

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Reid Buseick were visitors at the home of Mrs. Ellen Buseick in this city on Sunday, coming over from their home at John Day. Other guests at the home of Mrs. Buseick were Mr. and Mrs. Wattenburger of Pine City, parents of Mrs. Reid Buseick, who enjoyed the day with their son-in-law and daughter. Coming to Heppner with Mr. and Mrs. Buseick were Miss Ruthella Morris, a niece of Mrs. F. W. Turner, and her friend, Miss Melba Ritchie, who visited at the Turner home. The John Day visitors departed for their home on Sunday evening.

Emil Carlson was a visitor in the city on Monday from his home in the Gooseberry section. He was also here the end of the week, and was accompanied by his father, Andrew Carlson, who will make his home now with his son. The elder Mr. Carlson has been living for many years in Portland, where he has accumulated considerable property, but recently being bereft of his wife, he is now alone and has decided to return to Morrow county to live with his children here.

The funeral of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Barratt, who died very suddenly on Thursday, was held Friday forenoon. The baby had been ill almost from birth but it was thought that he was well on the road to recovery, when taken with a heart attack and death came before aid could be administered. Mr. and Mrs. Barratt have the sympathy of the entire community in their sorrow.

Ed Clark departed on Saturday for California, and it is understood that he will have charge of Maytag sales in the territory adjacent to Santa Rosa, though we were unable to confirm this rumor. Ed has been very successful in the field of salesmanship in this territory since taking the Maytag agency, and should he take over the California territory he will no doubt do as well there.

Wm. Moore, who farms in the Hodson district, reports that he has been compelled to reseed a field of Federation, the winter frosts proving too much for it. Only, at this time, but warmer weather will help a bit in making it come along. Mr. Moore was looking after business here on Saturday.

The marriage of Mr. George A. Lloyd and Mrs. Lella Stockill was an event of Friday. The ceremony was performed by Justice E. R. Huston, witnesses being A. M. Phelps and O. P. Ferguson. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd are working at the farm of Mr. Ferguson in Sand Hollow, where they were both employed previous to their marriage.

J. B. Huddleston and his sister, Miss Bess Huddleston, were visitors here on Saturday. They have been spending the winter months in Portland, and the change to new pastures seems to have put Jim in excellent physical condition for the summer's work on bunchgrass which will be spent at the Huddleston ranch near Lone Rock.

Cleve Walton, who is now at the Gurdane ranch of J. D. French, was a visitor in this city on Saturday. While there has been a good deal of wet weather up his way, Mr. Walton states the range is in excellent shape and everything coming along well. His family now lives in Pendleton where the children are attending school.

Mrs. Gus Wilcox and Mrs. Erwin, of the Lexington section, were visitors here on Wednesday. Gus Wilcox acquired the L. J. Padberg wheat ranch shortly after the first of the year, and some six weeks ago moved up and took possession. Plowing is the order at that ranch now and this work is being pushed along rapidly.

Jason Biddle of Rhea creek was a visitor here on Monday.

Sheriff Logan was a visitor in Heppner Tuesday from Condon, attending to some business pertaining to his office. He stated to a G. T. reporter that the office of sheriff seems to be a very popular plum over in Gilliam county, and the candidates before the primary are numerous. He is after the nomination again, himself, and his friends tell him that if he reaches first base, which is success at the primary in May, he is sure headed for a home run in the fall.

E. E. Alderson and wife spent the fore part of the week here from their home in Portland, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lieualen. They departed on Tuesday afternoon for Weston and La Grande to visit other relatives. Mrs. Alderson is the youngest daughter of Mr. Lieualen, and Mr. Alderson has a position with a trucking company in Portland, and is having his annual vacation at this time.

M. L. Case and F. R. Brown and a number of others, members of the Methodist church, motored to Pendleton on Tuesday to attend a district missionary meeting of the church for eastern Oregon, being held in that city. Among those going over Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Case, Mrs. H. C. Bramer, Mrs. Alex Gibb, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Brown and daughter, and Miss Lulu Hager.

Jess R. Hicks, who is in the newspaper business at Ridgefield, Wn., was a visitor here on Monday for a short time. Mr. Hicks was formerly a resident of this city, when his father was publisher of the Heppner Times. It has been nearly fifteen years since he left Heppner and this is the first time he has visited here since.

While in Portland the first of the week, Harold Cohn and Clarence Bauman had the pleasure of attending the banquet given by the Portland Legion post in honor of Commander Spafford of the National Legion, who was a visitor in the city. Messrs. Cohn and Bauman motored on to Salem where they had business.

Autoists coming this way over the Oregon-Washington highway are now compelled to detour for considerable distance beyond Ione. The process of oiling the Ione-Heppner Junction section is progressing, the crew working out of Ione, and it will be some little time before the road will be in shape for travel.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rice were Saturday visitors in the city from their home at Artesian ranch. It has been quite cold of nights out that day during the past weeks and grain has grown slowly, though gardens are coming along quite well. Warmer weather conditions would be appreciated right now.

Dan Barlow was in town Monday making delivery of butter fat at the local creamery. On going home he took out a number of large cream cans and said they would not be all that he needed. He has recently added to his milk stock on the Rhea creek ranch and the cows are all good producers.

J. D. Bauman is feeling pretty proud these days, driving about in a new Whippet coupe recently purchased of Cohn Auto company. Mr. Bauman had to go to Portland for the machine, accompanying H. A. Cohn to the city, but he drove the new car home and says he is delighted with its performance.

Maurice Frye and family spent Easter at the home of Mr. Frye's mother, Mrs. Olive Frye, coming up from their home at Portland and returning Monday. Mr. Frye now has a place with the Fields Motor company in Portland and is selling Chevrolet cars in that territory.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Aiken are the proud parents of a son, born on April 5th at the maternity home of Mrs. G. C. Aiken in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smith had as week-end guests at their home, the parents of Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of The Dalles, and her grandmother, Mrs. Allen of Oregon City. After spending a couple of days here the visitors returned home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Anderson drove up from Portland on Saturday and spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Campbell. They were accompanied by their little niece, Frances McCarty of The Dalles.

G. Zahler and wife of Pendleton visited for a short time in this city on Sunday, while out for a drive. Mr. Zahler is proprietor of the Pantorium at Pendleton, one of the leading cleaning and dyeing establishments of that city.

Mrs. Lucy Neely, mother of Mrs. T. A. Hughes, accompanied by her little granddaughter, Patricia Hughes, went to Portland on Sunday for a visit of a couple of weeks at the home of a daughter residing in the city.

Our old friend, Jake Pearson of Lena, has been ill at his home for the past week or so, suffering an attack of influenza.

Frank Fraters and family were visitors in this city for a few hours on Saturday, from their home at Eight Mile.

George Swaggart, many years a resident of this city, was a visitor here on Sunday from his home at Pendleton.

I'm building a garage

(Says Bill the Builder)—and I'll be gum swizzled if I'll park Henry under a tree for another night's lodging. Henry is a good, faithful steed, but he gets rheumatism in his universal joints from exposure to the night air. So it's a swell room with private bath and all modern conveniences for Henry, and I saved the price of two new tires and a wash and polish, because I bought my lumber from
