Declamatory Contest

Two of the three students of the high school who entered the declamatory contest received second prize. They were Mary White, humorous, and Imogene McFerrin, dramatic.

Herman Green of the seventh grade won first in the non-humorous division and Annabelle Turner of the sixth won first in the humorous division.

This was the first year for Annabelle Turner and Imogene McFerrin to try their luck. Both Mary White and Herman Green have entered before.

Student Body Meeting

A student body meeting was called April 26 by President Gerald Slocum for the purpose of hearing the treasurer's report and also making an amendment to Article VI of the constitution on election campaigns. The three provisions of the amendment were: Three different political parties are to be formed; each petition must bear name of not more than one candidate for each office except yell leader, in which case there may be two; the student council will set date for electioneering; and, all voting to be secret.

After a brief discussion the meeting was closed.

Pictures of Operetta Cast

Last Wednesday at two o'clock before the matinee of "Tulip Time" had started, pictures of the cast in their costumes were taken by Mrs. Boggs, local photographer. These pictures were of the cast in their respective places on the stage amid the lovely Dutch scenery. Pictures were taken again Thursday afternoon because Mrs. Boggs, on the day previous, had not enough plates for the cast.

Girls' Practice

The girls of the high school are waiting for warmer weather so that baseball practice can begin. Positions on the team have been assigned and they are anxious to try them out.

Grade News

The first grade pupils have completed their picture study booklets and are going to take them home. Dean Gillman of the first grade had a birthday several days ago.

The pupils of the first grade made many baskets Monday, April 30. Both teachers and pupils of the grades are very busy practicing and making costumes for the May Fete. The second grade has had perfect attendance for a week as there were no pupils who were absent or tardy.

The second grade made May day baskets Monday which the children are going to fill with flowers to take home to their mothers.

The pupils of both the fifth and sixth grades made May baskets, Monday, April 30.

The Gypsy band for the May Fete is composed of more than twenty members of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Some of the instruments included in this band are the mandolin, banjo, banjo-uke, ukelele and guitar.

In the Rice arithmetic achievement test given in the fifth grade, Howard Furlong and James Beamer got the highest grades. Their grades were above average because out of the eight problems to be worked in fifteen minutes they missed only one.

In a Rice arithmetic test given in the sixth grade Farris Prock got the highest grade, 100. The A geography class of the sixth grade has finished maps of South America which are being displayed on the walls of their room.

Margaret Missildine was in Walla Walla last week end. In the declamatory contest held April 28, Annabelle Turner won first place in the humorous division and Herman Green first in the non-humorous division.

Annabelle Turner spent a few days in Pilot Rock last week. The Misses Thorpe, Bleakman and Benchoff took in the ball game at Umatilla last week end and on the way home stopped to visit Miss Fredrickson at Stanfield.

The third grade made daffodils Monday for a border in their room. Warren Walker, a third grade pupil, has been absent for several days on account of coming in contact with poison oak. This was the first absence in two weeks.

Helen Kettermen from White Swan, Washington, has registered in the fourth B class. William McCaleb, Howard Cleveland and Lois May Coxen were absent from the fourth grade part of last week.

The winners of the tooth brush essay contest which was conducted in the fifth grade are as follows: Margaret Sprinkel, James Beamer, Gene Kenny, Joe Green and Lydia Ulrich. Following is one of the winning compositions, written by James Beamer.

The Care of the Teeth

The enamel is the natural protection of the teeth, and it is very important that it should not be injured. It is fairly brittle and may easily be chipped, so that one should be careful not to crack hard nuts with the teeth or to pick the teeth with hard objects which might splinter them.

You should eat hard foods like crusty bread, which tends to polish the surface of the teeth and to prevent deposits on them. The teeth should be brushed regularly night and morning at least. It is well to brush them after each meal, because the sooner deposits of food are removed, the better. Once a day a good tooth powder or good tooth paste should be used to aid in cleaning the teeth. Either will help to remove the sticky materials that collect on the teeth.

The tooth brush should not be too large. Both sides and top of the teeth should be thoroughly brushed.

All the upper grades have been furnished with new bats and balls.

All the grades had their pictures taken on the steps of the gymnasium last week.

