PIONEER DRUGGIST DIES SUDDENLY

J. A. Patterson Lives But Few Hours Following Stroke Saturday.

Death came suddenly to John A. Patterson, pioneer Heppner drug-gist, at his home in this city on Sun-day morning at about 9:00 o'clock, his demise being the result of cere-bral hemorrhage, though he had not been well for some time. Driving home from his place of business Saturday morning, Mr. Patterson went to bed, complaining of severe pain in the head. On Sunday morning, however, he appeared much better and ate a hearty breakfast soon and ate a nearty breaklast, soon after which he was attacked by the stroke and died immediately. Funeral services were held at Ma-sonic hall on Tuesday at 11:00, and that evening the remains were shipped to Portland where services were held on Wednesday at the crematorium. The services here were largely attended by friends and neighbors and members of the Masonic order, and the floral offerings were many and very beautiful Rev. F. R. Spaulding and a male quartet consisting of M. D. Clark, Dean T. Goodman, W. O. Dix and Vawter Crawford, sang two appropriate hymns, Mrs. C. L. Sweek assisting at the piano.

John Ancil Patterson was born September 16, 1854, in Elmira, New married to Rebecca Griffiths at pared for buriar by Undertaker M.
Horneville, New York, and for almost 56 years they journeyed life's man today where the funeral was pathway together. Mr. Patterson took up railroading and became a locomotive engineer, which occupation he followed for many years. ## City Election Calling Out Many Candidates

For a number of years past the city election has been a rather quiet affair, as it was possible much of the time to get just a sufficient number of candidates to fill the vacancies, and this was often those who were retiring, and they would be persuaded to run again. In this manner, no contest was on, and con-

During the past week, M. L. Case filed for mayor, and at the same time the petitions of T. J. Humph-reys, John Hiatt and Spencer Crawford were presented, duly verified, to Clerk Anderson, asking their names be placed on the city ticket for councilmen. Later W. G. Mc-Carty handed in his petition for mayor, and the petitions of Gay M. Anderson, L. E. Bisbee and Frank Shively have been filed for council-men. All these are good men, and present and take advantage of hearit will be up to the voters to decide whom they shall have serve them for the next four years. The retir-ing officers will be Mayor Noble, who has been at the head of the city government for the past six years, and Councilmen M. D. Clark, L. E. Bisbee and Chas. Thom.

Corvallis, Ore., October 8.-Bread Grain. Wheat markets on the whole were unchanged to slightly higher last week. Rye showed improvement on export inquiry and is considered to be in rather firm po-sition. Soft wheats were about steady at $1.48-$1.49 in St. Louis for No. 2 grade bulk basis, which is a little better than this kind was bringing a year ago but not nearly bringing a year ago but not nearly so high as last April and May. The world supply of bread grain, according to present information, is not greatly different from a year ago. In the northern hemisphere there appears to be about 5 per cent more wheat but rye production is enough less to offset the increase in wheat. Southern hemisphere crops are more promising than a year ago, but old stocks there are about 30. 000,000 bushels lower. On the de-mand side, in addition to the normal increase in consumption of perhaps 5 per cent, there is a poor potato crop in prospect in Europe and the corn crop is also small there.

Feed Grains. Corn prices were sharply higher. Oats were firm. Barley prices advanced in both do-mestic and foreign markets. Flax advanced. Feed grain markets are influenced by short carryover stocks and lower prospective production of corn in the United States and Europe than expected earlier in the ason. A short potato crop in Europe is also a factor in the situation. Domestic supplies of feed grain are large however, particularly in the Corn Belt, while the sup-ply of livestock for feeding is short A private statistician reports a ra-tion of feed to livestock of 116 which would indicate the largest relatives supply of feed grain for many years.

Hay, Pasture and Feeds. The general condition of pastures and ranges is not so good, which has improved demand for hay and feeds. High protein feeds and choice alfalfa hay tend to advance in price. Potatoes. Digging of main crop

Livestock. General weakness featured the large livestock markets last week, the result of seasonal market gluts.

Wool and Mohair. Current information continues to indicate a downward trend in foreign wool values and the differential which has existed for a year or more over United States markets has narrowed. Domestic markets were about steady.

Fruits and Vegetables. Further improvement in the general Euro-pean apple market was reported. Washington Johnathans Extra Fan cy 150-175 brought 53.53 at Liverpool auction.
