Set New Air Mark

EDWARD STINSON
GEORGE HALDEMAN

The world's airplane endurance record came back to America from Germany at Jacksonville Beach, Fla., when Edward Stinson and George Haldeeman set a new mark of 53 hours and 36 minutes 30 seconds. This new mark is 1 hour 13 minutes 59 seconds beyond the mark set last August by Johann Ristitz and Cornelius Edzard, German flyers.

ination are loss of weight, loss of appetite, and a cough that lasts over six weeks. The patient should bear in mind that he may have only one of these symptoms, or he may have more than one at the same time. In any event, as soon as he recognizes any of them he should seek medical advice, for only in early discovery lies the hope of cure."

FARM MARKET TREND

(O. A. C. Extension Service.)
Corvallis, Ore., April 9.—GRAIN. A generally firm market for wheat and rye, sharply lower corn price, which weakened oats and barley and dull flax markets featured last week's grain market news. Private estimates indicated heavy abandonment of soft winter wheat acreage and a relatively low condition of all winter wheat. These reports when summarized indicate an increase of 35-40 million bushels of hard winter wheat and a decrease of around 50 million bushels of soft winter wheat compared to last year. Rains improved the situation for winter wheat and conditions have been rather favorable for spring seeding. Most of the strength in domestic markets was in soft red winter and substitute grades with which the Pacific Coast was supplying St. Louis markets at prices above export quotations. High protein feeds were also advanced somewhat.

HAY AND FEED. The combined marketable surplus of hay in the United States is unusually large. Alfalfa has moved into consumption at a good rate, but there was less demand for timothy and prairie hays for shipment than a year ago. Bran and middlings prices went sharply lower last week and linseed meal was slightly lower, but cottonseed and alfalfa meal were firm.

SEEDS. Demand for seeds improved and prices for most kinds were firm or higher.

BUTTER. Prices for butter declined 1-2c a pound in both domestic and foreign markets. From a purely statistical viewpoint the situation is fairly firm, but even a small surplus appeared to be more than handlers cared to hold.

WOOL-MOHAIR. Wool and mohair markets continue strong. Some re-exporting of foreign wool and mohair held in bond in Atlantic ports was reported. All bids on new clip mohair offered at Delrio last week were rejected, although somewhat more than 80c was offered for grown mohair.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES. Oregon Yellow Newton apples were somewhat lower at Liverpool last week because of poor condition, it was reported. Arrivals there of apples from Australia and New Zealand this month are expected to be 650,000 cases. Potato markets continued to be well supplied from heavy shipments in March, although

WARNING SIGNS OF TUBERCULOSIS

(From State Board of Health.)
"Despite the tremendous reduction in the mortality of tuberculosis during the past 25 years, the fact remains that the number of deaths from tuberculosis, especially among young adults, is still far higher than it should be," declares Dr. John B. Hawes, second, in explaining the need of the Early Diagnosis Campaign, which was conducted on a nation-wide scale during March by the state and local tuberculosis associations.

Dr. Hawes is a recognized authority on tuberculosis, president of the Boston Tuberculosis Association, and the author of several books on the subject.

"Patients all over the country are reaching the advanced stages of this disease before a diagnosis is made," he states. "The arrest of tuberculous disease and its reduced mortality depends largely upon education of the public.

"The particular signs and symptoms to be emphasized as being most important in the early recognition of tuberculosis are, I feel, the constitutional ones, and of these I think the most important, yet the most intangible, is chronic fatigue, or the ease with which a person gets tired. If we could only learn the importance of this, and be honest enough with ourselves to admit it when we are going on our nerve, tuberculosis would be recognized far earlier than it is at present.

"I am constantly seeing patients for cough or blood spitting who will admit, when I tell them they have tuberculosis, that they have been going on their nerve for months before the advent of the cough or other chest symptoms. If these patients had known enough to consult a physician for this chronic fatigue and loss of strength, many lives would have been saved.

"Other important constitutional symptoms which should cause one to visit a doctor for careful exam-

Anti-Saloon League Issues Statement

Through the apathy and indifference of good citizens, and the supineness of many officials the forces of lawlessness are making headway in our country. Not liquor laws only, but all laws whose violation may yield a profit are coming to be held in contempt. Corrupt officials find in these lawbreakers a source of profit. Honest but timid officials hesitate to incur their enmity.

Having contended earnestly for the enactment and strengthening of the laws against liquor, the Headquarters Committee of the Anti-Saloon League desires to make a statement of its position and policy in regard to their enforcement.

We believe that enforcement of law should be entrusted only to officials regularly elected or appointed, and charged with that duty. The private citizen can act only through the regularly constituted authorities. If these lack money or men their needs should be supplied. If they are corrupt or incompetent all attempts to work with them must fail.

Addresses Indian Farmers

Russell Hill of the Tonawanda Reservation, near Buffalo, N. Y., speaking over the radio to his brother Indians who are farmers in the Seneca tongue. Hill has been appointed Assistant U. S. County Agricultural Agent in charge of corn holer control.

Officers can deal with criminals. Only voters can deal with derelict officers.

The Anti-Saloon League of Oregon is resolved that hereafter it will center its efforts upon recommendation and support of officials who are faithful to their duty, and upon the detection and punishment of those who betray their trust.

DEATH CALLS MRS. L. P. CARLE

Ione Independent.
Funeral services for Mrs. Luvina P. Carle, who died at her home on Sunday, April 1, were held at the Congregational church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Carle was born Dec. 13, 1852, in Decatur, Michigan. She married Thomas J. Carle, March 31, 1880, in Cass Co., Missouri, moving to West- on, Oregon, where she lived a few years. After living on a homestead north of Ione they moved about 1894 to Ione where she helped her husband who was postmaster a few years. Then they moved to the house where she was living during her last years and there conducted a rooming house.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Dolly French of Edgeley, North Dakota and three step children, Mrs. Leonard D. Holland of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Luvina L. Louy of Ione, and Mr. A. C. Carle of Astoria, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Clark, Eight Mile residents, were visitors in Heppner on Saturday.
