

Heppner Gazette Times

THE HEPPNER GAZETTE
Established March 20, 1883;
THE HEPPNER TIMES
Established November 15, 1897;
CONSOLIDATED FEBRUARY 15, 1915.

Published every Thursday morning by
VAWTER AND SPENCER CRAWFORD
and entered at the Post Office at Heppner,
Oregon, as second-class matter.

ADVERTISING RATES GIVEN ON APPLICATION.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
One Year $2.00
Six Months 1.00
Three Months .50
Single Copies .05

Official Paper for Morrow County.

Foreign Advertising Representative
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW has passed away, and we are all a little sadder because of his passing. For so long a time was he in the forefront of national affairs, for so long a period was the spotlight of public flashed upon him, that America as a whole will find it difficult to adjust itself to life without his presence.

A great intelligence and a great wit, he illuminated the life about him, and made the world a better place to live in because he lived in it.

He lived during the administration of most of our presidents. He lived during the most marvelous age known to man, of scientific developments, new discoveries, the conquest of the air and the sea. And he knew Abraham Lincoln—that alone would have endeared him to us, had we known nothing else about him.

In one of his last interviews, he expressed an unbounded love of life. He was always notable for his wisdom in living, and his great care of his mental and physical faculties permitted him a long, rich life. When he died he was almost ninety-four; yet he did not die as an aged, broken man, but as a vital, important personality still in the midst of active work and compelling interests.

The onslaughts of old age never phased this brave soul, who looked forward with the optimism of Robert Browning.
Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made!

BATTER UP!

NOW is the time that national issues, presidential prophecies and the like are temporarily forgotten, and their place in the public interest is taken by something which has always held an enviable place in public regard—the Great Game of Baseball!

The season has begun! The games are on! Now we know that Spring is here, and Summer is coming, and Sport is King.

What's a little thing like the political situation, compared to the thrill of the first home run!

It's "batter up" and "kill the umpire" all over the land, and there is no more hopeful sign for the future of America.

A nation that plays is young. A nation that will continue to play will always be young and energetic and alive.

It is red blood that runs through our national arteries so long as the heart of the nation can beat faster in response to the exploits of the Home Run Kings.

When thousands are rooting in the bleachers, and thousands are listening over the radio at home for reports of the game, and other thousands are wielding the bat in ball fields and vacant lots, we need not fear that the enthusiasm and spirit of our citizens will vanish.

It is when people do not know how to play, that they also forget how to think and how to live.

THE CITIZEN'S PART.

American Lumberman.

LET anyone who is disposed to think that the problem of future timber supply has no concern for him, consider for a moment the possibility of his doing wholly without wood.

Trees are like farm crops in that they become mature in due time and must be harvested, whether other crops have been planted or not; so that while the present forests will supply present needs, new forests must be grown for future needs.

The forests of the United States can be perpetuated largely by private owners if during the period of growth the young trees are released largely from taxation and are permitted to pay back taxes assessed against them when sold and removed from the land.

Folks must get the habit of thinking of protecting forests, both young and old, from fire; they must think of trees as a valuable crop, on which they depend for their future supply of wood, and they must be as careful not to set forests on fire with cigar, cigarette or camp fire as they would be not to set wheat fields, barns, and farm houses on fire in the same way.

Wood is a product of the forest in exactly the same way that flour is a product of the wheat fields; and there is no more likelihood of the people getting along without wood than without wheat. But America found its forests ready grown in vast areas, and until late years Americans have not seen the need of growing trees as they have grown wheat, corn, and other food crops from the first settlement of the country.

Nobody should get the notion that it is impossible or impracticable to perpetuate the forests of the United States on a scale adequate to the future needs of the country. Nobody should get the notion that the sole purpose of perpetuating the forests is to provide a supply of wood. An outstanding fact to be remembered is that unless these millions of acres of forest lands are put to growing trees, they will be a liability rather than an asset to the country. They will pay no taxes and return no profit on the investment.

THERE is now no lack of material on the republican ticket for the office of county commissioner. For a time it looked like J. C. Owen had a clean field and no handicaps, but this condition has changed, and instead of one candidate for this office, we now have four in the race for the nomination at the May primary, and this makes the race more interesting. L. P. Davidson, present incumbent and commissioner for the past eight years, will run again, and the north end has a candidate in the person of Chas. Wicklander, master of Pomona grange. Another aspirant is E. S. Duran of Lexington, pioneer farmer of the wheat belt, and out of the number there should be a good man selected. Candidates for other offices to be filled on the ticket are now busy, and the intervening few weeks before the primary will doubtless witness much activity in county politics.

ability of his doing wholly without wood.

