

Local Happenings

"The Singing Fool," presented at Pendleton a couple of nights last week, was quite an attraction to Heppner folks, and a number went over from here to see and hear Al Jolson in the Vitaphone production. Among those going over on Friday and Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ferguson, Mrs. Vivian Kane, Miss Margaret Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoppold, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Poulson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Healey, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Turner and daughters, and a number of others whose names we failed to get. They pronounced the entertainment excellent.

Judge R. L. Bengt, Clerk Gay M. Anderson and Roadmaster W. L. McCaleb motored to Portland Sunday afternoon. Commissioners G. A. Bleakman and L. P. Davidson are also in the city, these gentlemen being there to attend conventions of these officers in session this week. Sheriff George McDuffee is there for the sheriffs' meeting, and District Attorney Notson will be present for the meeting of sheriffs and district attorneys beginning on Friday. Report has it that every county in the state is represented by some of these various officials there this week.

John S. Johnson and Chas. Nord were lone residents in this city on Saturday. Mr. Johnson, who farms near that city, states that about 40 per cent, only, of the 1928 wheat crop of the lone country has been sold so far, the remainder being held in the warehouse for an advance in price, which he thinks will not likely come before March or April.

This office acknowledges a very pleasant call on Saturday from R. H. Jonas, formerly editor of the Central Oregonian at Prineville, and for a great many years engaged in newspaper work in Oregon. He is now on the road as a traveling man and makes his home at Heppner, but is planning to get back into the newspaper game again.

Miss Mary Clark, who was ill recently at a hospital in Eugene where she is a senior at the university, is reported to be recovered sufficiently to take examinations at the close of the fall term. She is expected Saturday to spend the holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark.

Sheriff elect, Clarence Bauman, is in Portland this week, where he will gather some useful information regarding the conducting of the office he assumes the first of the year. Mr. Bauman will make his home in the city, having secured the Irwin residence in the southeast part of town.

Sheriff McDuffee picked up a stolen car here one day last week on information received from Onalaska, Wash. W. W. Eden, of Portland, from the department of justice, was here on Saturday from Portland, to take charge of the machine.

County Agent Smith, who has been confined at Heppner hospital for the past ten days, fighting off an attack of pneumonia, is reported to be improving, and was able to leave the hospital and return home the first of the week, though not able yet to get to the office.

Miss Vera Mahoney arrived home on Thursday evening last and will remain here for the Christmas holidays, a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mahoney. Miss Mahoney resides at Seattle where she holds a position.

Edward Chinn, proprietor of Elk-horn restaurant, has been confined to his bed at his home in this city for the past week, under the care of a physician, fighting off an attack of pneumonia. He is reported to be improving.

A license to wed was issued by Clerk Anderson on Saturday to Chas. Nord and Maggie Bowers, both prominent residents of Ione. The wedding was an event of Sunday at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allstott of Rhea creek were visitors in this city Saturday, spending some time in shopping around. Out their way, fog and slight freezing has been the order for some time.

C. H. Latourell, of Latourell Auto Co., arrived home from Portland on Tuesday. He had spent a few days in the city on business, and drove up in a new Ford car.

Max Gorkle, buyer of hides, pelts and wool, was here from Pendleton the first of the week.

King George

While all England, as well as the entire civilized world, is anxiously scanning reports of his condition, King George of England is lying ill in London. The King has shown surprising resistance during his ordeal, but there seems to be little hope for his recovery.

Deputy Sheriff Howard McDuffee was accompanied to Pendleton on Saturday by his father, Geo. McDuffee, and took the civil service examination. Upon his retirement as deputy sheriff the first of the year, Howard will enter the government service in the prohibition department. He has been completing arrangements to move to Portland, and Mrs. McDuffee has been visiting at the home of her parents in Corvallis for some time.

Chas. Smith, county agent of Morrow county, was in Hermiston Thursday for the turkey shipment. Mr. Smith lives at Heppner and there were many birds from that section shipped with the Hermiston consignment.—Hermiston Herald.

L. Van Marter and family expect to spend Christmas at the home of Mr. Van Marter's father at Montecano, Wash.

Anson Wright and son Walter were visitors in the city on Saturday from their home at Hardman. Stephen Thompson is home from O. A. C. to spend the Christmas vacation with home folks.

Seed Crops Popular In Central Oregon

Production of seed crops is proving popular in central Oregon, particularly in Lake county, according to F. L. Ballard, Corvallis, state county agent leader. Since Lake county's outlet for agricultural products is over a long branch line of the Southern Pacific railroad, freight rates are high. By compressing the product of 125 to 150 acres of hay land into a single carload of seed instead of into 25 to 30 carloads of hay, however, a step is made toward solving the transportation problem.

Last month, for the first time in history, a carload of alfalfa seed was sold in Lakeview, and early this month the first carload of clover seed went out. Largely responsible for this new enterprise is Philip T. Fortner, Lake county agent. Mr. Fortner saw the possibilities of seed production in Lake county because of its similarity to conditions in Wyoming and Idaho where he had served as county agent.

A few farmers were producing red clover seed but the volume was not large enough to pay. Mr. Fortner encouraged other farmers to produce seed crop. Alfalfa plants were noted seeding profusely along irrigation ditches and fence rows. A few farmers were persuaded to leave small acreages for observation. The seed set splendidly and a new industry seems to have started.
