

BOARDMAN

A. E. McFarland of Umatilla was elected director of the West Extension Irrigation district for a term of three years. Only seven votes were cast here. T. E. Broyles, C. S. Calkins and Claude Myers were on the election board.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gorham, Mrs. Nate Macomber, Mrs. A. T. Herlein and son A. T., Jr., were in Pendleton on Wednesday. Mr. Gorham went up to consult Dr. McKenzie about his eyes which are much improved. He had ulcers on one of them. A. T. Herlein Jr. was fitted with glasses by Dr. McKenzie.

The Boardman people who shipped turkeys in the first pool of the Idaho Turkey Growers association were well pleased. A high grade of birds was shipped from here and prices averaged from $4.50 to $5.30 per bird. Mrs. Glen Hadley received the neat sum of $218 for 42 birds, the Johnsons received $172.50 for 33 while Hollands and others received similar prices. Ellises shipped their birds to a commission house in Portland which quoted 40c but when the birds were received the price had dropped to 35c, as commission house prices have a way of doing, and the producer has no come back.

Supt. L. E. Marschat purchased a new Pontiac sedan about three weeks ago. There are now three Pontiacs in town, Carrol Kennedy and B. B. Lewis having the other two.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Messenger and daughter Lois motored to Portland for the week-end.

Richard Berger, the small son of Clarence Berger, received a serious injury on Sunday, Nov. 11, while playing out at the sand dune. He fell in such a manner that one of the bones in the ball and socket hip joint was broken. He was taken to a doctor at Hermiston and then to Pendleton where an x-ray was made on Friday, and he was put in a plaster cast which he will be obliged to wear for several months.

Jess Lower has returned from a trip to Missouri.

Mrs. Chas. Nizer left on Friday for her home in La Grande, going down with the motor truck which transported their goods, and Mr. Nizer left Saturday, driving through in the Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Goodwin spent the week-end in Pendleton.

Mrs. Dan Ransier was called to Pendleton Thursday by the illness of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Thurman. The latter was taken to Portland where she will undergo an operation for goiter.

Boardman friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beck will be interested to hear that they have a son, born Nov. 12. Becks lived in Boardman for several years, but are now at Grandview, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor and children of Stanfield were guests Sunday at the Glen Macken home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Warner made a business trip to Heppner Monday. Martin Anderson of Moscow, Ida., is visiting his father-in-law, Mr. Darr on the Mulkey place.

Catholic services were held Sunday at Root hall by Rev. Brady of Heppner.

Mrs. L. V. Root had a birthday on Tuesday, Nov. 20, of this week but the occasion was celebrated on Sunday when a number of friends and relatives went to the Root hall and prepared a sumptuous feast while Roots were at church. Present were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mcfford, Evelyn and Olive Mcfford, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barlow, Mrs. Claude Coats, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Gillespie and Mr. Gillespie's father and two brothers who are visiting here.

Gladys and Carl Wicklander entertained a group of the younger folks on Saturday night, about 18 or 20 of the high school students being present who enjoyed an evening of games, music and dainty refreshments.

Honore Williams of Pendleton visited at the Messenger home Sunday.

Chas. Wicklander has been busy for the past few days shipping out a large quantity of nursery stock. Two men from the nursery at Portland for which he raises the stock were here assisting.

Mrs. L. C. Smith entertained several ladies at a lovely one o'clock luncheon on Friday at her home. The afternoon was spent in visiting and completing some work for the bazaar. Guests were Mesdames W. A. Price, Lottie Attebury, J. F. Gorham, J. R. Johnson, and W. A. Porter. Mrs. E. T. Messenger was unable to be present.

Mrs. Ray Brown is home after an absence of five weeks in Walla Walla. Mr. Brown is home from Reith where he has been employed with the Joslyn McCallister Construction company all summer. He will go to Willow creek shortly to work on the baler.

Mrs. John Jenkins, Mrs. Chas. Dillon, Robert and Glen Berger motored to Pendleton Friday to visit Richard Berger who is at St. Anthony's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bedwell and children have moved from Hermiston to Boardman and are located in the old post office building where Mr. Bedwell has opened a shoe repair shop. Mr. Bedwell is a brother of Mrs. Stevers of Covote.

In reporting the item about Miss Edna Broyles being here from Eugene, Mrs. Broyles's name was unintentionally omitted.

O. H. Warner went to Hermiston last week where he had the rest of his teeth extracted.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Macken, and Mr. Sanders were initiated into the Grange at the meeting Saturday night.

ALPINE.

Mrs. G. L. Bennett and daughter Ruth, also her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Bennett, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Schmidt.

LIGHTNING!
Gathering clouds... Darkening skies... Then... a loud clap of thunder and sheets of torrential rain, amid vivid flashes of lightning.
Miles of exposed electric wires are in the storm area. Lightning strikes them. Yet, marvelously, electric service is uninterrupted. The lights of the city burn while the storm rages.
The electric light and power companies expect such contingencies and are prepared to overcome them. High-voltage lightning discharges that would burn out transformers and cripple unprotected lines are passed off harmlessly to the ground through intricately constructed lightning arresters.
These silent sentinels of public service are but one of the endless array of safeguards with which the electric light and power companies protect the flow of power which soon will bring every family and community freedom from toil and drudgery.
Are you getting your share of the inestimable benefits electricity provides?
