

BOARDMAN

The Christian Endeavor had a delightful party Friday night at Root's hall with about 25 present. After an evening of games a fine lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Jenkins and daughter Elvira left Sunday by motor for Seattle. The Jenkins family has lived on the project since early pioneer days and they have a nice place on the west end, which they have rented to Raymond Shane. Mr. Jenkins was road overseer here for several years.

Mrs. Neal Bleakney and four children of Echo were week-end visitors with her mother Mrs. H. H. Weston.

Mrs. Colosso and children came up from Portland and spent the week end with her husband who is section foreman at Coyote.

E. T. Messenger and family were Pendleton visitors Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barlow and Miss Evelyn Mefford motored to Heppner Sunday.

M. Mulligan spent the week end in Pendleton.

Chas. Witherell who is pumper at Messner has been called to Arlington by the illness of his wife.

A letter to H. H. Weston from Chas. Barnes told of some of the places of interest he and Geo. Agee visited in sunny California where it rained much of the time. El Centro, Frisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento and all places of interest were visited and Charlie says that he wouldn't trade half of Oregon for the whole (darn) state of California.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Root and son were guests Sunday at Mr. Root's brother's in Hermiston.

Mrs. Ves Attebury has gone to Spokane to visit her daughter, Mrs. Johnson.

The Grange gave an especially fine dance Saturday night. There was a large attendance and everyone seemed to have a good time. The home orchestra provided the music.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson is expecting a visit from her sister and husband whose home is in Illinois. They are in California at present and will arrive here some time in March.

Brice Dillabough is driving a new Star sedan purchased at Heppner.

The Meffords called on the Millers Sunday afternoon. Millers live on the Nizer place. It is hoped that the Boardman people will extend the friendly, cordial hand to the new people on the project. There are several new families here and it is indeed lonely for a "stranger in a strange land" unless the older residents show a friendly attitude.

J. R. Johnson has returned from The Dalles where he was under the care of an eye specialist. Mr. Johnson has been having a case of iritis which was extremely painful. His eye is much improved at present but he continues to wear colored glasses for a time.

April 13 is the date set for the declamatory contest at Heppner and it is the hope and aspiration of Boardman to place first this year. Each year Boardman gets one or two second places but an extra effort will be made this year to bring home a first.

Nels Kristensen has purchased a Ford delivery truck.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spagle who have lived on the east end for the past two years and who are moving this week to the Carpenter place, Mrs. Glen Hadley entertained a group of neighbors at a pleasant party Sunday evening. A Treasure Hunt was an especially pleasing feature of the evening's merriment. Coffee and cake were served at midnight. Present were the Meads, Kings, Kristensens, Humphreys, Grosses, Cooneys, Spagles and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Ella Shell came home Saturday from Umatilla where she has been for several weeks. While there she had quite a siege of flu. Friends enjoyed reading a little poem, "The Chimook," written by Mrs. Shell, printed in last week's Mirror. This poem was also published in the Oregon Journal on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allen and Mildred visited Sunday with Arthur Allen and family who are again located at Arlington after residing in Condon for some time. Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. Kelly, was a guest Sunday of Mrs. Emma Sherman.

Grandpa and Grandma Nickerson are living in the Rayburn house at present.

Boardman water pipes are being thawed out and Boardman residents again feel free to take a bath without counting the cost of labor. Balengers and Gorhams were the only persons whose water pipes did not freeze up.

The second of the series of card parties given by the Home Economics club was held at the Ransier home Monday night. 32 were present making 8 tables. Mrs. Ballenger and Mr. Kunze were high score holders and Mrs. Myers and Mr. Houghton low. Another party will be given at Root's in the near future. A fine lunch was served. Everyone has a splendid time at these parties to which everyone is invited. A small charge of 35c per couple is made.

The second Economic Conference is to be held this week-end at Hermiston starting February 27 and lasting four days. The first day is devoted to the livestock section, the second to poultry, Friday, farm crops and bookkeepers, Saturday, dairy and farm management. Some of the specialists from O. A. C. will attend and the meeting will be well worth anyone's time.