Trees are like farm crops in that they become mature in due time and must be harvested, whether other crops have been planted or not; so that while the present forests will supply present needs, new forests must be grown for future needs.

The forests of the United States can be perpetuated largely by private owners if during the period of growth the young trees are released largely from taxation and are permitted to pay back taxes assessed against them when sold and removed from the land.

Folks must get the habit of thinking of protecting forests, both young and old, from fire; they must think of trees as a valuable crop, on which they depend for their future supply of wood, and they must be as careful not to set forests on fire with cigar, cigarette or camp fire as they would be not to set wheat fields, barns, and farm houses on fire in the same way.

Wood is a product of the forest in exactly the same way that flour is a product of the wheat fields; and there is no more likelihood of the people getting along without wood than without wheat. But America found its forests ready grown in vast areas, and until late years Americans have not seen the need of growing trees as they have grown wheat, corn, and other food crops from the first settlement of the country.

Nobody should get the notion that it is impossible or impracticable to perpetuate the forests of the United States on a scale adequate to the future needs of the country. Nobody should get the notion that the sole purpose of perpetuating the forests is to provide a supply of wood. An outstanding fact to be remembered is that unless these millions of acres of forest lands are put to growing trees, they will be a liability rather than an asset to the country. They will pay no taxes and return no profit on the investment.

In one of his last interviews, he expressed an unbounded love of life. He was always notable for his wisdom in living, and his great care of his mental and physical faculties permitted him a long, rich life. When he died he was almost ninety-four; yet he did not die as an aged, broken man, but as a vital, important personality still in the midst of active work and compelling interests.

The onslaughts of old age never phased this brave soul, who looked forward with the optimism of Robert Browning.
Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made!

The onslaughts of old age never phased this brave soul, who looked forward with the optimism of Robert Browning.
Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made!

BATTER UP!

NOW is the time that national issues, presidential prophecies and the like are temporarily forgotten, and their place in the public interest is taken by something which has always held an enviable place in public regard—the Great Game of Baseball!

The season has begun! The games are on! Now we know that Spring is here, and Summer is coming, and Sport is King.

What's a little thing like the political situation, compared to the thrill of the first home run!

It's "batter up" and "kill the umpire" all over the land, and there is no more hopeful sign for the future of America.

A nation that plays is young. A nation that will continue to play will always be young and energetic and alive.

It is red blood that runs through our national arteries so long as the heart of the nation can beat faster in response to the exploits of the Home Run Kings.

When thousands are rooting in the bleachers, and thousands are listening over the radio at home for reports of the game, and other thousands are wielding the bat in ball fields and vacant lots, we need not fear that the enthusiasm and spirit of our citizens will vanish.

It is when people do not know how to play, that they also forget how to think and how to live.

THE CITIZEN'S PART.

American Lumberman.

LET anyone who is disposed to think that the problem of future timber supply has no concern for him, consider for a moment the possibility of his doing wholly without wood.

Trees are like farm crops in that they become mature in due time and must be harvested, whether other crops have been planted or not; so that while the present forests will supply present needs, new forests must be grown for future needs.

The forests of the United States can be perpetuated largely by private owners if during the period of growth the young trees are released largely from taxation and are permitted to pay back taxes assessed against them when sold and removed from the land.

Folks must get the habit of thinking of protecting forests, both young and old, from fire; they must think of trees as a valuable crop, on which they depend for their future supply of wood, and they must be as careful not to set forests on fire with cigar, cigarette or camp fire as they would be not to set wheat fields, barns, and farm houses on fire in the same way.

Wood is a product of the forest in exactly the same way that flour is a product of the wheat fields; and there is no more likelihood of the people getting along without wood than without wheat. But America found its forests ready grown in vast areas, and until late years Americans have not seen the need of growing trees as they have grown wheat, corn, and other food crops from the first settlement of the country.

Nobody should get the notion that it is impossible or impracticable to perpetuate the forests of the United States on a scale adequate to the future needs of the country. Nobody should get the notion that the sole purpose of perpetuating the forests is to provide a supply of wood. An outstanding fact to be remembered is that unless these millions of acres of forest lands are put to growing trees, they will be a liability rather than an asset to the country. They will pay no taxes and return no profit on the investment.

THERE is now no lack of material on the republican ticket for the office of county commissioner. For a time it looked like J. C. Owen had a clean field and no handicaps, but this condition has changed, and instead of one candidate for this office, we now have four in the race for the nomination at the May primary, and this makes the race more interesting. L. P. Davidson, present incumbent and commissioner for the past eight years, will run again, and the north end has a candidate in the person of Chas. Wicklander, master of Pomona grange. Another aspirant is E. S. Duran of Lexington, pioneer farmer of the wheat belt, and out of the number there should be a good man selected. Candidates for other offices to be filled on the ticket are now busy, and the intervening few weeks before the primary will doubtless witness much activity in county politics.

