

Local Happenings

The road crew has been busy during the past week moving the county road outfit from Jarman's to a new camp on Rhea creek, on the Wright place at the mouth of Caspion canyon. The county is getting ready to push the work on the Eight Mile market road, and the crew is at present grading up Jack-rabbit canyon. Some of the cabins that were at the Jarmon camp were placed on the big trailer belonging to the county, and thus transferred to the Rhea creek camp. Work on the new market road will be pushed this fall, with the ultimate object in view of having the road in shape by next harvest.

Dr. A. D. McMurdo and W. W. Smead returned late Tuesday evening from Mt. Vernon, over in Grant county, where they went a few days ago to join Roy Glasscock in a deer hunt. They proceeded to Bear valley and had good luck, the doctor getting two bucks and Mr. Smead one. The hunting conditions were ideal on this trip. Ted McMurdo accompanied his father on the trip.

Walter R. Frits, special agent of Fire Association of Philadelphia, was here Monday consulting with the local agent of the company, F. W. Turner. This company held insurance to the amount of $22,800 on the school building at Mount Pleasant, which was badly damaged by fire late in the summer. The payment of this insurance enabled the district to replace their equipment.

Charley Cox and Charley Vaughn got in right after noon on Tuesday, after a hunt of a week over in the Ukiah section. They bagged two bucks apiece and feel pretty well satisfied with their hunt. During the time they were out they made headquarters at Wm. Allison's, uncle of Mr. Vaughn.

R. L. Via, recently of Portland, arrived in Heppner the end of the week to take charge of the Patter-son & Son drug company as manager. Mr. Via, a registered druggist of many years experience, is instituting some new policies that he believes will prove popular with the public.

Henry Peterson was in town a short time on Tuesday from the ranch out in Eight Mile. It did not rain as much out that way Sunday night and Monday as it did around Heppner, but Mr. Peterson was hopeful that more would follow.

G. L. Bennett was in the city from Alpine Tuesday. Out his way the farmers are still looking for rain, and a number have not begun seeding.

John Kilkenny and Hugh O'Rourke are Heppner sheepmen in Portland this week.

I. R. Robison, lone garageman, was in the city for awhile Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Huston and son were Eight Mile people in the city on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoskins have about completed the new residence on their Rhea creek property. They own the place that was for so many years the home of the late J. J. Adkins, and now that the new house is up and the old one moved the appearance of the place has been much changed. The new house contains six rooms, has basement and is quite modern in every way.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hiatt returned the first of the week after an absence of some ten days, during which time they enjoyed a visit at the home of Mr. Hiatt's parents in Vancouver, Wash., and Mr. Hiatt took in the sessions of the K. of P. grand lodge at Salem as a delegate from Doric lodge No. 29 of this city. They also visited at Portland.

Edward A. Lindken, extensive tractor farmer of the Ione vicinity, was smiling when in town Monday because of the fine rain that had just hit his district along with the rest of the county. Most of his seeding is done and he will finish just as soon as the top of the ground dries out a bit.

Mrs. Fannie Rood returned to her Portland home the end of the week, after spending several days here looking after business interests. She was accompanied to the city by John Hayes, who had been visiting at the home of his son, Joe Hayes, on Big Butter creek.

Cecil Lieuallen and wife have been in the city for several days this week. Mr. Lieuallen recently purchased the Ed Kellogg place on Rhea creek, and we understand he will stock it with milk cows, and it will be run by his father, Frank Lieuallen, now of Hood River.

The new farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones on the Heppner Flat place, is rapidly nearing completion. This dwelling is of hollow tile construction, has full basement and is in every way modern and presents quite an imposing appearance from the highway.

Services were conducted at the Catholic church in this city on Sunday by Bishop McGrath of Baker, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Thomas J. Brady, who was ill.

Frank Hale of Hamilton, who recently underwent a serious operation at Heppner hospital, was sufficiently recovered to return home the first of the week.

L. Van Marter, manager of the Peoples Hardware company was expected home yesterday from a business trip to Portland.

C. D. Robinson of Lane Rock, stockman of that section of Gilliam county, was a visitor at Heppner Tuesday.

W. A. Price, leading Boardman resident and city recorder of that place, was here on business Monday.

Frank Young, farmer of the lower Gooseberry section, was attending to business in Heppner on Tuesday.

Cecil Sargent and family of Ione were visitors here on Tuesday. While Heppner enjoyed a good rain the first of the week, Mr. Sargent states that it was very light in the Ione country.

Edward Rietmann and family were visitors in this city on Tuesday from their home north of Ione.

The Fire Alarm!

"How near is it to us?" That's what one hears as the engine clangs into the neighborhood. Everyone is alarmed until the location of the fire is learned.

Then, those at a safe distance breathe a sigh of relief, and only the close neighbors continue to be concerned. But the next fire in your vicinity may be nearer to your home—so near as to endanger your own property. On that day, or night, adequate insurance in a good company is worth far more than it possibly can cost.

Let us plan full coverage for you.

Convenience urges an Extension Telephone

Just as you appreciate running water in more than one room in the house, so you would appreciate an extension telephone. Its cost is only a few cents a day; its convenience is great, and sometimes it is even a factor in guarding the safety of your household.

This home of two stories has its main telephone in the dining room and an extension in the owner's bedroom.

FIRST FLOOR SUGGESTION FOR TELEPHONE

SECOND FLOOR SUGGESTION FOR TELEPHONE

An extension in the owner's bedroom is convenient for the housewife by day, and makes the telephone readily available by night.

The cost is very small. Call our business office and say "I want an extension telephone."
