

Our Turkey's Getting Bigger and Better By Albert T. Reid

a flakier crust than usual for this piece of resistance of your Thanksgiving meal.

A New Salad

Chop 12 stuffed olives and 1 cup celery. Heat 1 cup water and 1 cup tomato soup to boiling; add 2 tbs. vinegar, salt and paprika to taste. Dissolve in this 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin. When cool and slightly thick, stir in celery mixture and pour in molds to harden. Very good with "turkey and trimmings."

Mends Broken China

A splendid cement for broken china may be made by mixing plaster of Paris with white of egg until it is creamy. Apply as you would any prepared cement.

Mister Jay Bird was seated on the limb of a hickory tree and he sat down for a few moments to talk to the bird.

"Do you know," began Mister Jay Bird, "I can't see why you haven't a tail like Mrs. Squirrel. With those lovely ears of yours and a large, bushy tail, you'd be the handsomest animal in the forest."

"I really think so myself," replied the rabbit.

"I tell you what you can do," said the bird. "You take some pawpaw bark and tie up your tail real tight. You're going to have Thanksgiving dinner, aren't you?"

"Yes," answered Br'er Rabbit.

"Well, by the time you are ready to eat, your tail will be as large and as bushy as Mrs. Squirrel's."

"It will take longer than that, won't it?" inquired Br'er Rabbit, anxiously. "No, it only takes a short while, that is, if you tie your tail tight enough. But be sure to take the bark off before you get home."

Br'er Rabbit disappeared and soon was winding his tail with a piece of pawpaw bark. He wound it as tight as he could and then took a little nap, waking up when the sun had started down hill.

"Merry me!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit, when he awoke. "I'll be late for dinner." He rushed towards his home and arrived just in time for the Thanksgiving meal. He took his place at the head of the table and was surprised to hear all the bunnies snickering. "What's the matter?" he asked, in surprise.

"Look at your tail!" shouted Buster Bunnie.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit. "I wanted to make my tail like Mrs. Squirrel's, so I tied it up as Mister Jay Bird told me."

"You know Mister Jay Bird is a joker," laughed Mrs. Rabbit. "Next time be your own sweet self—we like you better. Now ask the blessing."

(Write the Editor of this newspaper and tell him what you want Br'er Rabbit and his family to do next.)

Vaudevillainous

Mother, must I go out to work. We cannot pay our board bill! Then hang your clothes on a hickory limb, And you'll get a good job in vaudeville.

"What would you give for a voice like mine?" "Chloroform!"

It was a beautiful Thanksgiving morning when Br'er Rabbit started out for a walk before he had the wonderful dinner which his wife was preparing for him and the bunnies. Eye and bye he came to where

By Arthur Brisbane A Record in Politics. A Statue to Pasteur. The Eye of the Needle. Praise for the Movies.

The President cast his first vote in Northhampton, was elected councilman there, long ago, and has been steadily in office ever since, nominated nineteen or twenty times—never beaten. A record in politics as good as Cromwell's in war. Cromwell never lost a battle.

The old farmers would observe with pleasure that being President, with $75,000 a year salary, a White House and a big yacht have not spoiled Calvin Coolidge. Next March he will move from the White House to Northhampton and resume life in a small house which he rents for $32.50 a month.

Such a man is not dependent on money. But the President could have plenty of it. More than one law firm would be glad to guarantee him three times his Presidential salary. And he would not have to work hard. Perhaps the President chooses to wait awhile, look around, and possibly take a second elective term in the White House, eight years hence.

The erection of a fine statue to the great Frenchman, Pasteur, honors Chicago. Excepting the Lincoln statue, none in Chicago is erected to so noble and useful a man.

Dr. Leopold Stieglitz, of New York, able scientist and brilliant diagnostician, brother of Professor Julius Stieglitz, who teaches chemistry at Chicago University, says: "We need a Pasteur to solve the cancer problem. That task calls for a man free from preconceived notions and prejudice; not a man of medical training, seeking to explain cancer according to old methods."

The ignorant sometimes ask "Of what real use is science?" Bismarck taking five billion francs from France, after the war of 1870, thought he had reached the limit. Dr. Stieglitz reminds you that the cash value to France of Pasteur's discoveries far exceeds five billion francs, to say nothing of his work against human disease and suffering.

What Dr. Stieglitz says of Pasteur and the cancer problem, encourages men of no special training. Clear thought and accurate observation work wonders. The in-Mussolini, wiser than superficial critics in America, has only praise for moving pictures. Quite accurately, he classifies them among the greatest agencies for the education of mankind. The other two are moveable type and photography.

Hints for the Home by Nancy Hart

When planning the table decoration for Thanksgiving do not forget the fall fruits and vegetables are as decorative as flowers for the centerpiece—and far more expressive symbols of Harvest Time. One of the most beautiful Thanksgiving tables I have ever seen had for its centerpiece a large flat bowl of amber glass holding a small pumpkin, a purple egg plant, an ear of corn, a tiny winter squash and apples, plums, oranges, purple and wine-red grapes. Tall compots of amber glass filled with small fruits and grapes were placed at either side of the large bowl. Amber-goblets and ivory-bodied china in a colorful pattern were used for service. Altho the table was planned for a sophisticated New York home it seems to me it bears a special message for all who live far from good florist shops.