When thousands are rooting in the bleachers, and thousands are listening over the radio at home for reports of the game, and other thousands are wielding the bat in ball fields and vacant lots, we need not fear that the enthusiasm and spirit of our citizens will vanish.

It is when people do not know how to play, that they also forget how to think and how to live.

THE CITIZEN'S PART.

American Lumberman.

LET anyone who is disposed to think that the problem of future timber supply has no concern for him, consider for a moment the possibility of his doing wholly without wood.

Trees are like farm crops in that they become mature in due time and must be harvested, whether other crops have been planted or not; so that while the present forests will supply present needs, new forests must be grown for future needs.

The forests of the United States can be perpetuated largely by private owners if during the period of growth the young trees are released largely from taxation and are permitted to pay back taxes assessed against them when sold and removed from the land.

Folks must get the habit of thinking of protecting forests, both young and old, from fire; they must think of trees as a valuable crop, on which they depend for their future supply of wood, and they must be as careful not to set forests on fire with cigar, cigarette or camp fire as they would be not to set wheat fields, barns, and farm houses on fire in the same way.

Wood is a product of the forest in exactly the same way that flour is a product of the wheat fields; and there is no more likelihood of the people getting along without wood than without wheat. But America found its forests ready grown in vast areas, and until late years Americans have not seen the need of growing trees as they have grown wheat, corn, and other food crops from the first settlement of the country.

Nobody should get the notion that it is impossible or impracticable to perpetuate the forests of the United States on a scale adequate to the future needs of the country. Nobody should get the notion that the sole purpose of perpetuating the forests is to provide a supply of wood. An outstanding fact to be remembered is that unless these millions of acres of forest lands are put to growing trees, they will be a liability rather than an asset to the country. They will pay no taxes and return no profit on the investment.

THERE is now no lack of material on the republican ticket for the office of county commissioner. For a time it looked like J. C. Owen had a clean field and no handicaps, but this condition has changed, and instead of one candidate for this office, we now have four in the race for the nomination at the May primary, and this makes the race more interesting. L. P. Davidson, present incumbent and commissioner for the past eight years, will run again, and the north end has a candidate in the person of Chas. Wicklander, master of Pomona grange. Another aspirant is E. S. Duran of Lexington, pioneer farmer of the wheat belt, and out of the number there should be a good man selected. Candidates for other offices to be filled on the ticket are now busy, and the intervening few weeks before the primary will doubtless witness much activity in county politics.

When thousands are rooting in the bleachers, and thousands are listening over the radio at home for reports of the game, and other thousands are wielding the bat in ball fields and vacant lots, we need not fear that the enthusiasm and spirit of our citizens will vanish.

It is when people do not know how to play, that they also forget how to think and how to live.

THE CITIZEN'S PART.

American Lumberman.

LET anyone who is disposed to think that the problem of future timber supply has no concern for him, consider for a moment the possibility of his doing wholly without wood.

Trees are like farm crops in that they become mature in due time and must be harvested, whether other crops have been planted or not; so that while the present forests will supply present needs, new forests must be grown for future needs.

The forests of the United States can be perpetuated largely by private owners if during the period of growth the young trees are released largely from taxation and are permitted to pay back taxes assessed against them when sold and removed from the land.

Folks must get the habit of thinking of protecting forests, both young and old, from fire; they must think of trees as a valuable crop, on which they depend for their future supply of wood, and they must be as careful not to set forests on fire with cigar, cigarette or camp fire as they would be not to set wheat fields, barns, and farm houses on fire in the same way.

Wood is a product of the forest in exactly the same way that flour is a product of the wheat fields; and there is no more likelihood of the people getting along without wood than without wheat. But America found its forests ready grown in vast areas, and until late years Americans have not seen the need of growing trees as they have grown wheat, corn, and other food crops from the first settlement of the country.

Nobody should get the notion that it is impossible or impracticable to perpetuate the forests of the United States on a scale adequate to the future needs of the country. Nobody should get the notion that the sole purpose of perpetuating the forests is to provide a supply of wood. An outstanding fact to be remembered is that unless these millions of acres of forest lands are put to growing trees, they will be a liability rather than an asset to the country. They will pay no taxes and return no profit on the investment.

