

Local Happenings

Chas. Allinger was here on Tuesday from Ione. He states that after a trip pretty well over the wheat belt of the county, he is convinced that the crops will be short, unless rain comes soon. The cool weather has had a beneficial effect, but rain is sorely needed to cause the wheat to fill, and spring wheat must have rain if it makes anything. In the Ione district, especially that part of the wheat belt lying north of that city, the grain is now heading rapidly and the grain is forming in the head—just the critical time, and a rain coming now would make a bumper crop. South of that place the conditions are not quite so promising.

C. J. Anderson made Heppner a visit on Monday, looking after matters of business. Mr. Anderson, who farms in the lower Gooseberry section, was not feeling any too sanguine over the crop outlook, stating that he was a little afraid that the necessary rain was being delayed too long. Fall grain was still looking pretty good, but rain is needed to develop it, and this must come soon. Spring grain will make a good crop should more rains hit this section right away.

L. Van Marter, G. A. Blekman and son Roe and Wm. Isom constituted a party of Heppner fishermen who returned Saturday night after having spent a day of successful angling on Crooked river. They secured their limit of fish. Another party consisting of Dr. Baird, Leonard Schwarz, Earl Hallock, Chas. Swindig and others made the trip on Saturday afternoon to Crooked river, but they returned somewhat disappointed as the fish failed to bite for them, so the report goes.

Mrs. Ida Dutton motored up from Portland the end of the week, spending several days here. She was accompanied home by Mrs. J. J. Wightman who had been to Roseburg to attend the meeting of the Rebekah Assembly as a delegate from San Souci lodge of this city.

Patrick E. Burke, district agent for the National Life Insurance company of Vermont, has located permanently in Heppner, after a trip over his territory. Mr. Burke, who recently came here from Salem, is a brother of Mrs. J. J. Nys of this city.

Raymond Ferguson, Louis Frederickson and Harold Hill composed a party who left Heppner early Tuesday morning for East lake to spend a day of fishing. They fully expected to return home with their full quota of the finny tribe.

Harry Huley, who for several years practiced his trade of barbering at Heppner, dropped in for a visit the first of the week. Just now Mr. Huley is taking a little vacation, having recently disposed of a shop in Dufur.

Mrs. T. G. Boggs, who has been conducting the photograph studio here since early last fall, departed with her children for Bingen, Wa., where they joined Mr. Boggs and will make their home in the future.

Miss Gladys Bengt was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eph Ekelson, over the week-end. She returned on Sunday afternoon to Walla Walla where she is a student at Whitman college.

Ray McDuffee arrived in the city the first of the week for a visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McDuffee. Ray had a teaching position in the Bandon high school the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Gentry spent several days in the city from their home at Pendleton this week. Mr. Gentry was here in the interests of his auto agency at Pendleton, and took a trip to Condon.

Henry Clark was here on Tuesday from Ione, bringing their little daughter to the hospital for an operation, the removal of tonsils and adenoids. The little girl is rapidly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Bower, Miss Tichnor of Alpine and Mrs. L. O. Neill of Pine City, who attended the Eastern Oregon convention of the Christian church at Baker last week, returned home on Friday. The party drove to Baker in the Neill car and returned over the John Day highway. This is a rather round-about way to get back from Baker and requires traveling many extra miles, but no one regrets the extra time and mileage, as it is a wonderful trip. These people report a very excellent meeting of the churches in the E. O. convention.

Dr. A. H. Johnston and D. A. Wilson arrived home Friday evening from East lake, where they spent a day or so angling for the big fish. They got the fish, and incidentally took on a goodly portion of sunburn. The G. T. force are under obligations to these gentlemen for a fine mess of mountain trout.

Mrs. E. F. Day came up from Portland on Thursday last for a visit with her sisters, Mrs. Melissa Marlatt and Mrs. Ellen Buseick, in this city. Mrs. Day and Mrs. Buseick, accompanied by Jon Conder, motored to John Day on Sunday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Buseick.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Huston motored to Baker on Sunday, where they have been spending the week visiting with a sister of Mrs. Huston, Mrs. Fuller and her daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Huston are expected home today.

Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McMurdo and children took in the air derby at Walla Walla Sunday and while there Mr. and Mrs. McMurdo enjoyed a fight in the air.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, and Misses Odile and May Groshens were here from Portland on Memorial Day, driving up from the city on Tuesday.

Tom West, representing a life insurance company, spent a couple of days in Heppner from his home at Portland the first of the week.

Henry Aiken arrived the first of the week from Portland for a visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Aiken.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rice of Portland enjoyed meeting old friends here while in the city over Memorial Day.

Heppner, Oregon

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford, Mrs. Frank S. Parker and Mrs. W. J. Beymer returned Friday from Baker where they spent three days the past week in attendance upon the Eastern Oregon convention of the Churches of Christ. They report a very interesting gathering of church people in the Baker county capital and splendid entertainment by the Baker folks. The party returned home via Dooley mountain and the John Day highway and pronounce this one of the finest trips any one can take over the highway system of Oregon.

While returning from Baker the past week, Heppner people enjoyed a pleasant little visit with Mr. and Mrs. Reid Buseick at John Day. Mr. and Mrs. Buseick are nicely located in the metropolis of the John Day valley, where Mr. Buseick is engaged in the mercantile business and enjoying a good trade. These young people are always very pleased to have a call from Heppner folks who may be passing that way.

Mrs. Elizabeth Keeney, accompanied by her sisters, Mrs. Otto Metuchan and Miss Juanita Matlock, drove up from Portland on Tuesday and remained over until Wednesday afternoon. The ladies were entertained while at Heppner by L. L. Matlock, their cousin.

Mrs. J. B. Cooley, accompanied by Miss Maude Maxwell, drove over from Pendleton Wednesday morning and spent Memorial Day here. The ladies were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Crawford, being sisters.

Mrs. M. Belle Thompson came up from her Portland home the first of the week and is a guest at the Willow creek home of her son, Ralph Thompson. Mrs. Thompson was one of the very early pioneer settlers of the Heppner country.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Vincent came over from Umapine on Tuesday to attend the Memorial Day services here on Wednesday. They were guests at the home of Mrs. Mattie Adkins, mother of Mrs. Vincent, while in the city.

C. L. Sweek and family motored to Eugene this week for a short visit with relatives there.
