

Local Happenings

A postal received this week by Mrs. R. W. Turner from her husband, was written at Monte Carlo, Europe, under the date of January 24. Mr. Turner made no attempt at describing the very interesting places he has visited since landing on the continent, reserving that until he has returned home. He did remark, however, that Monte Carlo is very interesting and the scenery there is said to be the most magnificent in Europe. Here he visited the Oceanograph museum, the Cathedral and the Casino, and many other of the wonders of the part of the world. He is still enjoying the best of health.

Not being able to make it to town very well in the car, Lawrence Redding reverted to the more ancient mode of travel, hitching a span of mules to the sleigh and made the trip in good shape on Tuesday, returning home Wednesday morning. Mr. Redding states that he will dispose of his horse and mule equipment on the farm and is now going in for tractor farming, having purchased a machine just recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mahoney arrived home on Saturday from Phoenix, Arizona, where they had been while Mr. Mahoney was attending the meeting of the National Wool-growers association. They had a very pleasant journey, considering the time of year, and the weather conditions were fine at the convention city. Returning, Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney spent several days with friends at Los Angeles.

The weather has been extremely cold in the Hardman vicinity for the past two weeks, and the snow is deep up that way, is the report of Lotus Robison, who has been making trips this week to Heppner and taking out feed on a pair of bob sleds. To date stock has been getting along well, and most of the people up that way have plenty of feed.

On tomorrow evening, Friday, the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will hold a get-together meeting, being entertained by the Heppner lodges. There will be a pot luck supper and it is requested that each member bring something in their basket to contribute to the feed. An interesting program will also be presented.

John Wightman departed for Portland on Friday night to be with his daughter, Annie, who came from Corvallis. Miss Wightman had been suffering recently from injuries received a number of months ago when hurt by a fall from a horse, and Mr. Wightman is having her treated by specialists.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Adkins are the proud parents of an 8-pound son, born on the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday, February 12, whom they have named Abraham. Mother and babe are reported to be doing nicely, and Albert is mighty tickled that Mr. Stork picked him a boy.

Martin Stewart is rapidly convalescing from a serious illness that prevented him from attending to his lambing duties for two weeks at the Wm. Pedro ranch near Ceil. Claude Knowles is now filling the position of part-time head chef at the Currin and Barr lunch counter.

B. H. Peck spent a few hours in the city on Monday from his wheat farm near Lexington. Mr. Peck had a quantity of good wheat straw to dispose of for feed and the continued cold weather has created a demand for the most of it by stockmen who could reach his feed lots.

Egbert Young was able to make it to town from his Eight Mile farm on Saturday. Its either come by sleigh, horseback or a foot from out that way these days, as there is not much chance to drag a car through the deep snow and over unbroken roads.

Raymond Ferguson and Al Bergstrom of Ferguson Chevrolet company, departed on Wednesday for Portland where they are attending the meeting of Chevrolet executives and dealers being held there today. They expect to return tomorrow.

Elmer Hake, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident more than a month ago, is now able to be about after having been confined during the interim. Though his head is still bandaged he is reported well out of danger.

The Women's Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet next Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors, at 2:30. Mrs. C. W. Smith will have charge of the program, the subject of which will be "Africa."

B. F. Swaggart, pioneer stockman and farmer of Swaggart buttes, made the trip to town Tuesday on horseback.

Constance King, New York night club dancer, took a nap and missed a heavy date with former Crown Prince Ernest of Saxony. Unlike the story, the Prince did not wait to awaken her.

The newly elected and appointed officers of Ruth Chapter No. 32, O. E. S., officiated at the regular meeting on Friday evening, when four candidates received the degrees of the order. The work was put on in a very efficient manner. Under "good of the order" a short program was rendered, Miss Gladys Bengt giving a couple of readings and Miss Kate Ede rendering two vocal solos, with Mrs. Raymond Ferguson at the piano. Light refreshments of pie and coffee were served at the close of the session.

A. H. Nelson, who farms north of Lexington, believes growing crops will be greatly benefitted by the heavy snow providing it does not go off too rapidly. Mr. Nelson was a Heppner business visitor Monday.

Frank Shively, proprietor of the Shively blacksmith shop, departed by stage Sunday for St. Martins springs where he will undergo treatment for lumbago. He expected to be gone a week.

John Turley got in Saturday from Coburg, Oregon, where he has been spending the most of the winter. He expects to be here during the spring and summer months, working with sheep.

E. A. Lindeken and brother-in-law, R. O. Stone, were Heppner visitors Saturday from the Lindeken farm near Ione. Mr. and Mrs. Stone arrived in Morrow county recently from Portland.

Noah Pettyjohn, who milks a bunch of cows in connection with his wheat farming activities, was transacting business in the city Tuesday from Morgan.

Burton H. Peck of Social Ridge had little complaint to make of the present winter weather when in town Monday, except to note the inconveniences of travel.

Dr. Clarke of Portland, EYE SIGHT SPECIALIST, in Heppner, Sunday, Feb. 24th, at Hotel Heppner. Consult him about your eyes.

Katherine Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, was ill for several days this week, suffering ptomaine poisoning.

Mat Halvorsen, wheatraiser from the Ione section, was transacting business in the city yesterday.

Rose Gallagher, New York actress, is the bride of George Loft, Jr., the son of the Candy King, and a noted sportsman.

Tennis Star May Wed

Suzanne Lenglen, famous tennis player, and Baldwin M. Baldwin, son of a wealthy California family, who is reported to be about to wed Mlle. Lenglen.

Martin Lovgren, Eight Mile wheatraiser, was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

Harvey Miller, north Lexington wheatraiser, was in the city Tuesday.

"May I ask," said the interviewer, "why you paint none but nudes?" "Certainly," replied the painter. "The styles change so rapidly in clothing that a picture would be out of date almost before the paint is dry."

"While I do not positively assert that Jones is a dishonest man," said Jones' acquaintance, "I strongly recommend people who shake hands with him to count their fingers carefully when he leaves go."

At the Musicals
"What a marvelous strain that is!" said the musical genius.
"Yes," said the unappreciative, "I too feel it."

Parson—"Brother Jones, does your daughter trust in God?"
Brother J.—"She must—judging from the company she keeps."

WANTS
Dr. Clarke of the Clarke Optical Co., 202 and 203 Merchants Trust Bldg., 6th and Wash. Sts., Portland, Ore., EYE SIGHT SPECIALISTS, will be in Heppner all day and evening.
