TURNING TO THE FARM. RIMINOLOGISTS seem to be Cturning to the use of the farm in their efforts to solve the crime question. It is beginning to be gener-ally recognized that the wholesome farm atmosphere is not a breeding place for criminals. There are 150 boys at Berkshire Industrial Farm who have been salvaged from the slums of New York or from disrupt-ed homes. These boys, who defled authority, committed lawless acts and gave indications that they would grow up to be thieves and thugs, have been sent to the farm to set their been sent to the farm to get their bearings in life.

After several years at the farm, these "hopeless" boys have learned a trade and are equipped for life. They are kept from landing in reform schools and are made good citizens.

It seems to us that this is about the best plan yet devised for deal-ing with the "problem boy," and that it should be universally adopt-It seems to present a modern ed. and intelligent attack on crime.

This method of handling juvenile delinquency seems to affirm the belief held by many that such delin-quency is more frequent in the big cities than in the smaller towns

EDISON AT EIGHTY-ONE.

HATS off to Thomas A. Edison! The great inventor has just outlined a plan for twenty years' work. He is eighty-one.

That is quite an advanced age for a man to begin work in a new field. But Edison always has been unlike other men. Scoffing at old age, he is personally supervising the construction of a new chemical laboratory in which he will carry on ex tensive rubber experiments. He plans to develop an emergency rub-ber industry in the United States.

The inventor has in mind new devices for use in extracting rubber. it is said. He is devoting his entire time and efforts now to the study of rubber and its possibilities in the United States, and expects this study to keep him busy for the next twenty years.

humbly extend our best We wishes to Mr. Edison, and congratulate him on his discovery of the true secret of longevity-being so interested in some worthy work, so wrapped up in it and fascinated by it that one simply hasn't the time to stop.

How many of us at eighty-one-provided that we reach that venerable age-will be fortunate enough to look forward to a task of twenty years' duration ?

A WISE PRESIDENTIAL ATTITUDE.

THE very essence of business," said President Coolidge recently, "is the expectation of profit on the part of those who conduct it When business is in private hands it is expected to be run for the ben-efit of the owners. When the government steps in, the purchasers, users and beneficiaries of what the government undertakes to supply insist that the concern should be conducted for their benefit. It does not eliminate selfishness; it simply transfers it in part from the seller to the purchaser. "Under these conditions it ceases to be a real business becomes lack-ing in enterprise and initiative, and does not have any motive to provide improved service. "If it is desirable to protect the people in their freedom and inde-pendence, if it is desirable to avoid the blighting effects of monopoly supported by the money of the tax-payer, if it is desirable to prevent the existence of a privileged class, if it is desirable to shield public officials from the influence of propaganda and the acute pressure intrenched selfishness, if it is desirable to keep the government unencumbered and clean, with an eye single to the public service, we shall leave the conduct of our private business with the individual, where it belongs, and not undertake to unload it on the government."

The Fabulous Toad. 31 German Parties. Mr. Rosenwald's Gifts. Pictures and Voice.

A horned toad, known to news paper readers as Rip Van Winkle, is supposed to have lived more than thirty years in a corner stone without air, water or food.

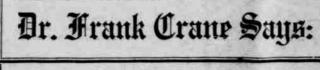

The toad has been seen by many, including the President. Some believe the yarn. The President has not committed himself. When the toad was placed on the President's desk neither said a word.

Now the toad's owner heightens interest, saying that in his dark, airless corner-stone the toad sat next There will be a low mass in the to a Bible, and that noble book enabled him to hold out. Many will believe that. It is a credulous hu- of the pastor, the usual high mass man race.

A NEW COLUMBUS

THE READER may often have wished that he might have lived in that year 1492, when Columbus crossed the watery wastes and discovered a new continent.

But to live in the year of our Lord 1928 and to pick up the morning paper and see that young Lindbergh had completed a trip of 9,000 miles throughout the South American republics and back to St. Louis, on that he has successfully crossed the Atlantic Ocean and landed in Paris is really to live in the age of a new Columbus

He has done what has never been done before. His stock in trade was merely a skilled hand and a clear brain. There was no great capital behind him, no organization that prompted him. He just did it himself.

