CONGRATULATIONS, ARLINGTON.

ARLINGTON will get its bridge across the Columbia, meaning another good connection between Oregon and Washington. Automobiles going through Arlington and more prosperity for that fast-growing little city.

We have little sympathy for the attitude of certain Portland interests regarding this bridge, the same interests having shown a great deal of shortsightedness and narrow-mindedness in regard to a certain other bridge that was proposed to span the Columbia at Longview.

The Portland Oregonian is responsible for the statement that such bridges as the one to be built at Arlington are rightly a part of the state highway system and should not be permitted to be put into the hands of private capital.

The Portland interests that object to the building of the Arlington bridge, are the same that would like very much to have the state build a toll road that would lessen the distance many miles from Portland to the coast.

TIME TO AWAKEN.

WHETHER or not it is possible to resurrect the Heppner Commercial club, a much-needed organization, Heppner's business interests should get together long enough and do it immediately.

Dr. Frank Crane Says:

This newspaper will for some weeks continue to publish the work of the late Dr. Frank Crane. Dr. Crane recently passed away at Nice, France. Before leaving for Europe he had prepared a number of articles in advance.

THE PASSING OF THE HORSE

It seems as if the day of the horse is about over, at least in the city.

For centuries the horse has been the symbol of speed and power. He was transportation. The oldest sculptures represent rampant battle steeds, and heroes have generally been sculptured riding on horses.

But this age of motor cars is finding him too slow. We may love horses and delight in them, but apparently they are bound to go.

Agitation is now taking place in London to ban the slow-moving horse-drawn vehicle from the crowded streets.

One daily paper says: "Officialdom stands idle while every day lumbering horse-drawn vans and carts cause long traffic blocks in congested thoroughfares. The loss and inconvenience caused by the traffic delays are incalculable, and yet nothing is done to ameliorate the nuisance."

In some congested regions of Paris, such as the Place de l'Opera and the Place Vendome, horse traffic is banished within certain prescribed hours.

The indictment against the horse seems to be that he is slow and that he is dirty.

There is strong support for the suggestion that London should follow the example of Paris.

Others would banish the horse if only for the sake of the animals. One cannot watch without pity horses struggling on the slippery streets.

They are often stationary in the traffic blocks with their noses just above the exhausts of motors giving out foul fumes which have been known to kill human beings.

Altogether it looks as if this age of rapid transit is going to do away with the horse, which has been called "the greatest friend of man."

representative group of business men who are trying to do something in the line of progress, and others not connected with the club should lend their support.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for January 8. OUR HEAVENLY FATHER

Matthew 6:24-34. REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D.

Two topical courses are given in the first and fourth quarters of the year. From April to September the lessons are in the Old Testament on "Prophecy Teaching and Leadership in Judah"—Isaiah on the Restoration.

Only a few verses are given in the lesson each week. In addition careful reading, at least, should be devoted to the other passages indicated by the Lessons Committee.

road on the map and secure some funds from the state. To date all the money that has been spent has come from the county and the Bureau of Public Roads.

In fact, it is more deserving than some other road projects that are claiming the attention of the State Highway commission. Pendleton is making a strong fight for the North and South road up the John Day, a far more expensive road to build and one not nearly of such vital importance to the state system.

By Arthur Brisbane. Champion Boy and Girl. Ford vs. Rockefeller. What Made Standard Oil. Man's Strange Nature.

Part of the Livestock Show activities in Chicago included judging the healthiest boy and girl in the United States.

Thelma Svarstad, a South Dakota girl, who won the female championship, is seventeen years old, blonde, strong, weighs 122 pounds, is 5 feet 2 inches tall, drinks plenty of milk, no tea or coffee, and expects to be a teacher.

The boy champion is William Tobias, of Michigan, fifteen years old, who weighs 130 pounds, is 5 feet 6 inches tall, likes boxing, admires Jack Dempsey, also drinks lots of milk. Milk dealers, please notice this in your advertisements.

From a livestock—and many other—points of view, these are fine American children.

But somewhere in America there is a little baby shivering in its mother's arms, delicate, with a thin little body, a big head, wide anxious eyes, that some day will do things the healthiest boy and girl will never do.

