

Local Happenings

N. J. Van Skike of Freewater, who is extensively engaged in producing white leghorn chickens, was a visitor at Heppner Monday, bringing over a bunch of young chickens, that he delivered to E. R. Driskoll at Eight Mile. Mr. Van Skike was at one time editor of the Milton Eagle, and used to attend the state editorial meetings along with the editor of this paper. He retired several years ago to undertake the job of making an honest living, and has finally gone up against the chicken producing game on a wholesale scale, his equipment at first being able to hatch 400 chicks has now increased to 11,000 per hatching, and he ships his production out under the trademark of "Vigorbill." Mr. Van Skike was a pleasant visitor at this office while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burnside, who for many years were residents of Morrow county and for the past year have resided in this city, recently removed to Walla Walla with their family, and are now comfortably located in that city. Their children, Burton and Betty, have entered Wa-Hi, the only high school in the city and have become enrolled among a student body of 1500 pupils. The Burnside's have bought a home in Walla Walla.

A young rattler was killed at the corner of one of the M. L. Case garage buildings on Gale street Sunday morning by Harry Quackenbush. It is a wonder that some child had not been bitten by the reptile, as this is a favorite playground for a number of children. The rattler had five rattles and a button.

Oscar Keithley is getting along with the fall seeding on his Eight Mile ranch, finding the summer-fallow in excellent condition as to moisture content and the weather conditions just right to bring the grain up rapidly. Mr. Keithley was a visitor here on Saturday.

Chas. Conner, accompanied by his daughter Mary and his mother, Mrs. Mary Conner, spent Monday in this city from their farm home on the west side of the county. Mr. Conner had a good crop this season, all of which he disposed of at the top price of $1.26 1/2 cents.

J. W. Stevens of Hardman was a visitor at Heppner Monday. He has recently purchased a place on Cottonwood, some 13 miles above Monument, where he will continue in the sheep business. Mr. Stevens is moving his family to their new home this week.

"Bub" Clark, F. E. Nickerson and Bernie Gaunt hunted for deer in the Ukiah district the past week, but were not successful in bagging the game. Mr. Gaunt reports having seen two white tailed deer, a very rare species in the Blue mountains.

A card received this week states that Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson are enjoying a stay at Crescent City, Calif., where the climate is cool the year around, and there is plenty of large timber and green grass. They expect to be returning home before long.

C. W. Smith, county agent, was at Condon during the fair on Thursday, Friday and Saturday last, where he was in charge of the judging of livestock. With Mrs. Smith he departed on Sunday for Salem to attend the state fair this week.

Lee Reaney was up from Salem the past week, visiting with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Reaney at Lexington, who has been quite ill. Mr. Reaney was a visitor in Heppner Friday.

Alvin Boyd and wife from Portland, passed through Heppner on their way to Pendleton to take in the Round-Up, and remained over here for a visit at the home of Mr. Boyd's sister, Mrs. Miller Huston.

Wm. Instone visited the city on Tuesday from his home at Lena, and states that everything is moving along okeh in the Butter creek country.

Charles Gilbert, shortstop on the Rochester, N. Y. Red Wings in the International League, is considered the best buy in the minor leagues today. A price of $100,000 has been put on him by his owners. The St. Louis Cardinals are polishing the youngster up.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Harshman of Eight Mile were visitors in this city on Saturday. Mr. Harshman reported the Eight Mile farmers very busy now with their fall seeding, the late rain having put the ground in excellent shape.

Nels Johnson, ranchman of the lower Gooseberry country, was attending to business matters here on Saturday. Out his way seeding has been going on at a lively rate the past week, and the grain is now coming up well.

Tom Hughes came in from his mountain camp the end of the week, being run out by the snow and cold weather. He expects to make his home at the Hughes ranch below town for the winter.

Dick and Anna Wightman, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wightman, will leave Heppner tomorrow night for Corvallis to again enter school at the state college.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Boyer were visitors in Heppner over the weekend from their home on Cottonwood, near Monument. They returned home on Monday.

For Income-Producing Property
When income-producing property is damaged or destroyed by fire, there is two-fold injury. There is the actual property-damage, and there is the impairment of income. There is now an auxiliary form of fire insurance for such properties, called Use-and-Occupancy Insurance—supplementing the usual Fire Insurance. This indemnifies the property-holder for loss of prospective profits, and for the payment of fixed charges, while the property is non-productive. Let us explain it to you in detail.
