150 Early Settlers Register for Reunion

Pioneers Expected Here In Large Numbers Tomorrow.

FIRST SHOW TONIGHT

Up to the time we go to press to day, 167 pioneers of Morrow county have placed their names on the register at Gordon's store. It is expected that this number will be largely increased at the reunion tomorrow when Heppner will entertain a very large number of the early settlers of this section. Of the old pioneers, it will be noted from the following list, there are but few remaining, and of those who have resided in what is now Mor-row county, the name of C. A. Rhea stands out as the oldest inhabitant, and from the time of his settlement and from the time of his settlement here in 1864, Mr. Rhea has made this part of Oregon his some, with the exception of a few years of real-dence in Portland. Mr. Rhea came to Oregon in 1852. The list would also indicate that may see were born and raised in this section are ow classed as pioneers.

Friday the pioneers of Morrow county are the special guests of the city and the Chautauqua association. This paper anticipates that there will be a very large gathering here to take in the programs, and they are promised a day of splendid entertainment, with enough time to have social gatherings and hours of intercourse when the "good old times" of the years gone by may be talked over and reminiscences re-

Saturday is to be Pomona Grange Day, and for this occasion there will be a program put on that will be of interest to the members of the various granges of the county, and to the public as well. The program was not sufficiently completed to be given in full in these columns, but one feature is to be an address by A. R. Shumway, master of Uma-A. R. Shumway, master of Uma-tilla Pomona, and it is expected that Chas. Wicklander of Boardman, master of Morrow Pomona will also be present and give an address. Arrangements were not fully con pleted, but an attempt was being made to have the club band from Irrigon here, and it is hoped that this feature of the program will ap-pear. Rhea Creek Grange will have part on the program, as will also Dry Fork, so there is going to be plenty of good entertainment for

The Chautauqua programs begin tonight at the big tent. The features this season are very excellent all down the line, but the initia of last year's six-day circui and one of the great comedies of re-cent years, will open the season. I is a hilarious comedy drama of the American home, and will start of the programs with plenty of mirth and laughter. The entire program is given herewith, and it is expected that record crowds will be pre-ent at every performance.

The Umatilla club has declared they will not accept the action of directors of the Wheatland league, which overruled their protest on the recent Condon game giving the game to Condon, and say they will not participate in the remainder of the schedule unless the league's de-cision is reversed. A meeting was called at Arlington Tuesday eve-ning for the purpose of taking the matter up, but no definite action being taken, it is presumed their for-mer action will stand and that Umatilla will drop out. Just what ef-fect this will have on the games to be played has not yet been demon-strated. Umatilla was scheduled to play at Ione next Sunday.

After its slump of the last two weeks the Heppner club again got into the winning column Sunday, defeating Wasco 6-1 on the local grounds. Heppner appears to be a "homing" team this season, winning every game played at home so far and losing all played away. If this holds true for the remainder of the schedule, they have a good chance at the pennant as all their remaining games will be played here.

Plenty of excitement is in store for ball fans here this week, for besides the league game with Arlington on Sunday the locals will play the Umatilla Indians Friday afternoon, and Arlington in a non league game on Saturday. These games will all start at 3:30, imme diately following the chautauqua programs in the big tent.
