

Local Happenings

Theodore Anderson made this office a very pleasant call while in the city for a short time on Tuesday from his Eight Mile home. Mr. Anderson, who owns a lot of land in that section and usually has in a big acreage, is seeding but 480 acres this year as against about 1100 acres last season. He has rented a half section to his neighbor, Clive Huston, who is taking up farming on his Eight Mile place again after an absence of a few years, and then Harley Anderson, son of Theodore, is handling a goodly portion of his father's home place along with the Wm. Allison farm adjoining. Mr. Anderson thinks the grain is making it all right and has not suffered so far from freezing, though there is at present a shortage of moisture.

W. P. Mahoney, newly elected president of the Oregon Woolgrowers, accompanied by Mrs. Mahoney and County Agent Smith and Mrs. Smith, motored to Pendleton today, where the gentlemen will attend a meeting of members of the association. Garnet Barratt, one of the newly elected vice presidents of the association, will also attend this meeting, being accompanied to Pendleton by Mrs. Barratt.

David Hynd thinks that the present style of weather is not just the very best for the sheepman, and especially when he has to travel for a good many miles over country roads before he reaches the highway. Out toward Sand Hollow there is a lot of frost on the roads and they make motoring a little risky. Mr. Hynd was in town Monday looking after business.

John Wightman returned the end of the week from Yakima, Wash., where he purchased a number of head of dairy cows to be added to the milk herd at Alfalfa Lawn dairy of Wightman brothers. This dairy is constantly adding new stock with the view of keeping up its reputation as one of the finest dairy herds in this section of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Evans were Wednesday visitors in the city. They report lambing progressing on the Evans farm down Willow creek and they will have a bunch of fine lambs for the early market. The weather conditions are not bad for this work, especially where provision is made to properly care for the stock.

R. B. Rice and his neighbor, Gunnar Lindhe, of the Alpine section, were looking after business interests in this city on Monday. In order to find out anything lately, people from out that way have to take a run to town, as the accumulation of frost on the telephone wires has demoralized the country lines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McCurdy were visitors in the city yesterday from their home below Ione. Both Mr. and Mrs. McCurdy have been on the sick list of late, suffering from influenza, but they are quite well again.

Henry and Leo Gorgor were visitors here from their home north of Ione on Tuesday. Heavy fog still prevails out that way.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Devine were Lexington people in this city for a short time on Wednesday, while shopping.

Walter Luckman of Lena predicts a dry year, basing his judgment on past experience. The fall was too dry, and the winter so far has been far short on moisture, and the condition will not be remedied unless the unusual happens and there is a big fall of snow either in the present month or in February. While this may not necessarily affect the crop yield the coming season, it will cause a serious shortage of grass like to see a heavy snow fall, though it would mean a lot of work for the sheep and cattle man in passing out the feed, but perhaps no more than they are having to undergo at the present. Mr. Luckman spent several hours in town on Saturday while attending to business.

A note to this paper from Mrs. B. W. Gaunt of Cottage Grove, Oregon, states that Mrs. Glen McFerrin was called to Lowry, Mo., to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Earl Hamilton, who was not expected to live. Mrs. Gaunt is making her home with her brother Glen, keeping house for him during the absence of his wife.

Otto Wageman was in the city Tuesday from his ranch north of town. Fog is still thick out that way, but according to Mr. Wageman no damage is resulting and grain is coming along all right.

L. E. Bisbee, who was laid up at home for a week or more with influenza, is out again and able to be at his place of business in the store of Gilliam & Bisbee.

There will be a special meeting of the Past Matrons' club at the home of Mrs. W. O. Dix, on Friday evening at 7:30. Mrs. Eppa Ward, president.

Owing to the special meeting of the Elks on Saturday night, there will be no dance as heretofore announced.—Dean T. Goodman, secretary.

Ed Kelley, who farms the J. O. Turner ranch north of Swaggart buttes, was attending to business here on Saturday.

Harry Duvall, Lexington wheat-raiser, was looking after business in this city on Wednesday forenoon.

Fred Ashbaugh, pioneer resident of the Hardman section, was a visitor in Heppner on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyndal Robison were Eight Mile folks in the city for a short while on Saturday.

Oral Scott, Blackhorse wheat-raiser, was looking after business affairs at Heppner on Tuesday.

Fred McMurray, Ione ranchman, was doing business in this city on Saturday.

Mike Sepanek was a visitor here from his ranch near Alpine on Saturday.

Bankers to be Milkers While Studying Farms

The best milker, the best judge of dairy cows, and the best judge of sheep among Oregon bankers will be determined as a side light this year of the second annual bankers' agricultural short course at Corvallis January 23-25 under the joint auspices of the state college extension service and the agricultural committee of the Oregon bankers association.

The program this year features the dairy and sheep industries and is designed to acquaint bankers with their opportunities in furthering the standard of these projects on Oregon farms. The final day will be spent in Portland inspecting the facilities of the Pacific Co-operative Wool Growers association.

The annual meeting of the Oregon Co-operative council at Salem, January 17 and 18, will consider proposed changes in the Oregon co-operative laws, announced George O. Gatlin, secretary, and marketing specialist of the state college extension service. Thirty associations are members of the council.

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History
—a Six in the price range of the four!

represents 4 years of Development and over a Million miles of Testing

Years ago, the Chevrolet Motor Company designed and built its first experimental six-cylinder motor. This far-sighted step was taken because Chevrolet engineers knew that the six-cylinder motor is inherently the most perfectly balanced motor—the ideal power plant to meet the growing public demand for greater reserve power, faster get-away and, above all—smooth, quiet performance.

Day and night, through winter's cold and summer's heat, the incessant testing went on—until the present motor was developed and finally pronounced correct. At the same time other Chevrolet engineers were perfecting other parts of the chassis. And another great automotive organization—the Fisher Body Corporation—was devoting its gigantic resources to the creation of the finest, sturdiest and most beautiful bodies ever offered on a low-priced automobile. As a result, the Outstanding Chevrolet offers an order of well-balanced excellence—a combination of performance, comfort, beauty and handling ease that is truly remarkable—with a fuel-economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

You owe it to yourself to see and inspect this remarkable car. Come in today!
