PHILL COHN PASSES AFTER OPERATION

Was Long a Resident and Prominent Business Man Here.

Following an operation performed at Portland on Wednesday of last week, Phill Cohn, for long years a prominent business man of Heppner, passed away on Thursday evening, at the age of 67 years.

Mr. Cohn had been at Heppner for pioneer day and to look after business affairs here, when he was taken ill and hurried to his Portland home and soon after arriving in the city submitted to the operation from which he failed to rally. He was a sufferer from serious stomach trouble, but had not really been ill but a very short time, though it is evident that his trouble had been coming on for some four or five years.

This last trip to Heppner seemed to have been impressed upon Mr. Cohn as his farewell visit here, and before leaving for Portland he bid many of his friends good-bye and expressed the belief that he would not visit here again. Friends who parted with him at this time state that he was in a very cheerful mood. He had arranged all his business affairs, and was ready to undergo the operation which he realized was but a slight hope, and stated that he was fully prepared to go. The operation appeared quite successful at first, but this was only temporary and his condition became alarming early on Thursday because of his heart condition, the end was rapid. Members of the family here hurried to Portland, but were unable to reach the city before Mr. Cohn passed away.

Funeral services were held on Monday at 10:30 a. m., at the chapel of Holman and Lutz, with final rites at Portland crematorium. Active pall bearers from this city were H. A. Duncan, L. V. Greeny, L. Van Marter and Dr. A. H. Johnston. The funeral was attended by many who went down from Heppner and by the large number of former residents of this county now living in the city. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Phill Cohn was born in Shaasta, Calif., November 13, 1861, and as a young man he came to Heppner in 1877, taking a position in the general mercantile store of Heppner & Blackman, his uncle. He continued to live at Heppner for about 45 years, during all of which time he followed merchandising and warehousing. In business Mr. Cohn was very successful, and accumulated a neat fortune. He was an outstanding figure in the business affairs of this community, and there are a great many residents of this county who will testify to the splendid assistance they had received in a financial way from him through many years of stress; he was ever ready to stand behind the man who was struggling along on farm and ranch, and by his timely financial help assisted many of our citizens in getting on their feet. These all have a kindly word for their late benefactor, and express sincere sympathy because of his departure. He was a good citizen of this community and always interested in the upbuilding of Heppner as the best little town on the map. In his death the entire community has lost a good friend and his going is sincerely regretted by a very large host of our people who have been so long associated with him.

The marriage of Mr. Cohn to Henrietta Goldstone took place at San Francisco on May 4, 1892. Three children were born to this union, Harold A., Henry P. and Elinor. These with the widow survive, the two boys being residents of this city and engaged in business here, while the daughter resides with her mother at Portland, where she has been for many years. She has a family of four children, the two boys being in the service of the United States Army. Her surviving relatives are Mr. Cohn's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cohn, and two brothers, Jerry and Dr. Jacob Cohn, and a sister, Mrs. William E. Stark, all residents of Boise, Idaho; two sisters, Mrs. C. A. Magaw of Holtville, and Mrs. Sarah Moar of Beverly Hills, Calif.

He was a charter member of Heppner Lodge No. 358, B. P. O. Elks, and also Dedic Lodge No. 20, K. of P., in which order he held membership until recently.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the many friends for their kindly expressions of sympathy, and for the many beautiful floral offerings, especially do we wish to thank the many Heppner friends who journeyed to Portland to be present with us at the burial of our beloved husband and father.

Mrs. Henrietta Cohn and Family.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent by fourteen little girls on last Monday at the Frank S. Parker farm in celebration of their daughter Kathryn's eighth birthday. Various games occupied the hours, and refreshments of cake and ice cream were served. Those present were Mary Eleanor Adkins, Maridie Brown, Louise Anderson, Irene Beaumer, Harriet Hager, Ella Ohleschlagger, Elsie Crump, Jane and Viola Kirk, Olivia Baldwin, Betty Happold, Adele Bower, Lois Jones and Kathryn Parker.

SWAN-SPAULDING WEDDING.

