cently of Douglas Hawley, chief executive of the newly formed Blue Mountain council, who showed the local executive committee the need of more cooperation and support on the part of the community if the Boy Scout movement here was to keep pace with other towns of the size in the district. In response to Mr. Hawley's direc-tions, Jas. M. Burgess, Chas. Thom-son and Harold Cohn, composing the local Boy Scout executive committee, have sent out an SOS call to the various fraternal orders of city, who in the past have supported the movement, and so far have met with ready response. The American Legion on Monday night gave $25, the amount to be an annual contribution. The Knights of Pythias, Tuesday night also gave $25 and besides appointed a com-mittee to work in cooperation with the executive committee in giving the public an opportunity to contri-bute to the cause. Other fraternal organizations, which have not met since being asked, expect to give the matter their favorable consideration, according to word from many of the members.

The money raised will be used in paying the running expenses of the local troop, to purchase insignia, to pay the expenses of the chief execu-tive on his inspection trips every six or eight weeks or when needed, and to aid in the construction of a cabin for the local troop at the central summer camp of the Blue Mountain council near Milton.

Uniforms are not purchased with the money as each Scout is expected to earn his own uniform as part of the Scout work. The visits of the chief executive are not merely inspection trips, as on each occasion a court of honor is held. At these courts each Scout is examined in the work and given the degree to which he is entitled with the insig-nia, the Scout work being divided into several classes such as tender-foot, first, second and third degrees.

The cabin at the central camp is considered by the executive committee to be one of the most crying needs of the troop. Many advan-tages in joining the central sum-mer camp are evident over a local the central camp the boys have the advantage of trained and experienced leaders in the various parts of the work. Mr. McMillan had been in Portiana sufferer from sinus trouble, and underwent an operation. His physi-cians advised that he return for further treatment later, and it was for this purpose that he went to the city again. It is quite evident that this trouble had poisoned his system to some extent, and he fell a victim to the influenza attack.

Eldred L. McMillan was born at Lexington August 15, 1905, and died at Heppner November 15, 1928, aged 23 years and 3 months. His entire life was spent in and around Lex-ington and he was well known both there and at Heppner. His educa-tion was gained in the school of his home town, and among his school-mates he was always known as "Unk," and familiarly called by this name by all his friends. He gained popularity as an athlete, was counted on as a leading player in all the athletic activities of the school and town, and his disposition was such that he readily made and held friends, no matter where he went In fact, Eldred was a fine, upstanding young man of his community, and his passing at this time is keenly felt by all who knew him. The funeral was held from the Christian church in Lexington on Monday afternoon and was very largely attended. Rev. W. O. Miller of Umatilla, a lifelong friend of the family, conducted the services. The Athletic association of Lexington attended in a body, six of them beto rest, for Eldred was a much loved resident of his home community.

PROCLAMATION

At all times and in all places, men have gathered together at the close of the harvest to give thanks to the Divine Power which has blessed their labors and made them to prosper. Deep rooted in the heart of mankind is the instinct to make grateful acknowledgement to a guiding Providence which is above and beyond the work of human minds and human hands.

Our national observance of an annual day of Thanksgiving is a heritage from the Pilgrim Fathers, who assembled at the turn of the year to offer prayer and praise to Almighty God from whom came their strength to endure daily hardship and to face unknown danger. It is fitting that we should reverently continue in this day of prosperity and security the institution they founded amidst adversity and peril.

Now, therefore, in conformity with the proclamation of the President of the United States which comes as a recurring reminder of our national unity in the perpetuation of this American custom, I, I. L. Patterson, Governor of Oregon, do proclaim Thursday, November 29th, 1928, as Thanksgiving Day, and do hereby set it aside as a public holiday.

Let us on this doy give thought to man's fellowship with nature in achieving the fruits of the harvest. Let us confirm and strengthen the ties of family life and renew the bond of hearth and home. Let us express our gratitude for peace by extending the spirit of good will to all the world and for prosperity by lending generous and kindly aid to those in sorrow or need. Let us give thanks for manifold material blessings by turning our minds and hearts to the things of the spirit.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Oregon to be hereunto affixed this 19th day of November, A. D. 1928.

 Very serious injuries were sustained by Everett Keithley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Keithley of Eight Mile, in an accident occurring n the road leading to Heppner last evening. In company with his brother he was driving the Keithley car down the road, when they came to the new work on the Eight Mile market road. The road crew had been woking on a culvert which was not quite completed, and which they had covered with boards. When the Keithley car struck this. the covering gave way and the ma-chine was turned over on the boys. LARGE SUM SPENT ON INTERIOR ROAD

Important Highway Receives Cooperation Only From Government.

For many months past the proposition of completing the Heppner-Spray road has been quietly sleeping, there being no prospects in sight for extending this or any other piece of public road work under the threat to finances borne in the Dunne bills. And there had also been no response to the frequent requests of the Morrow county court to have this road placed on the map as a state road, and the highway ommission has steadily maintained ts attitude of non-assistance in the building of this important link in the state's highway system.

Maps showing the location of the road have been heretofore published and the people of this county, as well as the adjoining counties, have been shown just how well the high-ways of three states would be linked up if this few miles of road were completed. It is not necessary to go into this further.

In conversation with Commission-er Bleakman this week, the Gazette Course Well Received Times editor was furnished with some figures that show to what exsome ngures that show to what ex-tent Morrow county has been spend-ing money on the road. Out of the road funds of this county the sum of $252,100.48 has been expended. To this is added the sum of $65,000 expended by the Bureau of Public Roads, on that portion of the road located in the forest reserve. This makes a total of $317,100.48 expended on this road so far, and there yet remains 9 miles to be built in Wheeler county and 5 miles in Morrow county. Mr. Bleakman makes a county. rough estimate of the cost of com-pleting the Morrow county end of the job, and this he places at $50,000, while the Bureau of Public Roads land. Mr. Hollingsworth will be remembered as the assistant of the Gazette Times in getting out our special booster edition last winter. He is now traveling for a wholesale team.

It is quite evident that if this road is completed and there gaps are closed in a reasonable length of time there must be some co-operaway commission. This is what our court is interested in, and Mr. Bleakman, especially, will devote a lot of time to try and bring this about. He has always been a booster for this piece of highway and he hates to start something that can-not be finished. It would seem to be up to the business interests of Heppner to get behind Mr. Bleakman and assist in every way that is possible.
