

BOARDMAN

Thursday Mrs. Dingman has not been well for some time.

Ves. Attorneys have been selling quantities of dew berries. They are especially fine this year.

Mrs. Marion Van Meter and new baby daughter came this week from The Dalles and are at their home at Messner.

Boardman people who attended the funeral of Mrs. William Wilson in Heppner on Tuesday of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Slevin, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Farley, Mike Marshall and daughter Cathleen, Joe Curran, Johnnie McNamee and Mr. Holboke.

The Joslyn McCallister rock crusher which has been at Willow creek the past two months moved to a place between Echo and Reith this week. The local men who are employed went along to the new location.

Cathleen Marshall is the owner of a fine new player piano. Mrs. Duggan has the one Cathleen formerly owned.

Boardman Grangers are busy with preparations for the meeting of Pomona Grange here Saturday, July 7. Mrs. Ed Kunze, who is lecturer, has an excellent program planned. The morning and evening sessions are closed except to grange members but the afternoon meeting is open to the public. Mr. Butler of The Dalles, who will no doubt be Nick Sinnott's successor at Washington, D. C., will be given an opportunity to tell the people just why he should be elected and just how much he will do for farm relief if elected. Wm. Teutsh of Corvallis will speak on "Pacific Coast Population and Agricultural Markets." In the evening Greenfield Grange will exemplify the fifth degree work. A marvelous dinner will be served at noon and a lunch in the evening.

Miss Mary Carty of Tub Springs spent last Wednesday with her friend, Cathleen Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skuzeski of Heppner were dinner guests Sunday at the Farley home.

Bill Gill is visiting on the project for several days. He has been under the weather for some time.

All but three or four persons on the project who were possessors of "hound dawgs" were served with a warrant last week for failure to pay the tax on said dogs. A number of people who had conscientiously paid their dog tax the previous years, finding that they were the exception rather than the rule, just naturally failed to pay it the next time and a sudden incursion from the sheriff's office brought nearly all the ranchers and a few townspeople into the toils of the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Slavin and Mrs. Margaret Farley spent Sunday of last week at the Marshall home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Macomber and baby of Condon were week end visitors with relatives in Boardman.

C. G. Elayden has been under the weather for some time suffering with "painful and inflamed suppurating tumors" on his face—in other words suffering with boils which have caused him acute agony.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith and family, after a month's visit in Spokane, have gone to CleElum, Wash., where Mr. Smith is employed with a crew doing some construction work.

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spagle had Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins and daughter, their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Arnold and son Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Packard and Howard, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Miller as guests for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schriever and baby of Lexington were guests Sunday at the Nick Falter home. Late in the afternoon they were greatly surprised to have Mrs. J. W. McNeil and son Gordon and friend Miss Gertrude Swartz of Portland drive in for a short visit. They were on their way to Pennsylvania by motor. The Portland visitors drove over to Schrievers and remained overnight.

Helen Mead returned home Monday after spending some time in The Dalles with relatives.

S. H. Benson and son of Meacham were guests Saturday at the Weston home. Mr. Benson is an old friend of Mr. Weston and at one time worked for the O.-W. R. & N. company at Castle Rock, where they both lived.

Miss Mary Carty of Tub Springs was a guest over Monday night at the Mead home. She left Tuesday for Portland.

Erma Broyles went to Portland where she joined Ethel, both going to Rockaway Beach for a month.

CHARIS

THE most important addition to women's garments in years. The one thing that will enable you to go without a regular corset and yet improve your figure and have the vital support every woman needs, no matter how slender she may be. For stout women, CHARIS is indispensable.

This marvelous, adjustable, one-piece garment is so light in weight you won't know you have it on. It keeps the abdomen flat and helps reduce it. And gives a smooth straight line from bust to knee. Comfortable, but is peerless in comfort and body-freedom.

Demonstration cheerfully given in your own home. Write or phone.

RATHER UNUSUAL

Turn In Your Toes and Live Long.

Oklahoma City, Okla. (Auto-caster)—Dr. W. Lee Austin, attending the Southern Convention of Chiropractors, says persons who walk pigeon-toed may live to be centenarians. This is the way he explains it:

"One step in six is saved in walking slightly pigeon-toed because one rises higher on his feet and consequently takes longer strides. Pointing the toes outward causes the body to be thrown out of alignment, thus inflicting the hip bone and spine.

