

Local Happenings

Marshal Devin was decorated with a black eye in an assault on him Saturday night, when he attempted to arrest some parties in front of the Gilman building for disturbing the peace. One of the offenders was given a fine of $25 by Recorder Huston on Monday, and the charge was drunk and disorderly conduct; the other was assessed $100 for assaulting an officer. Some women were also mixed up in the melee, but the marshal did not arrest them, though one of the ladies gave him black and blue shins by the lively use of her "kickers." Refusing to pay their fines, after entering pleas of guilty, the recorder turned the offenders over to the marshal and he placed them in the county jail to serve out the sentence.

Frank Benefiel of Walla Walla was among former Lexington people to the reunion on Friday, and enjoyed to the full meeting his many old friends. It has been many years since Mr. Benefiel was a farmer in the country north of Lexington, and he notes much improvement thereabouts. He expressed the opinion that he had left that part of the country just a little too soon, for it shows wonderful development over conditions as they existed some twenty-five and thirty years ago.

Walter Eubanks of Ione has been getting along lately by the aid of crutches. He is supporting an injured knee, the result of vaulting a fence and tearing loose the ligaments. He was up to Heppner on Saturday, and in conversation with the editor of this paper reported that he will have some 1600 head of prime turkeys to market this fall. The birds are just about the best he has yet produced, and it will not be long until he is getting them ready for the Thanksgiving table.

Clifford Sims and wife arrived at Heppner on Saturday for a visit of several days with relatives. Mr. Sims has been with a bank at Klamath Falls as assistant cashier for the past seven months, and has now accepted a permanent position there as cashier. Mr. and Mrs. Sims will move from Medford to Klamath to take up their residence. Mrs. Sims and the children going there at the close of school. They departed for home Tuesday noon.

Hon. Walter M. Pierce of La Grande, addressed the people of Heppner and vicinity at the Star theater on Saturday afternoon, his subject being "Farm Problems." Mr. Pierce was talking in behalf of his candidacy as democratic nominee for congress from the second Oregon district. He is an entertaining speaker and never fails in drawing a good audience when he comes to Morrow county.

Gunnar Lindhe, who farms in the north Sand Hollow country, was attending to business here on Monday. Farmers in that part of the county have their summerfallow in excellent condition and many have finished with the fall seeding, but owing to lack of rain there has been some apprehension as to results. With the prospect of rains this week, however, the grain should come along all right.

Andrew Carlson, father of Emil and Leonard Carlson of Ione, was able to be present at the pioneers' gathering at Lexington on Friday, and enjoyed himself among the older people gathered there. Mr. Carlson now makes his home with the boys who have charge of the old home place in the lower Eight Mile section.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Conover and their granddaughter, Miss Evelyn Roberts of Waitsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Crawford and daughter Jean of Walla Walla were visitors at Heppner on Sunday, taking dinner at the V. Crawford home. The 125-mile journey from Waitsburg was made in just a few hours in the Conover car, and the visitors had several hours at Heppner with their relatives.

You may have seen some good magicians, but none better. Nov. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Forshaw of Pendleton were visitors at Heppner on Saturday, spending a few hours in the city. Mr. Forshaw is the pioneer florist and nurseryman of Pendleton, and while here arranged with Case Furniture Co. to handle Heppner business for him. Many years ago Mr. Forshaw was also engaged in the newspaper game, and was connected with the Tribune at Pendleton.

Joseph N. Scott of Pendleton, democratic nominee for joint representative, Morrow and Umatilla counties, was a visitor here on Friday and Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Scott. He took in the pioneer gathering at Lexington Friday, and Saturday afternoon appeared on the platform here with Walter M. Pierce, following the ex-governor in an address to Morrow county voters.

Fix the date, Saturday, Nov. 17.

D. A. Wilson arrived home on Thursday night last from Portland, where he had been with Mrs. Wilson and their little daughter, Dorothy. The little girl was taken to the hospital at Portland for treatment at the hands of specialists, and when Mr. Wilson left for home she had greatly improved in health but was not yet sufficiently well to be released from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Olden visited in the city a short while on Monday. They had as guests at their farm home during the past week, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Wood of Gresham, whom they entertained by visits to numerous points on the highway. Mrs. Wood is a sister of Mrs. Olden, and they were delighted with the fine weather during their visit here.