The auditorium of the Heppner Methodist church was made into a perfect bower of early summer flowers to serve as a background for the marriage of Miss Marguerita Fay Spaulding, daughter of the Rev. Charles W. Swan, of Salem, which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Mr. Spaulding. Sprays, pink poppies and pink roses were massed to provide a setting of unusual beauty. The bride wore robin's-egg blue georgette, with lace trimming, and her attendant, Miss Lola Millard of Salem, was dressed in deep pink. Mr. Lee Spaulding, brother of the bride, came from Seattle to act as best man for Mr. Swan.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Jack Vinsler of Salem sang "Because" and "At Dawning." Miss Frances Hodge, also of Salem, accompanied him at the piano. She also played the wedding marches, using Lohengrin's as a processional and Mendelssohn's as a recessional. Before Mr. and Mrs. Swan left for Salem, where they will make their home, an impromptu reception was held for them downstairs in the church parlors. Refreshments were served to about seventy-five guests.—Contributed.

New Grass Success On Alkali Ground

Last season, through the efforts of County Agent Smith, an experiment was made with a new grass that is especially adapted to alkali ground. This plant is known as Zawadke's Alkali Grass, raised by John Zawadke of Marion, Montana.

The first planting was from a hand full of seed on the Chas. Valentine place, and it was about 18 months before the blades of grass began to come. Seeding more ground from a bunch of the grass from the first crop, the new plants put in their appearance promptly, and now Mr. Valentine has quite a showing. A cutting from the crop this season is about three feet in height, and Mr. Zawadke, who raises the grass quite extensively now, says it will produce about four tons to the acre of good forage for stock, and Mr. Valentine states further, that the stock like it.

The Zawadke Alkali grass appears to be a success, and it is now being raised in many parts of the country on alkali ground where no other forage will grow, thus making this land of some value. A number of other creek farmers are now experimenting with this grass, and it will not be long until it is raised in sufficient quantities to prove its value as a feed for stock. The grass has just a tinge of salty taste, sufficient to make it attractive to stock and they eat it well. A sample of the grass is now on display in the office of Mr. Smith.

ITINERARY TO MORO.

Sunday, June 17, has been set aside by D. E. Stephens, superintendent of the Moro Experiment station as Morrow county day. Present plans, according to C. W. Smith, are to leave Heppner at 8 o'clock and travel to Moro by way of McNab, Rock creek and Arlington. As it has been reported that the wheat section immediately south of Blalock has a better prospect for a crop this year than last, the caravan will leave the highway at Blalock and the route will be through the wheat section coming back to the river at Quinton thence to Moro for lunch. Anyone desiring to make this trip should inform the county agent as he would like to know how many are going and whether or not any can hall an extra passenger, or if you do not have transportation, so that it can be arranged for.

AUXILIARY TO HERMISTON.

Several members of the American Legion Auxiliary motored to Hermiston Tuesday evening to attend a dinner and meeting of the Hermiston unit. The Auxiliary is very sorry to lose one of its members, Mrs. O. B. Flory, who is moving this week to Yakima. She will be greatly missed, but the best wishes of the unit go with her.

The next meeting is on June 19th, and as it is the last meeting before summer vacation, a large attendance is desired. Each member is asked to bring "two bits" to ante in a big surprise. The hostesses will be May Gilliam and Harriet Gemmill.—Reporter.

Plan Hot Lunches For School in Winter

At a school lunch demonstration at Rhea Creek Grange hall on Monday, June 4, given by Miss Lucy A. Case of Oregon Agricultural College extension service, a great deal of interest and support was shown in favor of the proposition of a hot lunch dish in the schools next winter, and the following committees were appointed by the chairman, for the purpose of talking over the possibilities of a hot school lunch in these communities, and if possible to put it into operation for the children's welfare by the time cold weather comes again.

The committees are: Hardman school: Mrs. J. W. Stevens, chairman; Mrs. Harlan Adams, Mrs. Hattie Bleakman. Social Ridge school: Mrs. Lavilla Howell, chairman; Mrs. Roy Campbell, Mabel Gray. Heppner: Miss Lulu Hager, chairman; Mrs. F. R. Brown, Mrs. Charles W. Smith. Rood Canyon school: Mrs. Joe Batty, chairman; Mrs. Jim Hams, Mrs. Floyd Adams.

It was suggested that the chairmen of these committees call their members together at the first opportunity and discuss arrangements suitable for their particular conditions and circumstances.

In some of the smaller schools, mothers take turns in bringing a kettle of hot soup or other suitable dish to school from home. At Island City each mother went to school once a week and prepared the one hot dish, and no charge was made. The food was contributed at "pound parties" given by the parent-teacher association. At Midland, which is operating the hot school lunch very successfully under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Ahearn, the Women's club pays a good cook $10 a month to make hot soup, and the older girls serve it in very orderly fashion. Milton parents who can afford to pay, contribute 50 cents per month, and the club gives an entertainment to earn the remaining expense money, which amounts to about $14.00 a month. At Imbler and Cove, the girls' cooking classes prepare a hot dish which is sold at around five cents per serving. Another method is for each child to bring a small glass jar from home containing food to be warmed over at school and the water is heated shortly before noon. Thermos bottles are found useful by some, but children usually enjoy more the things that they share together.

