

Local Happenings

The editor of this paper received a card the first of the week from R. W. Turner, dated Jerusalem, Feb. 5. His company had arrived at the ancient city two days before and they were putting in the time to good advantage, visiting just as rapidly as possible, all the points of interest thereabouts. Some places mentioned were Bethlehem, Nazareth, Sea of Galilee, Joseph's tomb, Jacob's well, etc. Mr. Turner did not state just when he would be leaving that part of the world on the return trip, but as he is expected home by near the middle of March, it is presumed he is quite well on the return journey at this time, and may reach New York again by March 1. He planned to take in the inauguration of President Hoover at Washington on March 4.

J. T. Ayers of Pine City, who was in the city on Monday, reports the snow going pretty slowly out that way, no rise in the creek, and hay getting mighty short. It has been necessary for the sheepmen to ship in a lot of corn for feed, but stock has done well, and those who were caught with early lambing have pulled through quite well to date. Mr. Ayers hopes to see a break come right soon, as the winter has been fully long enough.

Announcements were received the last of the week from Bandon, Oregon, of the arrival of a daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDuffee. The young lady was born on Feb. 19 and has been named Lois June. Mr. McDuffee is a teacher in the Bandon school. The grandparents at Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McDuffee, are receiving congratulations upon this their first grandchild.

Jim Burnside was in town Monday from his ranch near Hardman. He has been in the midst of lambing his band of ewes and reports better than 100 per cent of lambs to date, regardless of the severe weather. Out his way the snow is deep yet and if it goes off no faster than it has up to date, many weeks will elapse before the hills and plains become bare.

Sterling Fryrear was in a very happy frame of mind when he stepped into the G. T. office Tuesday to announce that he was now the father of a daughter. The little lady was born at Bend on Monday, Feb. 25, and mother and babe are reported to be doing well. Mrs. Fryrear is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Triplett in Bend.

Mrs. W. T. Brown, sister of Mrs. W. O. Minor, arrived from her home at Saint John, Wash., on Tuesday morning for a visit at the Minor home. Mrs. Minor, who has been quite ill for several weeks, first with influenza and then with neuralgia and other complications, is now improving and well on the road to recovery.

Roy Quackenbush states that the snow in his locality on Rhea creek is slowly melting off and some of the side hills are now showing bare ground. The moisture is going into the ground, and the creek is showing a very slight rise. He does not look for much high water in Rhea creek.

Geo. N. Peck was looking after business affairs here on Saturday and rejoicing that the big blanket of snow out Clark's canyon was just gradually settling down and the moisture going into the ground. He thinks the crop outlook is extra good at this time.

Walter Luckman, Butter creek stockman, was looking after business in Heppner on Friday. It has been pretty difficult getting about through the deep snow and drifts out his way, but having plenty of feed the Luckman stock has been doing well.

Earl Simonton is reported to have had a slight stroke of paralysis at his home west of Butter creek. He had a similar stroke last year but appeared to be recovering from that attack when he was stricken again.—Echo News.

A. J. Chaffee, secretary of Willow Lodge No. 66, I. O. O. F., represented the lodge at the Umatilla-Morrow convention in Milton last week. He reports that the convention will be held in Heppner next February.

H. O. Ely, prominent farmer of Morgan, is a patient in Heppner hospital, suffering a severe attack of quinsy. Mr. Ely was brought to the hospital the first of the week.

R. B. Rice was in the city from his home at Artesian ranch on Monday. Winter still prevails out that way, but the snow is gradually melting away.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gemmill of Helix were visitors the fore part of the week at the home of Mr. Gemmill's mother, Mrs. Emma Gemmill in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brosnan were Butter creek people in the city on Saturday, visiting at the home of Mr. Brosnan's mother, Mrs. Jerry Brosnan.

J. O. Rasmus has been unable to perform his duties at the garage of Vaughn & Goodman this week, being confined at home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Poulson motored to Portland on Friday, Mrs. Poulson remaining in the city for medical treatment.

Mrs. Blanche Watkins, accompanied by her son Francis, was a visitor here on Saturday from their home at Irrigon.

Frank Engleman, lone merchant, accompanied by Mrs. Engleman, was a business visitor in this city on Monday.

Word received by friends here announces the very serious illness of Jack McCullough at his home in Portland.

ENJOY FINE TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. French Burroughs of Jordan Siding, returned during the past week from a journey that took them as far south as Florida and Cuba. Leaving home on the first of January, Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs journeyed east to Missouri, where they visited with their son, Glen and his family at Kirksville for a short time, then on to Florida, to enjoy the mild winter climate of that far southeastern corner of the United States for a few weeks. While there they took a run across the straights to Cuba, and then returned home via the southern route, visiting on the way in California. Upon arriving home at Rhea creek, Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs found their place well snowed in, as they had arrived back in Morrow county before the warmer weather had got in its work and the snow melted off. They report having enjoyed the trip immensely.

Bringing a New Kind of Store-Service to Your Door

- a Store Service founded on the Golden Rule;
- a Store Service attuned to local needs;
- a Store Service backed by National Resources buying goods for more than a thousand Stores;
- a Store Service that will inspire confidence in our merchandise;
- a Store Service that sells for Cash, eliminating expensive Credit and Delivery overhead;

WHEN MR. J. C. PENNEY opened the small store in Kemmerer, Wyoming in 1902, he had a vision of Local Service for that community.

That first small store filled a definite need. It proved its worth to the people of Kemmerer, thru Service—in Ideals, in Merchandise Values, in Thrifty Prices.

And every J. C. Penney Company Store—this Store—must prove its worth as a LOCAL SERVICE ENTERPRISE.

Because we operate more than a thousand stores does not reduce the individual store's responsibility; THIS STORE, and this store alone, must PROVE itself as a definite asset to this community and must fill a tangible shopping need to its people.

Because of our National Resources and Economical Buying and Distribution facilities, our New Store will be well equipped to supply you with Dry Goods, Wearing Apparel, Shoes and Furnishings of highest quality at lowest possible prices.

Our New Store will have a Cordial Courtesy Service. Its one idea will be to "Pack Your Dollars Full of Value and Satisfaction."