THERE is now no lack of material on the republican ticket for the office of county commissioner. For a time it looked like J. C. Owen had a clean field and no handicaps, but this condition has changed, and instead of one candidate for this office, we now have four in the race for the nomination at the May primary, and this makes the race more interesting. L. P. Davidson, present incumbent and commissioner for the past eight years, will run again, and the north end has a candidate in the person of Chas. Wicklander, master of Pomona grange. Another aspirant is E. S. Duran of Lexington, pioneer farmer of the wheat belt, and out of the number there should be a good man selected. Candidates for other offices to be filled on the ticket are now busy, and the intervening few weeks before the primary will doubtless witness much activity in county politics.

When thousands are rooting in the bleachers, and thousands are listening over the radio at home for reports of the game, and other thousands are wielding the bat in ball fields and vacant lots, we need not fear that the enthusiasm and spirit of our citizens will vanish.

It is when people do not know how to play, that they also forget how to think and how to live.

THE CITIZEN'S PART.

American Lumberman.

Dr. Frank Crane Says:

THREE THINGS

Gabriel Wells had a Christmas card in which he says that there are three things that constitute a rounded out life: Power, Pleasure and Peace.

The more we think of it the more this seems to be a very good definition.

There is not much satisfaction in a life of no power. What gives zest to sport is the employment of power and we all applaud the victor, that is, the man who shows the most power. This includes both mentality or mental acumen and skill.

As for pleasure, they have learned a great lesson who have found out the abiding pleasures of life are those that come from serving others. The pleasures that we experience in merely receiving gifts or benefits, merely enjoying things that are our own, the pleasures of possession and amusement are temporary and they fade.

But one who devotes his life to bringing joy into the lives of others has an unending source of satisfaction.

Peace comes from the firm establishment of connection of life with certain fixed principles. There are some things which, when we have decided upon them, we lay on the shelf. They are not to be reopened. One who is continually arguing the fundamentals is always in hot water and unsatisfied.

That is the advantage of a belief in God. It is something fixed and settled, a central sun about which all of our other thoughts and opinions may revolve.

Of course the belief in God does not imply any congeries of fantastic connotations. One's belief in God may take many forms, but it must have a central core of repose. A life without inner repose is constantly buffeted to and fro by contrary passions.

One who has power sufficient to enjoy his ability to overcome obstacles, who takes pleasure in giving pleasure to others, and who has inner repose enough to keep him content in the center of his being, can be truly said to live a somewhat complete life.

ted on a different problem. We want to make sure that the right people get possession of our power sources, the right people being those that control power and peddle it to the people. As to farmers and others that buy and use power, our government has not had time to think about them.

Prophecy is usually dangerous, particularly dangerous for farmers when government prophecies go wrong. The government forecast on potatoes last fall predicted a crop greater than the real one. Many farmers sold in a hurry at low prices, some were not marketed, many fed to stock.

Then the shortage was seen, price went up, a few wise people made the money. NOT the farmers.

The sudden death of Senator Willis, in his battle for Ohio's Presidential delegates, ended tragically one phase of the 1928 campaign.

Sensor Willis would have preferred to die fighting. Those that know Secretary Hoover know that Senator Willis' death will cause him sincere grief.

A powerful man, never sparing himself, Senator Willis forgot that there are limits to the heart's endurance. A tired heart often succumbs in the most powerful man, wearied by constant strain.

The dead man's widow attributed the Senator's attack to the fumes of smoky flares that he had been inhaling constantly, in the course of a political parade.

A weak heart, fighting against poisoned air, is in danger.

The League of Nations proposes international war against rats, their complete extermination.

Such a war, made to include mosquitoes and flies, would be the best war in history. It would save every year in lives and property as much as the big war cost in any year.

No more rats, no more bubonic plague.

No more mosquitoes, no more yellow fever or malaria.

No more tse-tse flies, no more sleeping sickness.

No more house flies, no more filth dragged over food of young children.

It would be interfering with Nature's plans, perhaps. Darwin says a pair of tropical flies and their maggot offspring can dispose of a lion's carcass in a few hours. Kill all the lions and the flies would not be needed to dispose of the carcass.

George Haldeman and Eddie Stinson, American, broke the world's endurance record in the air, flying without stopping fifty-three and one-half hours.

The French government offers a million francs to any French flyer that will win back some flying records formerly held by French flyers.

A little encouragement from our government would make it impossible for any nation to compete with American flying.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

(Paid Advertising)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

To the Republican Voters of Morrow County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for nomination to the office of County Commissioner, subject to your will at the Primary Election, May 18, 1928.

E. S. DURAN.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

To the Republican Voters of Morrow County:

I announce myself for nomination to the office of County Commissioner, at the primaries to be held May 18th, on the Republican ticket.