Glen Young was hobbling with a cane about town the first of the week, the result of a sprain to his right knee received while sleigh riding in Eight Mile Saturday evening. Being about four miles from home at the time it was necessary for him to ride the distance on horseback, quite a painful procedure. The sprain was caused when he dug his foot into a hard snowbank while guiding a sled at a high rate of speed to avoid hitting a woman on the track.

That excellent complexion, which did steal the eyes of young and old. —Shakespeare.

Today I shall talk about the normal skin—the skin that is neither thick nor thin, but strikes a happy balance between the two. It is the skin that is often possessed by the woman between twenty and thirty. After that age the ornamental skin is likely to become either slightly dry or slightly oily, according to the care it receives, the elements it comes in contact with and the tendency it possessed when normal.

If you have a normal skin, you are indeed fortunate. But whether the skin is young or mature, it will need at least three beauty aids in addition to make-up. These are: A cleanser, a fundamental cream and a bracing lotion. The cleanser should consist of a light non-feeding cream or a good soap made of vegetable oils (to be used with warm water), or a soap substitute (to be used with slightly warmer water).

The fundamental cream will either be one that has nourishing properties or one that is corrective. The lotion should be one that has the power to stimulate the circulation, to act as an astringent and as a foundation for make-up.

The young normal skin needs only to follow the basic rules suggested above. The more mature normal skin will need in addition to the stimulating agents more astringents and, in general, stronger preparations.

The first step in the treatment for the normal skin is to use the cleansing cream to remove all dust and grime. Perhaps the skin for all its youth may show a few blackheads or open pores. If this is the case, a penetrative washing preparation should be used. Make a little paste with hot water in the palm of your hand, and rub the mixture into the skin with the thumb and forefinger, employing a gentle rotary motion.

After the cleansing comes the fundamental cream, which may be either a beautifying skin food or a corrective cream, as some are too thick or too oily for it. The thicker the skin, the lighter should be the cream, for in this case the trouble is usually a lack of circulation and the skin is already full of fatty substances.

If the cream is to be a stimulating one (and this type is more widely used by the mature normal skin), do not rub it in, as the skin may be sensitive, and hard rubbing will cause a slight irritation. Simply "pat it on" and let it work by itself.

After you have removed the stimulating cream you are ready for your skin toning lotion which should be patted on with cotton and allowed to dry partially; then smooth it over.

The Rabbitville school bell stopped ringing on February 21st and Miss Rabbit, the teacher, arose from her seat and said: "Today we will have a short session and celebrate Washington's Birthday. Bobbie Rabbit, you may come to the board."

Bobbie did as he was told and then looked at his teacher. "Please write 'cat' Bobbie wrote CAT."

"Pretty good," said Miss Rabbit. "Pretty good nothing—its PERFECT!" snapped Bobbie.

"That's correct, my dear, you must stand up for what you know is right in this world."

Finally Miss Rabbit rang the bell. "We will have our George Washington hour," she said. "Theophilus Rabbit, you may come up and say a few words about George Washington."

Theophilus started to go on the platform. Suddenly he slipped and fell sprawling on the floor. All the Rabbits began to titter.

"My dear children," began Miss Rabbit, "this should be a lesson for you all. George Washington laughed at difficulties as people laughed at him. When he fell down, he got up and kept on going. Come, Theophilus, and let's hear what you have to say."

The Rabbit began: "When George Washington wanted to make the flag of the United States of America he went to Betsy Ross and asked her to help him. He said we should have a six pointed star on our flag, but she said we could make a five pointed star with one cut of the scissors."

There was a loud clapping as the speaker stepped from the platform. "Of course you know, dear children," said Miss Rabbit, "that the stars and the blue on our flag come from the stars in a blue heaven, and the bars from the beautiful rainbow. It is indeed a wonderful and very beautiful flag. Can any one tell us more about it?"

"It has never been defeated!" said Billie Rabbit.

"Fine!" exclaimed Miss Rabbit.
