of the board of directors of the North Morrow County Fair, taking the place of C. H. Dillabough who has served as secretary for some time but who felt that he could not serve this year. Mrs. Faler has always taken a keen interest in the fair and will make an excellent director. In all probability the fair will be held in Irrigon this year which will be pleasing news to everyone as all feel that Irrigon is entitled to it. Other members of the board are Mrs. A. T. Herdm, W. O. King and Lee Mead, treasurer. There are three directors from Irrigon and the directors elect secretary and president at their first meeting.

Leslie Packard and his daughter, Mrs. Lowell Spagie motored to Heppner Monday.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson and daughter Rachel motored to Portland Wednesday to do some shopping. They expect to return Sunday.

It is to be deplored that so little interest was shown in the club meeting arranged by County Agent C. W. Smith for last Friday night. A good program was planned and Irrigon people attending completely outnumbered the Boardman folks. There is nothing new for the boys and girls than the club work, and the club who has a pig, a lamb, a turkey or poultry to raise, to feed and care for is going to get great returns not merely in a monetary way but educationally, physically, he gains self-reliance, he gains knowledge of practical value, but the boy or girl who is plodding along without encouragement or interest at home has an uphill pull and surely the parents should be interested enough in the children's work to give them assistance and encouragement. The Irrigon boys' band played and they were fine, the speakers all gave interesting talks. Mr. Allen of Corvallis, an assistant club leader, was present as was Mr. Michelbook from the wheat country. All spoke of the value of club work to the boys and girls and urged parents to assist in every way.

Through the efforts of Mrs. E. T. Messenger the church was beautifully decorated for the Easteride. The little folks all took their part well and the old, old story of the Resurrection was again told in song and story. Two quartets, the first the young men's quartet, consisting of Buster Randa, Eldon Wilson, Ray Barlow and Mr. Marschat with Miss Henry at the piano, and the second consisting of C. S. Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Marschat and Miss Henry, each sang beautifully. Rev. Swonger delivered a very appropriate Easter sermon.

Treatment of Potatoes

For Seed in This County

By C. W. SMITH, County Agent.

To make a profit from growing potatoes on the hill lands of Morrow county, one must follow practices that will give him the largest yield possible. First of all after deciding to plant potatoes one should secure seed free from fungus diseases or the yield will be materially decreased from this reason alone and as pure seed, free from disease can be secured for very little more than ordinary field run potatoes, one should always take pains to secure disease free seed. However, diseases affecting potatoes may be in the ground at the time of planting and one may have diseased potatoes if they sow certified seed. Seed potato treatment for the prevention of disease is recommended by all authorities on potato growing, and the best and most common practice of treating seed in small quantities is to use the corrosive sublimate treatment. This is done by dissolving four ounces of corrosive sublimate in one gallon of hot water. This is then added to 29 gallons of water and four sacks of uncut potatoes are soaked one hour, 1½ hours, 1½ hours and two hours. The treatment should be done in a wooden container only as the corrosive sublimate corrodes metal, and the strength of the solution is reduced. Potatoes should be treated for 8 to 12 days before planting and should be allowed to drain and dry after treating. When possible bulk treating should be practiced as the sacks take up the strength of the solution and the effectiveness of the treatment is lost to some extent. When using corrosive sublimate care should be used in keeping it away from livestock and irresponsible persons as it is a deadly poison and disastrous results may be experienced.

Freshly cut potato seed pieces are best kept in a cool, moist place until planted. If exposed to the direct rays of the sun injury results which prevents development after planting. The failure of many Oregon farmers to obtain good stands of potatoes has led to a series of tests at the O. A. C. It was found that freshly cut seed pieces exposed to direct sunlight for three hours before planting produced a 50 per cent stand and a 60 per cent yield. Normal production was obtained from several lots of seed cut two days before planting but protected from sunlight. When a potato is cut, a protective skin is formed over the cut surface. In strong sunlight the seed pieces dry out rapidly preventing the formation of this covering and permitting organisms to enter and destroy the seed after planting. The protective layer is readily formed in a moist atmosphere. When seed pieces are cut several days before planting it is advisable to store crates or spread out in a thin layer on the storage floor when the atmosphere is moist and turned once during the first twenty-four hours. The use of absorbents such as land plaster and flowers of sulphur assists in the drying process and helps to heal the new cut to a very great extent.

There are any number of so called virus potato diseases such as Mosaic for which no treatment or prevention except clean seed selection have been worked out. Consequently one should always secure seed from clean stock, treat at least eight days before planting, select ground where potatoes have not been grown for at least four years and cover the potatoes immediately after they are placed in the furrows.

With a serious injury to his back which caused the cracking of the fourth lumbar of the vertebrae, Lewis Windsor is home from Sacramento after a narrow escape from death when he was struck by an automobile several weeks ago.

Mr. Windsor has been in a cast but it has been removed. However, he must remain in bed for the next three months. He is at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ruth Barnett at the Kenmore apartments. Mrs. Barnett went to Sacramento when her son was hurt and accompanied him here. He made the trip on a stretcher.

The accident occurred when Mr. Windsor, with two companions, while motoring near Sacramento, stepped from the former's car to go to a filling station for gasoline. They were struck by a passing car. Mrs. Barnett states that her son received no damages as the motorist was in no financial condition to pay.

Millions of Model T Fords are still in active service

FOR nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today—an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

Because of the tremendous investment which people have in these cars and because so many of them will be driven for two, three, and even five more years, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

For the Ford Motor Company has always believed that its full duty consists not only in making a good automobile at a low price, but also in keeping it running efficiently for you as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

No matter where you live, therefore, you can still buy Model T Ford parts with the same assurance as formerly, knowing that they will give you the kind of service you have a right to expect, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

All Ford replacement parts, as you may know, are made of the same materials and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled, and are low in price because of the established Ford policy.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T Ford over the longest period of time, we suggest that you take the car to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts which may be necessary. You may find that a very small expenditure will maintain the value of your car and will be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.
