Mrs. Martin Stewart departed for Eugene Sunday to be with her sister who was wounded by a gun shot near there early that day. Her sister, Mrs. Etta Wyland, was shot by her divorced husband, James Wyland, after he had shot and killed William Ek, whom he declared was responsible for the separation. Mrs. Wyland was employed as cook at the planing mill of Lewis Peters Lumber company at Pengra, and was engaged in the kitchen at the time of shooting.