Miss Benchoff is teaching the fifth and sixth grades folk dances for the May Fete.

Humor

The American history class was thought to be the victim of laughing-gas explosive, when a roar of laughter was heard from their room during the morning hour of class recitation. The teacher had made a peculiar unintentional error while she was calling down one of her pupils.

Whatever the funny error happens to be, it is quite certain that the joke editor will not publish it. He wishes to maintain his good health.

Miss Ede, the music teacher, and Mr. Johnson met in the hall while the music class was singing in the next room.

Miss Ede: "How beautifully they sing."

"Yes," murmured Mr. Johnson, as he happened to be on his way to the laboratory with a handful of crickets. "They produce that noise by rubbing their hind legs together."

Office News

Mr. Johnson has planned the final semester examinations in the high school, to be held on Thursday and Friday, May 17 and 18. The exams will be given under the usual management and supervision of the faculty.

Personals

James M. Burgess, superintendent, has been absent from school on a business trip which has lasted several days. The civics class, of which he is instructor, has had opportunity to catch up with some much needed work during Mr. Burgess' absence.

The high school students' music class enjoyed a report of the music tournament at Pacific University, Jured. It is fairly brittle and may easily be chipped, so that one should be careful not to crack hard nuts with the teeth or to pick the teeth with hard objects which might splinter them.

Announcements Received

The graduation announcements were received by the senior class Tuesday. The announcements are quite plain and less expensive than usual. Nevertheless, the seniors are well pleased with the order. The senior class wishes to extend sincere thanks to the First National bank of Heppner for the graduation gifts presented to its members. The gifts presented were attractive autographed books with title and names engraved in gold.

The various grades held election for May queen last Tuesday. The result was as follows: Irene Hiatt 191, elected; Phyllis Jones 35, Beatrice Thomson 23, Della Ulrich 10, Hazel Beamer 8, Marle Barton 5.

The May festival will be held in the high school gymnasium on Saturday, May 12 at 8 p. m. Queen Irene will reign with Bille Barratt and Lester Taylor as attendants. Flower, girls and various other characters have been chosen for the evening's entertainment.

Chemistry Excitement

A violent explosion awakened the chemistry students from their lethargy in the laboratory on Wednesday morning. Two of the members of the class were performing an experiment in connection with dyeing pieces of cloth. The small porcelain crucible which contained the chemicals, suddenly arrived at the conclusion to fly to parts unknown, and the noise occasioned by this decision was very similar to that of a bomb. Needless to say, the students were terrorized, as small pieces of material bombarded them from the center of attraction.

The visages of the astonished class would have occasioned no small amount of mirth by an onlooker had he happened on the scene at the opportune moment.

KLAMATH MAN CANDIDATE FOR CONVENTION DELEGATE

Klamath Falls, Ore., April 30.—"Hoover for president to insure continued economy and business administration of national affairs" has been chosen as a slogan by Arthur

W. Schaupp of this city, who is a candidate for delegate at large to the Republican national convention at Kansas City. Mr. Schaupp is city attorney of the city of Klamath Falls and has substantial business interests here in addition to his law practice.

Before coming to Klamath Falls three years ago, Mr. Schaupp lived at Enterprise in Wallowa county, where he served as district attorney. He was a member of the Republican central committee there serving five years as chairman and two years as secretary. Later he served on the state committee.

Mr. Schaupp has always been active in civic and fraternal affairs and is a director of the local Klamath club.

COLLEGE MAN ATTACKS BILLS AGAINST FARMER

Oregon State Agricultural College, Corvallis, May 1.—Four bills which if they become laws would seriously affect northwest farmers are in danger of passage by congress, warns G. R. Hyslop, chief in farm crops here, who has sent protests to the Oregon congressional delegation.

These bills or amendments would repeal the present grain standards act now opposed by Minnesota interests, would place all grain inspection in the hands of the federal government, and would throttle preparation of crop statistics and forecasts now developed to a high degree. Regarding the latter, Professor Hyslop points out that large dealers maintain their own information service and that if the government market information was not available the farmers, country dealers and terminal elevators would be left without authentic market information and would be at the mercy of the large operators.
