

Hurricanes and Tornadoes Cause Death and Destruction

Local Happenings

Albert Crosby of Woodburn spent a portion of the past week visiting with his brother Walter on Willow creek. Some thirty odd years ago Albert was a resident of this section and this is his first visit here since going to the Willamette valley. He was unable to recognize any familiar landmarks hereabouts, the town having changed entirely, and even the old haunts up the creek were not recognizable until after he passed the forks of the creek. Time had worked many changes both in the community and its residents and he missed many of the old timers.

A trip over the lower Eight Mile section Sunday afternoon revealed to the editor of this paper that the farmers out that way are very busy with their seeding these days. Many fields were already turning green and with the showers of this week the grain will all be up nicely. By the end of another week seeding should be done out that way. Weather conditions have been ideal for the fall work.

W. B. Barratt and daughter, Miss Willetta arrived at Heppner on Friday from their home at Portland. They remained over for a day to take in the Rodeo and then went on the Rosalia, Wash. for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Reiman, where Mr. Barratt goes to see his first granddaughter, a recent arrival at the Reiman home. Mrs. Reiman was formerly Miss Helen Barratt of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Gemmill departed on Sunday for Portland where Mrs. Gemmill took the American Legion special train for San Antonio, Texas. Mrs. Gemmill goes as a delegate to the national convention of the American Legion Auxiliary from Oregon. She will also enjoy a visit with relatives residing in the Texas city.

Henry J. Taylor of Pendleton was a visitor in Heppner on Friday, coming over to take in the Rodeo, and also to spread a little Al Smith propaganda, as he is the Umatilla county chairman of the democratic party. Mr. Taylor has numerous friends in this city who are always glad to extend him greetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Jones returned home on Saturday from Salem, where during the past week they attended the State Fair. The fair was found to be very interesting, but Mr. and Mrs. Jones could not brag much on the quality of the weather during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ward, Rhea creek farmers, were visitors at Heppner over Saturday and a part of Sunday. Mr. Ward reports that he is getting along with his fall seeding quite rapidly now and the grain is beginning to show up well.

George N. Peck was a visitor here on Monday. He has about finished with his fall seeding and the grain is coming up nicely, even though it has been just a little bit dry.

Joseph N. Scott, democratic nominee for joint representative for Morrow and Umatilla counties, accompanied by Mrs. Scott, was a visitor here on Saturday. Mr. Scott took advantage of the opportunity offered to interview the voters of Morrow county in behalf of his candidacy, the large crowd in the city to attend the last day of the Rodeo making it easy to see people from all parts of the west side of Mr. Scott's district.

Clyde Saling, who has been spending the most of the summer at the home of his brother-in-law, C. H. Bartholomew at Pine City, spent Friday and Saturday in Heppner, renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Saling's home is at Corvallis where he and his family have been living for a few years past while the boys are going through school.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Curran motored to The Dalles on Sunday, taking their daughter, Mrs. Jared Aiken that far on her journey to Portland. Mrs. Aiken was returning home after spending several weeks at the home of her parents in this city. Miss Nora Hughes accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Curran on the trip.

According to word given this paper by Clerk Anderson, registration has been proceeding well and many eligible voters now have their names on the lists who have been neglecting this important duty in years past. The lists also contain the names of many first voters. The books close on Saturday.

Mat Halvorsen of Ione was a business visitor in this city on Tuesday. He just recently disposed of some 700 acres of his wheat lands in the Halvorsen Butte district to Earl Blake, who in turn had disposed of his holdings to J. O. Kincaid.

The G. T. family extends its thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson for a supply of very excellent sweet corn out of their garden. Mrs. Peterson states that their garden was extra good this year.

Among those from Pendleton Saturday taking in the Rodeo were the Misses Geraldine Tanson and Ella Pedro and John Kilkenny, prominent young attorney of the Umatilla county metropolis.

Mrs. Earl Eskelson and Mrs. Chas. Burchell were Lexington ladies in the city for a short time on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Davis, residents of Lexington, were visitors in this city on Tuesday for a few hours.

For Income-Producing Property

When income-producing property is damaged or destroyed by fire, there is two-fold injury. There is the actual property-damage, and there is the impairment of income.

There is now an auxiliary form of fire insurance for such properties, called Use-and-Occupancy Insurance--supplementing the usual Fire Insurance.

This indemnifies the property-holder for loss of prospective profits, and for the payment of fixed charges, while the property is non-productive.

Let us explain it to you in detail.