L. P. DAVIDSON, Ione, Ore.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

I hereby announce to the voters of Morrow County that I will be a candidate for the office of County School Superintendent on the Republican ticket, at the primaries, May 18th, 1928.

HELEN M. WALKER.

FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate before the Republican primaries on May 18, 1928, for the office of Sheriff of Morrow County, and shall greatly appreciate your support.

C. J. D. BAUMAN.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for nomination for the office of County Clerk of Morrow County on the Republican ticket at the Primary election.

W. O. HILL.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

To the Republican Voters of Morrow County, Oregon: I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for the nomination of County Clerk at the Primary Nominating Election to be held May 18, 1928.

GAY M. ANDERSON.
(Incumbent)

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination, on the Democratic ticket, for the office of Justice of the Peace for the 6th district of Morrow county, and shall appreciate your support.

E. R. HUSTON.

FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce to the voters of Morrow county that I will be a candidate for the office of sheriff on the Republican ticket, at the primaries, May 18th, 1928.

G. A. BLEAKMAN.

FOR SHERIFF.

To the Democratic Voters of Morrow County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Morrow County, subject to your will to be expressed at the primaries, Friday, May 18, 1928.

WALTER L. MATTESON.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of County Commissioner of Morrow County, at the Primary Election to be held May 18, 1928.

CREED OWEN.

FOR SHERIFF.

To the Republican voters of Morrow County: I hereby announce myself a candidate for nomination to the office of Sheriff of Morrow County, subject to your will at the May primaries.

E. ALBEE.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Republican Voters of Morrow County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for nomination to the office of Superintendent of Schools.

GAY M. ANDERSON.
County Clerk.

Date of first publication, April 12, 1928.
Date of last publication, May 10, 1928.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR MORROW COUNTY.

In the Matter of the Estate of FRED MCKIMMY, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Ladd and Bush Trust Company, the undersigned, has been appointed by the County Court of the State of Oregon for Morrow County, Administrator of the Estate of Fred McKimmy, Deceased. With the Will Annexed and has qualified as such.

All persons who have claims against the estate are hereby notified to present the same, duly verified, as required by law, to the undersigned at the First National Bank in the City of Heppner, Morrow County, Oregon, within six months from the date of the first publication of this notice, which is the 5th day of April, 1928, and the last is the 3rd day of May, 1928.

Dated this 5th day of April, 1928.
LADD AND BUSH TRUST COMPANY, Ancillary Administrator of the Estate of Fred McKimmy, Deceased, With the Will Annexed.

PAGE AND JACOB, Attorneys for Ancillary Administrator of the Estate of Fred McKimmy, Deceased, Ladd and Bush Building, Salem, Oregon.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution and order of sale issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Morrow County, on the 28th day of March, 1928, to me directed in that certain suit in said Court where in Harry Rood, Trustee, Harry Rood and Edgar Anderson, defendants, which judgment was dated March 22nd, 1928, and was for the sum of $10,000, with interest at the rate of Eight per cent per annum from March 11th, 1928, less the sum of $518 credited on said interest; for the further sum of $700 attorney's fee, and plaintiff's costs and disbursements taxed and allowed in the sum of $36.40. I will on Saturday, the 28th day of April, 1928, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. the forenoon of said day, at the front door of the County Court House in Heppner, Morrow County, State of Oregon, offer for sale at public auction and sell to the highest bidder for cash in hand all of the following described real property in Morrow County, State of Oregon, to-wit:

The East half and the Southwest quarter of Section Twenty-five (25), and the North half of Section Thirty-six (36), all in Township Three (3) South, Range Twenty-four (24), E. W. M. or so much of said real property as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's judgment, costs, attorney's fee and accruing costs of sale.

Dated this 29th day of March, 1928.
GEORGE McDUFFEE,
Sheriff of Morrow County, State of Oregon.

LEGAL NOTICES

No. 6718

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR MORROW COUNTY.

In the Matter of the Guardianship of WILLIAM MCKIMMY, A Person of Unsound Mind.

GUARDIAN'S NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the undersigned, Ancillary Guardian of the estate of the above named ward in the State of Oregon, by virtue of an order duly made and entered in the above entitled cause, at the Court of the said County of Oregon, on the 17th day of April, 1928, will sell at private sale, at the offices of Ladd and Bush Trust Company, Ladd and Bush Building, City of Salem, Marion County, Oregon, on or after the 23rd day of May, 1928, to the highest bidder, for cash, all of the above named ward, the said estate being an undivided 3-16 interest as tenant in common, in fee simple, in and to that certain real property, particularly described as