

Local Happenings

Farming activities are lively in the county with the advent of spring, and reports from all sections indicate that the ground is in ideal shape for plowing. Leonard Carlson of Gooseberry says that every bit of the snow went into the ground in his section. "Ground is in the best condition this spring that I have ever seen it in my farming experience," he says. "Usually the ground cracks badly when it starts to dry, some of the cracks being an inch or more wide, but this spring no such cracking is in evidence. The grain is making a good stand, and prospects for a crop are bright."

H. E. Yarnell, of Ione, started plowing operations with his big tractor last week. He finds the ground well mottled to a depth of four feet, and in excellent shape for plowing. He will plow 600 acres this spring.

A "handy" Ford, belonging to one of the workmen and parked on the hill near the new reservoir, was jarred loose from its moorings when struck by a truck Wednesday morning and took a run down to the highway. It nose-dived over a rock bluff, jammed up its fore parts considerably, but remained right side up, with the left hind wheel smashed. The front fenders were curled under by the impact but the jar was not sufficient to break the windshield. Just what damage was done to the chassis was not ascertained at the time a representative of this paper viewed the wreck.

Edw. Lindken of Ione was attending to business here on Wednesday. Mr. Lindken was farming the Friewald land north of Ione, but has been relieved of that contract by the fact that Mr. Friewald has disposed of the land to Dwight Misner. He still has some 600 acres of land in wheat, lying to the south of Ione, but as Mr. Lindken does tractor farming he desires to handle a larger acreage, and is therefore looking over lands that he may find up this way. He does not wish to leave Morrow county, so he states.

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford visited over the week-end in Pendleton at the home of Mrs. Crawford's sister, Mrs. James Colley, returning home Tuesday morning. Going over Saturday they struck a good-sized blizzard on Franklin hill that covered the surrounding country with a blanket of snow in a few minutes' time. Tire trouble delayed their journey going, and they are indebted to the Pat Doherty family for their gracious hospitality during the several hours awaiting repairs.

There is not room for more than 1000 sacks of wheat in the Ione Elevator company warehouse and elevator at the present, says Cole Smith, manager. A large part of last year's crop there is unsold, and it will take considerable movement to make room for the new crop. Three carloads of wheat shipped from there last week-end was the first movement of grain for several weeks.

Alex Green took out a new Chevrolet 4-door sedan from the garage of Ferguson Chevrolet Co. this week, and the same company disposed of used cars to Aulta Coxen, Ray Oviatt and A. Henderson. They also received a carload of new Chevys on Wednesday.

J. T. Kirk was able to get out of the house this week, the first time in about six weeks, being confined with a severe attack of influenza. Mrs. Kirk has also been ill for the past four weeks and is yet unable to leave the house.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark returned the first of the week from a visit of a few days in Portland. They enjoyed a visit with their daughter Marjorie, U. of O. student from Eugene, in Portland during spring vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Summers (nee Annabel Howard) were in Heppner yesterday from their home at Yakima, Wash., to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Howard's brother, the late Ralph Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Howard and son, Marion, accompanied the body of their son and brother, the late Ralph Howard, to Heppner yesterday, from Wapinitia, for burial in Heppner cemetery.

Jack Holt in AVALANCHE, by Zane Grey, Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

A party of Heppner fans taking in the Edwards-Demetrel wrestling match at Pendleton Friday evening was composed of L. Van Marter, Harry Duncan, Art Miller and Jasper Crawford. Disappointment was expressed at the unevenness of the exhibition, Demetrel being no match for Edwards, and disgust evoked at the unsportsmanlike tactics used in securing the first fall. Edwards apparently put Demetrel out via the knee to solar plexis, but this was not counted a foul by the referee as the wrestlers were said to have agreed to protect themselves against everything but slugging with the closed fist and eye-gouge.

Jack Holt in AVALANCHE, by Zane Grey, Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Dwight Misner was supervising the unloading of a new Holt 30 caterpillar tractor at Ione Saturday, which he will use in farming his newly acquired wheat land of 3010 acres in the Ione vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Misner, who have been away from Morrow county for a year, after disposing of their former extensive holdings, were unable to resist the call of the wheatland and but recently completed the deal for the Friewald land and a small portion of adjoining land, lying north of Ione.

Al Troedson, Morgan wheatraiser, was in Heppner Saturday on business. Al is highly pleased with crop prospects at the present time, saying the ground in his vicinity is in excellent condition.

Dr. Samuel Tyler, eyesight specialist, will be at Peterson's store, Heppner, Sunday-Monday, April 7-8. Correct glasses guaranteed. Regular trips to Heppner to give you continued service.

W. H. Padberg, director, and S. S. Strodman, manager of Lexington Farmers Warehouse Co., were in Heppner on Tuesday, looking after business pertaining to the warehouse.

Dean T. Goodman and family motored to Arlington Sunday, where Mr. Goodman officiated at the meeting of the Wheatland Baseball League.

W. F. Palmateer and son, Bert, of Morgan recently purchased a new caterpillar tractor for use in farming their large land holdings.

Frank W. Turner returned Sunday from a business trip to Portland.