"Spinal trouble means worry and disruption of the nervous system, and upset nerves lead to indigestion."

Farmer Finds Out His "Ghost" May Not Him a Fortune.

Campbellfort, Ont., (Auto-caster)—Frank Keating, Seymour Township farmer, expects to be made fabulously rich by the most terrifying "ghost" ever raised in this section.

In Keating's house there has been blood-curdling pounding under the floors, the water has been unfit to drink, and other manifestations led to the belief that a ghost was making it a habit.

The scare created caused extensive investigation, and it developed that the strange disturbances were caused by a natural gas escaping in the Keating cellar. Now Keating has got in touch with oil companies, and expects oil men to take options on the farm.

He believes that either oil or gas underlies his whole farm. At various points throughout the district gas has been found in small quantities when wells were dug.

Saved From Suicide by Cop's Threat.

New York (Auto-caster)—Philip Leary decided to commit suicide, and jumped off a pier in the East River.

A policeman saw him, concluded he was drowning and threw him a rope. He did not touch it.

The rope sank beside him, the policeman hauled it out and made another cast. Again he spurned it. The policeman then understood the man was committing suicide, and drew his pistol.

"If you don't come out of the water at once I'll shoot you," threatened the officer of the law.

Leary, who had jumped in to end it all, clambered out of the water lest he be killed!

FARM POINTERS.

(O. A. C. Extension Service)

Many new alfalfa seedings thru Oregon are rather weedy at this season, reports G. R. Hyslop, agronomist of the experiment station, following an extensive trip. It is desirable now to clip such fields to prevent shading the alfalfa. Where planting is not weedy it is best left to the bloom stage when it can be cut for hay.

Frequent inquiries regarding the cause of paralysis are being received from Oregon poultrymen by the poultry pathologist at the experiment station. While the cause is not definitely known, opinion is that the disease results from some form of infection where rigid sanitation is not carried out, says Dr. W. T.

Johnson. The chief points to bear in mind in sanitation are rearing fowls in small units of not to exceed 500 chicks, using new ground for brooding and distributing the fowls out on the range as soon as possible.

This season is the best time to decide from what part of a grain field seed will be saved for next year, remind the farm crop specialists. A good method is to go thru this part of the field and pull out mixed varieties, vetch, wild radish, cockle and other inseparable weeds. Wild radish in particular is increasing as a serious pest in grain fields.

Cane maggots which cause "limber neck" on new shoots of black-caps and loganberries are not of serious economic importance in Oregon unless the supply of new canes is scanty. In such cases the injured canes are cut off below the girdle made by the maggot and removed from the field and destroyed. Red raspberry canes are frequently attacked but usually recover and destroy the maggots by their rapid growth.

NEW RATES NOW EFFECTIVE.

Beginning July 1st books sent from and returned to free public libraries receive a greatly decreased rate provided in a bill recently passed by Congress, and amended through the efforts of the Oregon State library and the Oregon senators, following the library's protest against a proposed increase. The new rate omits altogether the former service charge of two cents per package, reduces the cost of the initial pound from five and six cents to a flat rate of three cents, throughout the state. All additional pounds in the third zone will cost one cent instead of two cents each. The state thus becomes one zone for library books, which receive a preferential rate.

The State library in 1927 sent out to its patrons 23,631 packages of books. The initial saving on these, regardless of zone and weight, would be $1,150, which will accrue to the benefit of the country patrons of the library, as they refund the postage charges when the books are returned. The State library estimates a saving of from $3,000 to $3,500 a year to its patrons, and a great increase in the mail order use of state, county and city libraries. Senator Steiwer gave this bill special attention in response to the requests of the trustees of Oregon state and county libraries.

Common Sense Facts---

A merchant doesn't invest his money for advertising merely to see his name in print.

He is too much of a business man to part with his dollars unless there is a good prospect of obtaining a legitimate return upon his investment.

He doesn't advertise goods that he can't recommend, because he knows he can't fool all the people all the time, and that such a policy would eventually put him out of business.

He doesn't gouge his customers, because he knows they would go elsewhere and buy for less money, and that would be the end of him.

It is reasonable to presume, then, that when he does advertise an article, that article is worth having and the price is within reason.

When you buy from a local merchant, that merchant's reputation for square dealing is behind the goods you buy.

Keep these common sense facts in mind when you go to buy and make the advertisements your guide, and you will make no mistake.