And as far as I have been able to see, I have found no line in any paper anywhere criticizing him. With one voice the people of all countries have united in exalting Lindbergh. And with all he has carried off his victory so modestly and so humanly as to raise no resentment. For after all there is only one thing we resent in a man, be he great or small, and that is undue egotism.

Nobody voted for him and he was not elected to anything, but he ranks along with Abraham Lincoln and General Grant as one who does things and does them with simplicity and punctuality.

Along with the other millions of the United States I am glad to shy my hat into the ring and to hurrah for Lindbergh! If I were to have another son I think I would call him Lindbergh, for there is no man whose example I would want him to imitate more than Lindbergh's, an exmaple of adventurous youth combined with those sterling qualities of simplicity and modesty which ought to characterize a great man.

After all he does not seem to want anything. He does not ask for our money or our votes. He only wants a chance to go to work at that work which he understands best, which is flying. I hope he will stick to this and show us an example of a man who takes delight in doing that which he can do.

Music, Drawing,

tiously from Mediterranean ports, keeping in sight of land, having no Bold Phoenicians from the eastern end of the inland sea, traders that sold Solomon some of the wonderful things he put into his temple, sailed through the Straits of Gibraltar, into the wild Atlantic, using stars in place of a compass, pushing on to what we call the Brit-ish Islands. That was a wonder.

Yesterday the Italian flier, Umberto Nobile, in his dirigible Italia started through the air for the North Pole, but was forced back by fog and a gale. He took with him a cross, 6 feet long, to be dropped as near to the Pole as possible, and the flag of Pope Pius.

The earth is conquered, sea and air. Will man ever conquer outside space?

an convent will close as a ratification meeting, there is no longer room for any doubt but what it will open as a straight out-and-out contest for supremacy among the various presidential candidates.

The thought was current some time ago that Mr. Hoover might be nominated on the first ballot, and efforts are still being made to ac-complish this, but, while close to the 545 delegates' votes necessary for a nomination, he may fall short of that number on the first roll call. Hoover is in the lead, and by a substantial total over all other candidates, but a first ballot nomination alone would make certain the immediate introduction of ratification festivities.

Hoover, in common with all the other candidates, has suffered from the whispers, rumors, suggestions and confidential stories that at the last moment, the President would accept a nomination. It is just one of those things that is being passed around, but it can be said that there is absolutely no new evidence at hand on this matter which justifies doubting the sincerity of the Aug-ust 2nd statement. These stories, however, have been told with such wealth of detail that they have a large influence in blocking Hoover, so that while close to the top, he has been denied to date at least the votes which would have put him over on the first ballot.

BENEFITS OF GOOD ROADS.

N GOOD ROADS, as in so many many other ways, the United States leads the world. The splendid, safe highways that are common to us, would in many other countries be considered miracles. We can cross entire states, and go from coast to coast, without encountering dangerous roads.

No public investment pays better. A city with good streets is an at-traction to industry and home-seekers; our mountain and couninvitation to investigate new parts. We have come to depend on these good roads and they are now necessities of business and pleasure. Plans are being made for a high-way from this country to South meant to the human race when the ing it easy for foreigners to see and understand the United States, and Moving picture enthusiasts will soon have sound with their pictures. Actors will talk and sing on the screen and news reels will enable rowds to see and HEAR what happens.

Moving picture actors will need cood voices as well as beuatiful teeth, faces, legs and hair. Soon the actor without a good voice will be a moving picture actor no longer.

William Fox and his "Movietone" aided by Walter S. Gifford, of the big telephone company, and Mr. Bloom of the Western Electric, have convinced the moving picture industry that moving pictures in fu-ture will require "sound and fury." Various changes will come, actors with good voices will be imported to Hollywood or moving picture stu-dios will be transferred to places where good voices can be found.

New York State has signed a heck for $33,723,734, the biggest ever drawn by the richest State. The st part of it is that the money will be spent for public schools. Not long ago every State spent
