Official Paper for Morrow County.

IMPORTANCE OF THE SHEEP INDUSTRY TO EASTERN OREGON.

Baker Evening Herald. Wool growers of Eastern Oregon who are holding the convention of the state association here are the leaders of a great industry whose prosperity is closely linked with the progress of this section of the state.

The sheep industry, it was pointed out by a speaker yesterday, now has an investment of some $50,000,000 in Oregon, with an annual payroll of $15,000,000. While the Willamette valley has a growing sheep industry the big end of the business is concentrated in the eastern part of the state where it is a major industry.

All classes of people are glad the wool growers are having a fair measure of prosperity. They deserve it. The business demands a large investment and is subject to risks from the weather, predatory animals, poison plants, thieves and what not.

THE FARM OUTLOOK.

The country has been aroused in recent months, as it never was previously, to the importance that agriculture bears to general prosperity. Public opinion will see to it that some adequate relief measure is passed. Constructive aid is needed in the marketing and warehousing of farm products in such a way that the farmers will be assured of getting a fair return for their labor and receiving their share of the general prosperity to which their contribution is so great.

What is needed to ensure this prosperity? John J. Watson, president of the International Agricultural Corporation, is among those who hold that warehousing is one of the most important requirements. A difficulty encountered by the farmer is that he must dump his entire crop on the market at one time, whereas the consumption of the crop takes place during the entire

Dr. Frank Crane Says:

This newspaper will for some weeks continue to publish the work of the late Dr. Frank Crane. Dr. Crane recently passed away at Nice, France. Before leaving for Europe he had prepared a number of articles in advance.

HOW TO PICK A WIFE

The most important question in the world for a man to decide is not his attitude toward the tariff, or prohibition, or the income tax, but what manner of woman he is going to live with all his life. Other questions may come and go, but this one goes on forever. To use a term of Bacon's, "It comes home to men's business and bosoms."

- A preacher once came to John Wesley and asked his advice as to whether he should marry a certain woman. "Why ask me?" said Mr. Wesley. "You have already made up your mind or you wouldn't have consulted me." But a few words of counsel may not come amiss. 1. Marry for love. Any other reason, money, fame, convenience, or anything else is disastrous. 2. Marry some one approximately of your age. A marriage between May and December usually does not turn out well. 3. Marry a healthy woman. It may be all right to love a sickly woman, you may make all sorts of poems to her eyebrow and cherish her as an ideal, but, generally, do not marry her. 4. Do not marry a bad woman to reform her, and let no woman marry an evil man to reform him. Let the preachers do that. Marriage is not a reformatory institution, it is for pleasure. 5. Select a woman with a sense of humor. If possible find one who is cheerful. You can overcome almost anything but perpetual gloom. You will find that you need, more than anything else, to be perpetually cheered. Not that you want a Cheshire cat, perpetually grinning, but you want a reasonable amount of cheer. 6. Select a woman with common sense. This goes farthest in the long run. Do not select a fool, even if she has a pretty face. And some fools are beautiful. Do not be determined solely by passion, but use your brain a little, if any. Of course, passion is essential, but marriage is a matter of every-day life.

twelve months of the year. The Government, says Mr. Watson, should assist farmers or associations of farmers in establishing warehouses under government supervision so that the farmer or farm association could properly store and warehouse their surplus crops, receiving for the same proper standard warehouse receipts, acceptable as security for loans on which the farmer could readily borrow for his immediate cash requirements. Thus the farmer would be enabled to sell his crop in an orderly way, not being forced to dump it all on the market at the time of harvest.

Variety is the spice of life—meaning that one may enjoy sunny Southern California or bleak Alaska during the present winter in Morrow county.

JUDGE HAMILTON RETIRES.

JUDGE J. W. HAMILTON, of Roseburg, who has just tendered his resignation as a member of the board of regents of the University of Oregon, has ended a career of 28 years of faithful and productive service with this body. Glowing tributes paid to him by fellow board members and others who know of his later work, cannot, of course, give him full justice, for he began his work long before any of these friends began to observe his activity in this line of public endeavor. When Judge Hamilton became a member of the board of regents the university was lodged in but two or three buildings. Its faculty consisted of only a score or more professors. Its student body numbered only a few hundred. He has seen the institution grow from this to a university of 3200 students at Eugene and 225 more in Portland, with a faculty of more than 200. Its campus now has nearly 30 buildings and still there is not room enough for the demands made upon them. Much of this growth has taken place while Judge Hamilton has been president of the board. As leader of this group of citizens who serve without pay, he has guided the university ably and well, and now as he retires he receives the warmest praise from his associates.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for January 20. CHRIST THE SAVIOUR. Luke 15:3-7; Romans 5:6-10. REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D.

More relates to this theme and Person than any other subject in the world. The world is indeed Christ-centered. While President Coolidge's Thanksgiving proclamation did not mention Christ it was dated Anno Domini—in the year of the Lord. Only New Testament Scripture portions are indicated for research but many could have pertinently been given from the Old Testament. There are many prophecies which refer to Him and one of the strongest evidences of the authority of the Bible is the record of prophecy and its fulfillment in later history.

Search out the facts and teachings in the Scripture portions: Luke 2:11, 30-32; 15:3-7; John 3:14-17; 10:9-11, 14-16, 27, 28; Acts 3:1-18; Romans 5:1-11; Philippians 2:4-11; II Timothy 1:9-10. The Golden Text is a definition of the word "Jesus"—"And thou shalt call his name Jesus; for it is he that shall save his people from their sins." Matt. 1:21. Let it be noted that the historicity of Jesus, the Man of Nazareth, is accepted by individuals and races who do not acknowledge Him as the Christ, meaning the Messiah, the Anointed One. Those who doubt or question may well be referred to both literature and art which finds its glorious basis in Jesus Christ, the Son of God. Saul of Tarsus beheld his Lord as he approached Damascus and evidence thereof is to be seen in the changed life that followed. The letters of Paul are mature conclusions after most careful research and divine revelations. Last month, at the Birthday celebration the very air was ringing with the reechoing of the angel's song, which was first heard by the shepherds of Judah. The angel explained to them "There is born to you this day in the city of David, a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord." Luke 2:11. His life was fully in accord with the claims made concerning Him. He did not fall short in any respect. He outlined his method of working in the parable recorded by Luke. He is the Great Shepherd vitally concerned for each lamb and sheep in the entire flock. His mission in leaving the throne-place in heaven, where He had been from all time with the Father, was to shepherd His sheep and at any cost to Himself. During the 33 years on earth He revealed how intimately He would enter into the life problem of each soul. Mankind was not saved by his exemplary life but only by his supreme sacrifice on the cross at Calvary. Paul presents the matter very clearly in the selected portions in Romans. Man could never make himself righteous in the sight of our holy God. We are justified, not by a lifetime of our acts, but solely as our sins are given to Jesus and His righteousness is imputed on us. He made full atonement for our sins in his sacrificial death on the cross. John also, in parabolic form, pictures the pathway of salvation.
