THE GOD-GIVEN MIRACLE.

IN A LITTLE out of the way farm house away down the road, many miles from the much-beloved Main Street, where in his sprightlier days he had lived an active and colorful life as the leading town politician...

Once the cynosure of the eyes of the community, a moving spirit in all the town activities, but now practically a hermit—for years he had hardly ventured out of his little farm house. Even his eyes seemed to have failed him so that he could hardly read his local newspaper.

Unexpectedly he was presented with a radio, and he has since become a different man. His interest in life has been renewed.

Suddenly, out of the miracle that is called radio, come to him the speeches and sounds and cheers and even the spontaneous demonstrations of a great National Political Convention. To his ears are carried the hoarse cheers of delegates for their favorite candidates.

And what has happened to this old man, is happening in every part of the country to thousands and thousands of bed-ridden invalids and shut-ins.

What a blessing has been this God-given miracle.

THE STATE PRESS IS PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS in condemning the light vote at this year's primary, but we have yet to note any newspaper has suggested a remedy.

AN EXAMPLE OF PROMPT JUSTICE. FROM the Baker Herald we have this sample of speedy justice in Baker county:

The public authorities of Baker county have just performed a feat that comes very close to setting a record for the entire country. Friday evening about 7 o'clock two young toughs from the east attacked a man in a local hotel room...

By 3 p. m. the following day, 20 hours after the crime was committed, the young would-be tough guys had gone into court and had been sentenced to 10 years in the Oregon penitentiary.

What a blessing has been this God-given miracle.

Dr. Frank Crane Says:

THE MAN WHO KEEPS HIS WORD

IT IS like the shadow of a great rock in a weary land to run across as we do occasionally, a man who keeps his word.

You may be able to sue on written promises and contracts put in writing, which are usually binding, but somehow the man who does not keep his word strictly is a slippery customer and it is hard to get hold of him, even with a piece of writing.

The fundamental security for a man doing what he promises is, after all, character.

If a man has character and is upright you are safer in lending him money than if he gives you a mortgage on his farm. Doing business with a liar is never satisfactory.

It is easy to detect the strictly honest person. When he owes you money he does not avoid you, but openly and frankly pays you something on account right along, if he cannot pay the whole amount.

The test of the fundamentally honest man is his punctuality in meeting his engagements or in frankly explaining to you why those engagements cannot be met.

The courts are full of people trying to evade their plain engagements. A man who is in debt sincerely tries to meet that debt whether it hurts him or not.

The good loser, the man who loses and yet is cheerful is the man who is after all one of the chief pillars of the social fabric.

that country weekly newspapers are the most important organs of public opinion and protectors of public welfare.

What is the matter with our children? Not much, but a great deal is the matter with some parents. The police are hunting for a little girl, ten years old, invited to go to a party by a plausible man, fifty eight years old.

Miss O'Brien, adventurous young explorer, returns to St. Paul, Minn., disappointed in all the African pygmies. She shot all kinds of game, endured all kinds of hardship and says Africa is all right for a woman, but a little too rough for a man.

Fiji Islanders, bushy haired, active, gave a warm welcome to the monoplane Southern Cross, landed at Suva.

Those Fijians once had an annoying habit of eating white men. This time they only cheered them. The fliers have beaten all records, including Lindbergh's long distance flight over water.

The next hop, 1,700 miles, will take the fliers to Brisbane, Australia, on the way to Sydney. The world is really flying.

The 250 Fiji Islands, about eighty of them inhabited, belong to old grandmother Britannia. She rarely overlooks anything.

Crops in the corn belt have taken an upward turn. The Arkansas River Valley reports, "Wheat will make thirty-five bushels to the acre."

Without accumulated money Niagara Falls wouldn't be harnessing, the Panama Canal, which helps Britain as much as it does us, wouldn't be dug; automobile production wouldn't be on a quantity basis and this country would have, perhaps, 240,000 expensive automobiles, instead of 24,000,000 inexpensive automobiles.

Great accumulations of capital, like great accumulations of water going down hill, represent power. Elimate accumulated capital, and you would eliminate possibilities of higher civilization.

Kansas City Echoes to G. O. P. Convention

Senator Fess Makes Brilliant Keynote Speech; Colorful Figures at Conclave.

Everywhere there were prominent women who took an active part in the convention—Mrs. Longworth, daughter of the late President Roosevelt, was among the most active. The women delegates were fewer in number than at the previous Republican convention, but over so much more "thrilled" and interested and participated actively in all convention affairs.

One of the sergeant-at-arms assigned to keep order during the convention was a woman, Miss Mary Elizabeth Baker, daughter of Governor Baker of Missouri.

Two outstanding planks in the Republican platform were on prohibition and farm relief. The influx of protesting farmers to Kansas City was not as great as expected.

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio stressed prosperity in his brilliant, spectacular keynote speech. Said Senator Fess: "Today we are in the longest period of sustained business prosperity in our history. To continue free from the cycle of business depression is the prime concern of leadership in industry."

The ruling ambition of Republican leadership is to insure the maximum prosperity of all our people, and especially of those employed in agriculture and industry.

The problem of agriculture from a producer's standpoint is a more equitable distribution of what the consumer of food has to pay.

The farmer's complaint is not that the consumer does not pay enough, but of what he pays the producer does not get his rightful share.

Senator Fess said that our foreign commerce is approaching the bewildering figure of ten billion dollars per year. He also stressed that the party still held "to the doctrine of our fathers to avoid alliances."

The busiest hotel corridor in the city was that leading to the rooms of Mellon and Senator Borah. These two leaders were being constantly consulted.

The youngest delegate to the convention was Oso Cobb, 24, a member of the Arkansas legislature. Kansas City hotels estimated that they received about $103,000 a day, spent by visitors.

The chief-door-keeper at the convention was Col. Glenn C. Haynes of Des Moines. The second in command was John N. Johnson of Lawrence, Kan., who held the same post at the Cleveland convention in 1924.

More than 200 messenger boys were on duty at the hall. Extra telegraph facilities for the convention cost over a hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Sixty-eight stations were joined in an elaborate network from coast to coast to broadcast the convention over the radio. The millions who "attended" the convention via radio got the complete proceedings and were in on every phase of the convention, as microphones were placed in all parts of the floor and balconies.
