Published every Thursday morning by VAWTER and SPENCER CRAWFORD and entered at the Post Office at Heppner, Oregon, as second-class matter.

ADVERTISING RATES GIVEN ON APPLICATION.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: One Year $2.00, Six Months 1.00, Three Months .75, Single Copies .08.

Official Paper for Morrow County.

EXTEND THE INVITATION.

DISCUSSION arose at the Business Men's Luncheon club Monday as to the advisability of inviting the Oregon Wool Growers' association to meet in Heppner next year.

Heppner is one of the leading wool shipping points of the state; wool, the county's second industry.

As a courtesy to local woolmen, and a demonstration of sympathetic interest in the work of the association, Heppner should invite the woolmen.

THEY SERVED FAITHFULLY.

MANY thorns mingle with the roses that strew the path of him who holds public office.

It would appear that the Eastern Oregon Wheatgrowers league is on the right track to do worthwhile service for the wheatmen.

SIN I John 1:5-10; 2:1-6

REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D.

Holiness is an attribute of God. The simplest survey of life or of self reveals the everywhere-ness of sin.

Numerous passages must be studied in connection with each lesson this quarter.

Those who insist it is hard to keep from doing evil in the present environment will do well to think themselves back into the Garden of Eden where Adam and Eve were part of an unmarred world.

Dr. Frank Crane Says:

This newspaper will for some weeks continue to publish the work of the late Dr. Frank Crane.

THE OTHER WORLD

When you sail across the sea you wonder what all that waste of water is for. It stretches away for miles and miles.

Man thinks that the universe is made for him, but Mr. Pope says that the goose thinks the same thing.

It is stated that there are more living things under the water than in the air.

Curious about that other world! People drown when they are submerged in the water, and those things that inhabit the water generally drown when they come up into the air.

Perhaps that other world of spirits, of which much is imagined, is like that.

We eat the fish when they are cooked, but the fish goes us one better and eats us when we are not cooked.

We have strange stories of mythical beings who inhabit the depths of the sea.

But as far as we know our activities and acquaintances must be confined to this narrow stratum of the earth's atmosphere.

DON'T LAUGH AT PROGRESS!

A PREDICTION has been made that in the future there will be air boats as big or bigger than the largest modern steamers.

Recently the twenty-fifth anniversary of flying was observed.

To go back far into the past, a great many people laughed at Columbus.

From time immemorial, indeed, the pioneers in science and discovery have been hampered in their work by the laughers.

The world is learning its lesson. Today new inventions are greeted with respect.

When the impossible is predicted, remember that was redeemed in the modern progress many a thing thought impossible has become both possible and practicable.

The day of the laughter, the haw-hawer, is drawing to a close.

To control men you must control their IMAGINATION.

Mussolini has old-fashioned ideas and good ones.

That sound idea inspired builders of the old cathedrals.

Wasted Values. Churches Should Be Big. Lions and Sheep. Swearing Off.

The greatest of all waste goes on inside the human brain of which 999 one-thousandths remain idle and unused.

But that will change. Consider what ants and other insects accomplish having been here many million years ahead of us.

A mud wasp, as Fabre shows, is born knowing how to perform a most delicate surgical operation.

day like a lion than one hundred years like a sheep.

Like a man half-heartedly swearing off in the morning, the world is trying to give up war.

The individual must solve his own problems, with the use of will power.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the County Court of the State of Oregon for Morrow County, Executor of the Last Will and Testament of George C. Aiken, deceased, and she has fully qualified.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has filed his final account as administrator c. t. a. of the estate of Alice Chandler Clarke, deceased, and that the County Court of the State of Oregon for Morrow County has appointed Friday, the 11th day of January, 1929, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, as the time and place for hearing objections to said final account.

Notice is hereby given, in accordance with the laws of the State of Oregon, that I have taken up the following described animals at my place 12 miles southeast of Heppner on Rhea creek, and that I will sell said animals at said place to the highest bidder for cash in hand at 10:30 o'clock a. m., Saturday, January 19, 1929, unless the same shall have been redeemed by the owner or owners thereof.

One black mare, white spot in face, ringboned on both front feet, weight about 1300 lbs., blotch brand on left shoulder.

One bay mare, white stripe in face, no visible brands, weight about 1000 lbs.

One black half mule, blotch brand on left shoulder, weight about 900 lbs.

The lonely vigil of the train dispatcher is a picture familiar to everyone.

Perhaps you have never heard of him, yet millions of men, women and children in the United States are quite as dependent upon him as passengers on a railroad train are dependent on a train dispatcher.

He it is who is on the other end of the wire when you turn on an electric light.

Seated quietly at his keyboard—watching the clock, the weather and the delicate instruments which trace the flow of electric energy—his is the task and responsibility of keeping the supply of electric current constant and ready to meet any demand.

Let this service falter but once, and the social, industrial and economic life of the city and the countryside is paralyzed—and even life may be endangered.

But the electric light and power companies have seen to it that the service will not falter.

Thus is life, business and the pursuit of happiness in America made safe and secure every hour of the day, every day of the year.

Every new electrical invention finds an abundance of power ready to serve it.

Through the enterprise of the electric light and power companies, electric power plants and service facilities are being constructed in advance of consumer demand.

Since 1909 the capacity of these plants has been doubled every five years.

Let this service falter but once, and the social, industrial and economic life of the city and the countryside is paralyzed—and even life may be endangered.

But the electric light and power companies have seen to it that the service will not falter.

Thus is life, business and the pursuit of happiness in America made safe and secure every hour of the day, every day of the year.
