Dr. Frank Crane Says:

THE DOERS

What this world needs it more doers and less talkers. The man we feel most grateful toward and regard most kindly is the one who does us a generous act and never says anything about it. We find it out by accident and our hearts warm to him. The man who is always saying, I am going to do this and that for you but does not do it, is a flunky. He wants the praise for generosity, but he does not deliver the goods. So, the man who most truly reforms is the man who quits doing wrong, not the man who makes great promises. Most drunkards and most leaders of disorderly lives elsewhere are great promoters. They will tell you, while in their cups, that they are never going to drink another drop. But the kind of reform today that we believe in is that of the man who quits doing wrong and makes no boast about it except to show his regret. It is human to err and to make mistakes. But when we have done so the most righteous thing we can do is to quit, not to pray and not to promise, nor to resolve. The first thing needed in a wrong doer is to quit his doing wrong. We are not going to turn for help to a higher power until we have ceased our wrong doing. The Bible says this of the first thing necessary: "Let the evil man forget his ways and the unrighteous man his thoughts."

LEAPING LENA.

MARK TWAIN wrote "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" and started something in California. Ever since then frog-jumping contests have been the order of the day in the state, and out of all the entries in the various contests one frog emerged as a remarkable champion—Leaping Lena, owned by Mrs. Cravens, who broke all existing records for frog leaping by a jump of 8 feet 3 inches. Alas! Leaping Lena is no more. She has made her last leap—into eternity. And immediately upon her demise, search began for a successor. When the next contest was held the entries included Valencia, El Parasito, Woogy, Dusty, Sandy, and Bunko. The frogs were lined up and photographed. Valencia won by jumping a paltry three feet. The victory created no enthusiasm. Valencia, though the winner, was not dubbed "champion." Nobody could forget that Leaping Lena had beaten Valencia by over five feet. And so there's no champion! It seems as though it will take some time before another Leaping Lena is discovered. What this country needs, it appears, is a good jumping frog!

SHOP EARLY.

NOW is the time to begin to think about your Christmas shopping—and not to stop at merely thinking about it. When you go shopping now for Christmas instead of later, you do yourself a great favor as well as expressing a fine spirit of cooperation with the merchants that have the privilege of your patronage. You avoid the last minute rush. You have larger stocks to choose from. You are sure of getting what you want. Nothing is "all sold out" yet, though it may be when the late shopper comes "round for it." You help every clerk whose Christmas labors you lessen by doing your shopping in advance and not bothering him when he is most busy. You have plenty of time left in which to correct errors. You have more time in which to compare prices and examine quality. When you shop at the last minute, you are all too likely to buy "any old thing" to get it over with. We can't urge you too strongly to do your Christmas shopping now. It's an important matter that shouldn't be left for the last minute.

A Tornado Visits Europe Florida is Sound Introverts Miss West Pities Women

Terrific storms in Europe have killed many in Europe and Britain, the high winds putting a new fear in the populations. Tornadoes and earthquakes visit different parts of the earth, impartially, and nations might be content with the war that nature forces upon them, not insisting upon fighting and killing each other. The tornado in Europe, leaving a trail of loss and death, will not cause foolish pessimism, such as outsiders have displayed after a wind storm in Florida. Florida's high wind comes only rarely and never in winter, when the harvest season of tourists is on. And Florida in one important respect has an advantage over other States in her financial condition and freedom from debt. Florida, as a State, owes nobody a dollar. The State is absolutely free from bonded indebtedness, its laws forbidding the State to borrow for any purpose, except for suppressing insurrection within the State, or repelling armed invasion. No State is in a better condition financially than Florida, destined to be one of the greatest States in the Union, in population and in money. And now, after the boom, while the foolish nurse their wounds, is a good time to buy in Florida, if you buy wisely. Professors of Northwestern University tell business men selecting employes to pick out extroverts and avoid introverts. The introvert is a dreamer, withdrawing within himself. The extrovert is a back-slapper and go-getter. Theodore Roosevelt, Mussolini, William Howard Taft and Governor Smith are of the extrovert type.

There is something of the introvert and extrovert in every man. Charles Fourier told about it more than a hundred years ago, using the words "internal intitutional, and external rational," which are better.

Miss Rebecca West, forceful young British person who writes well, writes American women. Their lives are tragic, says she. Many of them live parked high up in skyscrapers, "where they can't even keep a dog." It's sad not to keep a dog in a skyscraper. But Miss West will know when she gets married that a baby or even a husband is a good substitute for a dog.

The latest eruption of Mount Etna "destroyed" ten thousand acres of fertile Sicilian land. Frost, rain and sunshine will crumble the lava to dust. Weeds will grow, soil will form. Earth worms will chew it up, and those acres will be fertile again, and Etna will be a dead volcano. It will take some time, thousands of centuries.

There is no hurry, for according to Professor Millikan, men will live on this planet for a thousand million years longer.

The biggest fortunes are not always left by the greatest men. Schubert, greater than a million ordinary millionaires, left ten dollars' worth of property. Many unpublished songs sold for $2. Spinoza, great Jewish philosopher, who has taught millions how to think, left as the most valuable asset in his "estate" a pocket knife with a silver handle. But he left a name worth more than the total capitalization of General Motors.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for December 9 PAUL GOES TO ROME Acts 28:11-24, 30-31 REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D. Increasing numbers tour around the Wonder Sea, the Mediterranean, every year and cover much of the itinerary that Paul followed when he was taken as a prisoner from Caesarea to Rome. Read the entire log of the journey beginning with Acts 27 as written by Dr. Luke who was with Paul all the way. Follow the line of travel with your map. You will zigzag to the coast of Asia Minor and then along the lower side of Crete. There the captain was deceived when the "south wind blew softly" and set sail against the advice of Paul, whose judgment as an experienced traveler was worth while. Then the real excitement began and thrills were had for fourteen days after the Euracillo was encountered. Landing was made on the mainland at Puteoli, in sight of modern Naples. The distance to Rome was about 80 miles and fellow Christians came out to meet Paul when he reached the Market of Appius, about 43 miles from the city. Still others were at the Three Taverns and when the voyager saw them "He thanked God and took courage." Surely the centurion in charge gave a good account of the conduct of his prisoner since leaving Caesarea. The captain could verify much and give full credit to Paul's part in caring for all on board. Here was a man to be trusted. Permission was given for him to dwell in his own hired house though he must be constantly chained to some guard in turn. His heart and tongue were not bound thereby and he could proclaim his mission to all who would listen. No hour when on guard could have been dull for any of the soldiers, for Paul's experiences in travel must have made many a conversation interesting. His earnestness and sincerity in speaking of Jesus Christ must have won fullest respect. After a lapse of only three days Paul sent for the Jews living in Rome. These men had been banished under Claudius (Acts 18:2) but were permitted to return under Nero. The story of recent years was presented. They expressed general ignorance concerning these facts, but asked for a special audience. Then a "great number" assembled for a conference which lasted from morning until night. Similar results were met as when on his three missionary journeys. Some believed in the teachings and others held to their traditions and did not recognize in Jesus Christ their long promised Messiah. In reply Isaiah 6:9-10 was quoted against them and announcement made that now he would give his further attention to the Gentiles in whose behalf he had been commissioned long ago at Damascus. Another period of two years was spent in this first Roman imprisonment. During that time four wonderful epistles were written—Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians and Philemon. When in Rome four years ago the writer read with increased interest these four letters which Paul sent forth at the time. Each one was to a Christian group established on one of his major journeys. He kept living the declaration in his letter to the Romans when in Corinth: "I am not ashamed of the gospel for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."
