MICHIGAN knows Charles S. Mott, vice-president of the General Motors company, as a person of experience and insight, who has his finger on the pulse of industry and understands what tends to promote good times and what tends to check them; and speaking as a practical man of affairs Mr. Mott says:

"In my judgment, the American people should elect Herbert Hoover as President, and sustain him, and as President, and sustain lim, and the country's best economic and spiritual welfare with a Republican Congress. It would be a grave mis-take to interrupt existing stabilities and trade our tremendous advan-tages for doubtful experiments under different auspices. There is much to be lost by changing and nothing to be gained."

Mr. Mott's interest in the outcome of the impending national election is non-emotional and prac-tical. It is unruled by prejudice or sentiment; and it is his judgment that the election of Mr. Hoover will be safe and sane from every stand-point. What Mr. Mott says ought to carry weight with people who consider the welfare of the country and their own part in it at all ser-

Suppose all the teeming millions in New York were idle, that they had nothing to do but amuse themselves it would not be a week before the city was burned down. It is a fact that most of us have to put in a certain number of hours a day in earning our livlihood that keeps us sane.

The sanest thing on earth is work. Men who devote their time to imagining, to theology, to philosophy, or to other speculations to remain as they are.

The workers are the security of a country and the best guarantee of that counrty's prosperity.