Write that down for your comfort, if you have a child that isn't so robust.

Henry Ford's offhand statement, "No successful boy ever saved money" was not meant literally. He meant that it was better to spend for information than merely to save a few dollars.

The other "world's richest man," John D. Rockefeller, is surely a successful boy, and did save money. He advises young and old to save now, as he hands each one a ten-cent piece with a smile worth a good deal of money.

Ford has high respect for John D. Rockefeller. He said to this writer, "I never saw John D. Rockefeller but once. But when I saw that face I knew what made Standard Oil."

Strange is the nature of man. In New York a young man confesses to strangling a fifteen-year-old girl whom he loved. He says she wanted to kiss him. That is his excuse.

At Brunswick, Ga., Walter Rawlins, in prison, saw his wife, whose complaint had jailed him for wife-beating. He seized a carving knife, dashed from the prison, overtook his wife, stabbed her several times. His excuse is: "I loved my wife so that I would rather see her dead than with somebody else."

The fair Jessie Brown, a stage beauty, once married to Lord Northesk, recently married Mr. Cornelius. Lord Northesk, as her retired husband, came to America led by his ambition to be the fifth husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce. And so it goes.

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

A novel and convenient curtain arrangement for the bathroom is the one where double-tier glass curtains are used. Have one tier extending from the top of the window to the center sash, and the second tier from the center sash to the sill, allowing the bottom edges of both tiers to hang straight.

This makes possible a perfect control of light and air, and at the same time insures privacy. It is also good to sew a strip of very small curtain weights to the hems so that the curtains will hang in neat folds without billowing out with the slightest breeze.

A New Year's Menu

Oyster Cocktail. Roast young duck, Chestnut stuffing. Candied apples—Mashed potato. Creamed spinach—Tomato salad. Burnt almond ice cream. Coffee.

Cranberries in a New Way

From one pine boiling water remove one-half cupful and dissolve a package of lemon-flavored gelatin in it. When cold and beginning to thicken add juice of 1-2 lemon, 1-2 cup chopped celery, 1-2 cup shredded pineapple, 1 cup thick cranberry sauce sweetened, and mold. Can be served as salad with cooked dressing.

Baked Tomato Stuffed with Turkey

Where there are just a few remnants of turkey left, chop the meat, add a few bread crumbs, a little chopped parsley and celery and seasoning. Stuff tomato with mixture, dot generously with butter and bake until crumps are brown.

Quick Caramel Pie

2 cups dark brown sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 1-2 cup thin cream, yolks of 4 eggs and whites beaten separately. Mix all but whites of eggs, beat well, then add whites and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour in pastry-lined pie tin and bake.

To Freshen Cake

Sonk cake that has become dry and hard in cold milk and rebake it in rather a cool oven and it will taste almost like new again. This same scheme may be used to freshen stale bread.

When Pressing Sheets

Use a dampened toothbrush for moistening seams to be pressed. The brush will open the seam as it draws along and facilitates the work.

Many 1929 Lambs Have Been Contracted, Report

Oregon Wool Grower. Considerable contracting of 1929 lambs has already been done. So far as we are able to learn, at the present writing, the top price for ewe lambs is covered by a 13 1-2 cent contract made by a prominent Umatilla county sheep rancher.

This same party sold his wether lambs at 10 1-2 cents. Another Umatilla county sheep man is reported to have sold his cross bred mixed lambs at 11.55. Other sales in this county from some of the larger outfits are at figures very close to 11 cents.

Reports have come in from Union county indicating that one lot has been bought at 11 1-2 cents and another at 10 1-2 cents.

Very little wool contracting has been done so far as we know, although some attempts have been made to tie up with cross bred wools at 35 cents with 30 cents having been offered for fine wools. These in connection with lamb contracts.

General feed conditions are a little tight with hay prices strengthening somewhat and corn easing a little.

Late fall rains are no doubt having a beneficial effect on spring range with most of the sheep men now in position to take care of their feed needs through the winter. A long tough cold spell would, however, make matters bad for a few who are a little short of feed.
