To be able to ask a question clearly is two-thirds of the way to getting answered.—Ruskin.

A MAN FOR THE AGES-

A GAIN we are to do honor to one of the greatest of Americans. Abraham Lincoln, whose deeds and words are to go down through the years as authentic inspirations to all who are humane and loyal American citizens. Lincoln is a man for the agesan immortal symbol of the power tain. of mind and heart over environment. Think of him in his poor log cabin home, reading by the light of a candle; trudging hours for a book; splitting rails and clerking in stores. And then emerging as will undoubtedly back their action by doing the work needed to put it by doing the work needed to put it by doing the work needed to put it works. "Honest Abe." the lawyer who never lied. And then growing out of his environment to national prominence and winning the highest of-fice within the gift of the people.

His honesty, his brilliant gifts, his deep humanity, his astonishing wisdom-these were too strong to be long hidden. Naturally, of themselves, they unfold, as a flower to the sunlight, to shed their beneficence over the length and breadth of the land.

It was not accident or "pull" or inheritance that brought Lincoln to the leadership of his people. Lincoln because of his qualities of mind and heart and soul, walked as a giant, and was seen of all men.

The world always discovers such men as Lincoln—they are too rare to be allowed to remain obscure.

SEWERAGE DISPOSAL PLAN.

QUESTION agitating Heppner people for many years - at least a question that has periodically come in for consideration and much talk, is that of adequate means of caring for the sew-erage needs of the city. Just now this matter is receiving some intelligent attention by the city council, in cooperation with a number of the leading property owners along Main street. At the meeting of the council on Monday evening some preliminary estimates were looked over, and the move toward definite action is gathering some momen-tum. While there is nothing of a definite nature to be given out at this time, it is gratifying to know that earnest investigation of this important subject is now being made, with prospects brighter than ever before that a problem long vexing residents along some of the principal streets may ultimately be

A sewerage system that contemplates taking in the entire city is perhaps not practical at this time, but there is necessity of providing some means for relief along Main street and the two streets adjacent, and it is now beginning to dawn on numerous citizens, when they look into this question intelligently, it is not so extremely hard to get what is wanted. We hope that de-velopments in the immediate future will be such that we can furnish more definite information along

The ac vertising value to the town would be great. That the tournament could be run off here as well as elsewhere is attested by the fact that Heppner has one of the very basketball courts in the dis

Some towns having such an op-protunity confronting them, would not hesitate. A young business man of Heppner cited the way they do of heppner cited the way they do matter was presented to a civic organization of which he was a member, members would immediately pop up on all sides declaring their enthusiasm for it. In no time at all a committee would be appointed to look after the details and everyone present would be a self-appointed booster and promoter of the pro-ject. They put things across with a

No financial obligation for bringing the tournament here need be considered if everyone gets behind it. Approximately $750 is the esti-mated cost of running the tournament. That this can easily be taken care of by the ticket sale, is cer-her good faith and assure success of the tournament. When this is done there is little doubt that the tournament will be played here.

February 10 REPENTANCE AND PAITH Luke 15:11-24; Acts 2:32-39

REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D. Thus far during the quarter of topical studies we have considered the Trinity, Scriptures and Sin. Now we give attention to human experiences and observe how the Scriptures reveal the ways by means of which the needs of man are met in the provisions of God. How shall man act when conscious of the deadly work of sin? The answer is in the present title "Repent-ance and Faith." Passages for very careful study are again indicated: Isaiah 1:10-20; Ezekiel 18:20-23, 27-32; Mark 2:1-12; Luke 3:1-14, 15:11-24; Acts 2:32, 39; Hebrews 11:1-10. Further back in in his life. Further, he would go the Old Testament than Isaiah are back home and tell his father that almost countless references to sin and its consequences. Also from the very first were similar encour-agements like the message from Jehovah through the prophet Isaiah "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow."

Ezeklel shows the need of some radical action on the part of man when he declares "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." John the

He was eager to get where he would be without those safeguarding, restraining influences that can mean so much to every child. He asked for his share of the money and went away to spend it in the wrong things he had been thinking about. Soon he was hopelessly stranded and had no asset but misery from his experience.

Then he thought things through and made the worthy resolve to seek a servant's place with his father. He changed his whole view on life. He was not merely sorry because he was stranded but was heart-sick because of his wrong do ing and resolved that such sins back home and tell his father that he, a son, had not only sinned against him but also against the love of God. There would be no excuse-just a humble and sincere confession. Read that parable in Luke again and note the gracious reception by the father. This act is just a type of divine love and forgiveness.