Miss Case believes that the hot lunch dish does most good when every child gets a serving of one hot dish from a common kettle, and where the children are not required to bring cash each day, and where only one dish is served and that one dish is a hot dish.

Better school work better discipline, fewer days lost from school, and less malnutrition was reported from those schools that have the advantage of the hot school lunch. It is believed that much of the indigestion and other weakening digestive troubles among adults, has its origin in the irregularity of eating by the school child, the hurried eating, the inadequate noon meal, and the "picnicking" on sweets after school. The hot lunch dish at noon at school means a more balanced meal, slower eating and better digestion, eating more at meal time and less in between meals, better manners, and more enjoyment of the noon hour.

Another valuable step toward progress in healthful conditions for the school child is the custom for all of the children to sit down with the teacher for fifteen minutes to eat, whether they have a hot dish or not. Where the desired sixty minutes can not be arranged for the noon session, forty minutes, or forty-five minutes and not less than thirty-five minutes, with more time for eating, for outdoor play, for toilet habits, and for relaxation and rest.

The meeting last week was the last of a series of three well attended meetings on foods for health, organized last February by Charles W. Smith, county agent. The chairman of nutrition work are Miss Nellie Wright and Mrs. J. W. Stevens, and they are to be congratulated on their excellent work and accomplishments.

Arthur W. Smith, of Spokane, installed for Edward Chinn a grand model Mills Violano-Virtuoso on Tuesday, and the beautiful instrument has been an object of interest and admiration at the Elkhorn restaurant since. This musical instrument is a combination of violin and piano, mechanically operated, the music being played from rolls. It is worked by a small electric motor, and of course a nickel has to be placed in the slot before the music will start. Around about the restaurant, in convenient places are receptacles for receiving the contribution, and these receptacles are connected with the instrument by electric wires, so that any customer desiring to listen to a piece of music places his coin in the slot, the connection is made and the music begins. One hearing the instrument would think that at least a 5-piece orchestra were playing, but it is actually just a real violin and piano. The instrument is manufactured by the Mills Novelty company, of Chicago, and is pronounced by the U. S. government as one of the eight greatest inventions of the decade. Its installation by Mr. Chinn adds to the popularity of the Elkhorn and his customers will now be entertained at all hours with excellent music.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Flory are leaving this week for Yakima, Wash., where Mr. Flory will enter the employ of the Yakima Hardman company, with which firm he formerly held a position. For the past year and a half Mr. Flory has been in charge of the local station of the Standard Oil company, and he resigned the position to take the place with the Yakima firm, his resignation becoming effective on Saturday. During their stay at Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. Flory have been active in social and fraternal circles, and the many friends they have made here regret that they have decided to leave Heppner.

SOFT RED WINTER WHEAT AT PREMIUM

Market Review Predicts Total Yield 1,000,000 Bushels Low.

(O. S. A. C. Extension Service.)
Corvallis, Oregon, June 11.—Summarizing recent forecasts of wheat production it appears that the total production may be about 100,000,000 bushels less than was harvested in the United States last year. During the month of May, winter wheat generally improved in condition, except in the western states, but spring wheat declined to the lowest condition on record except in 1926. There may be as much or more hard red winter wheat as last year, but there will be a very short crop of soft red winter. Stocks of old wheat are believed to be no larger than a year ago, with soft low protein kinds scarce. World supplies are said to be smaller than a year ago, stocks of spring wheat being relatively more abundant than of winter wheat. No important recent changes in wheat prospects abroad have been reported.

The rye crop is expected to be very small both in the United States and in Europe. In fact it is said that the rye prospect is the poorest since the small crop of 1924. This gives additional strength to bread grain, offsetting to some extent the weakening influence of somewhat improved crop conditions last week which caused some decline in cash and future prices. Corn declined because of favorable new crop prospects, but flax was firmer because of delayed and good demand. Barley and oats were about steady, although barley markets were dull.