Fix the date, Saturday, Nov. 17.

Rev. W. O. Miller and wife were interested visitors at the pioneer meeting at Lexington on Friday. Mr. Miller and family formerly resided at Lexington and have many friends there and at Heppner, where he was well known. He is now pastor of the Methodist church at Umatilla.

Mrs. C. L. Gillilan and two children were visitors here over the week-end from Portland. Mr. Gillilan is again on the branch line train, and while enjoying a visit with her husband, Mrs. Gillilan also gathered in some subscriptions to a Portland daily for which she has been working recently in a contest.

Frank Edmondson, eldest son of Mrs. Mattie Huston, arrived from his home at Culver on Monday evening with his family for a visit of a few days at the home of his mother. He is engaged in farming over in Jefferson county. Alonzo Edmondson, another son of Mrs. Huston, accompanied them.

Mysterious magic—Nov. 17.

E. J. Keller, who has been spending some little time at Pendleton, returned the first of the week to his home at Ione.

Word received here the past week announced the death by automobile accident in Los Angeles recently of Mrs. Robert Perlick. The Perlicks were formerly residents of this section, running a farm for a number of years in the Blackhorse section. They had been living in southern California for some time.

Mrs. Belle Edwards of Forest Grove, accompanied by her son, Ern Edwards and wife, were visitors at Heppner the first of the week, coming at the V. Crawford home. They spent a few days looking after had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson. They spent a few days looking after business interests here.

Wm. Hynd of Hynd Bros. Co. of Sand Hollow, was in the city Monday. The Hynd sheep have all been brought down from the high mountains, two bands being held at Ukiah for a time until the range conditions at the home ranch get better. Other bands are being cared for at the Freezeout ranch.

Mysterious magic—Nov. 17.

Prof. and Mrs. Jas. M. Burgess made a trip over the week-end to Hood River for a visit at the home of Mrs. Burgess' sister. Returning with them was the little niece of Mrs. Burgess, who will be a member of the Burgess home for the winter and attend school here.

Dr. Samuel Tyler, eyesight specialist of Bend, will be at Peterson's store, Heppner, Nov. 4 and 5. Have your eyes examined. All work is guaranteed.

R. L. Via, manager of Patterson & Son drug store here, reports the three days of one-cent sale the end of the week as very successful, and he was greatly pleased with the outcome. He was assisted in the sale by W. V. Crawford, formerly with the store.

You may have seen some good magicians, but none better. Nov. 17.

Mrs. I. L. Van Winkle is a visitor at Lexington from her home in the Willamette valley. She came up in time to be present at the pioneer meeting at Lexington on Friday and will remain for some days yet, visiting with relatives.

Joseph T. Peters, capitalist of The Dalles, was transacting business in Heppner on Saturday. He was accompanied here by John Harbke of Portland, who is associated with him in land holdings in this county.

Senator R. J. Carsner was a visitor in Heppner on Tuesday.

The Fire Alarm!

"How near is it to us?" That's what one hears as the engine clangs into the neighborhood. Everyone is alarmed until the location of the fire is learned.

Then, those at a safe distance breathe a sigh of relief, and only the close neighbors continue to be concerned. But the next fire in your vicinity may be nearer to your home—so near as to endanger your own property. On that day, or night, adequate insurance in a good company is worth far more than it possibly can cost.

Let us plan full coverage for you.

The new Buick
is the new Style

Men and women on every street--in every city and town--are pronouncing the new BUICK with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day--

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Sweeping into the market at a time when motor car lines were practically standardized—when imitation was destroying individuality—these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode—

A mode of body-symmetry—of size and magnificence—of soft contours instead of straight lines—of embossed side and hood panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car in the world! And as the weeks have passed—and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public—enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!

Buick sales records have been broken! Production schedules have been increased again and again! The great Buick plants are working to the limit of their capacity to supply the demand.