The hay markets are generally steady and seasonably firm with prices seeking adjustment to conflicting influences arising from heavy old crop surpluses and poor new crop prospects. Alfalfa and clover markets are reported much damaged in the eastern and central eastern states, so that dairymen in these districts may be compelled to buy western alfalfa before next year. Alfalfa prices have tended steadily upward since the beginning of last season at the principal markets, the average price of No. 1 having advanced from $18.00 a ton to $26.00 from the middle of August to the middle of May. The limited supply of good alfalfa has been mostly responsible for the advance.

New crop hay is now being marketed in the southwest and the movement is said to be brisk with quotations holding quite steady on green, leafy hay suitable for dairy purposes, although there is some tendency for the markets to move downward toward a new crop basis with the season. Pacific coast markets are featured by less demand and heavier offerings. Pastures continue in relatively poor condition, but pasturage is available in sufficient quantity to cause a seasonal decline in demand for feeds.

BRAY FOUND NOT GUILTY.

Before Judge Fee on Monday, the case of State of Oregon vs. Walter Bray was heard before a jury. Dist. Atty. Notson prosecuted, and C. L. Sweek defended Mr. Bray. This is a case that has been pending in court for a long time, and grew out of the accident occurring on the O.-W. highway at a point near Morgan in August, 1925, when the truck driven by Bray bumped the truck driven by Vernon Jones into the ditch and Jones was smashed up. An indictment followed soon, but the case was slow coming to trial. Jones in the meantime had brought suit against Bray and others for personal damages, and this was decided in his favor at a trial of the case last year. Both Bray and Jones are Irrigon residents, and the latter was the complaining witness, and E. C. Heliker of Ione was the other witness for the state. Appearing as witnesses for Bray were defendant, ant, and Richard Lane and John Buerster. The jury were: T. C. Beyer, M. E. Martin, W. L. Copenhaver, Roy Missildine, David Hynd, Ralph Humphrey, Thomas O'Brien, R. A. Thompson, W. L. Blakeley, W. O. King, C. E. Carlson and Virgil Warren. They returned a verdict of not guilty.

By shutting out Condon, 3-0, on Rodeo field Sunday, the locals dropped the leaders down a notch, at the same time raising their own percentage, and giving at least two other teams a chance for championship should Wasco defeat Condon next Sunday. Condon still has a one-game lead over Heppner, Ione and Wasco who are tied for second position. In the last scheduled games next Sunday Heppner meets Ione here and Wasco journeys to Condon. If Wasco should defeat Condon, Wasco and the winner of the Heppner-Ione game will be in a three-cornered tie for championship honors. If Condon wins, he gets the pennant and the Wheatland league season will be closed.

Heppner's "at home" jinx is still going strong. All the breaks in Sunday's game were in their favor, and they played invincible ball along with it. Never did it look like Condon had a ghost of a show.

"Ducky" Drake pitched ball as he had never pitched before, and the long touted "one bad inning" bug failed to arrive. But six Condon men reached first base, two reached second and one third, on five hits off Drake, and two errors, one of which was a wild pitch—the first to be recorded against "Ducky" this season. He has thrown a few wild ones but this was the first too wild for LaMear to stop. This allowed one of the two Condon men to reach second. The other error was on Hiler at shortstop, who waited on a slow grounder which he fielded clean but threw wild to first base. Drake walked one batter and struck-out eleven. Clow, opposing pitcher, was out four times via this route.

In the hitting department Ducky was again responsible for his name being written, "winning pitcher." He made one of the three tallies and drove in the other two. In the first inning Van Marter took first base when Baker at third muffed his grounder, and scored on Drake's three-bagger over the centerfield fence, after Erwin and LaMear had both been taken in by Rannow at first. Drake's blow would have been good for a homer but for the fast recovery made by Brown in the center lot. Hoskins' high fly to Brown ended the inning.

The other two tallies were made in the fifth. Erwin, first up, took first on Willmott's bungle of his boulder. LaMear replaced him on a fielder's choice, and was advanced to third by Drake's single. He then scored when Mr. Clow, becoming agitated, threw one some twelve feet over the catcher's head, Drake taking third. Drake scored on Hoskins' Texas leaguer over short. Cason, out pitcher to first, and Thorn's tippy-up to third, completed the rally.

Condon had the heart taken out of them in the first inning, and failed to recuperate. Ashenfelter, lead-off, singled when Baker hit in to a double-play. Hiler to Van Marter to Erwin. The double was pulled so fast that Baker failed to reach first base by eight feet. Then Willmott singled and died on first when Van Marter speared Brown's turn-burner with one hand and threw him out before Brown had hardly dropped his bat. Van's was a beautiful stop, and cut off what looked to be a perfect hit.
