

Local Happenings

R. W. Turner arrived home Friday evening after an absence of more than three months, during which time he was on a journey to the Holy Land, Egypt, southern and western Europe and other points across the ocean, as well as visiting many places of interest in New England, northeastern and central portions of the United States. He comes home looking mighty fine and states that he enjoyed to the full every bit of the time while traveling; was with an excellent company of people, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the entire trip. Mr. Turner has thus gratified an ambition that steadily grew upon him for many years, and he believes that such a trip is well worth the time and expense to any one that can possibly take it.

Lotus Robison of Hardman, has managed to pull through the winter pretty well with his band of sheep. He is now finishing with lambing of his band of 600 ewes and figures he has saved at least 90 per cent of lambs. There was a large percentage of twin lambs, and many ewes gave birth to triplets, but owing to lack of milk on the part of the mothers it has not been possible to save them all. Mr. Robison was compelled to haul a lot of feed for his sheep but is not grieving over this, as he has come out well. He was in the city on Monday looking after matters of business.

Martin Stewart says he is not as young as he once was. There was a time when a sheep would have had a tough job laying him out, but recently when he went back on the job lambing after just recovering from a serious illness, the butt of a sheep was sufficient to wrench his knee, causing him to be laid off the job for a time. He is now well on the road to recovery and greeting his many friends about town again.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bryson of Ione, accompanied by Mrs. Lana Padberg of Portland, sister of Mrs. Bryson, were among those attending the funeral of the late George Sperry in this city on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Padberg expects to visit at Ione for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilcox, residents of Lexington vicinity, were Saturday visitors in Heppner. Mr. Wilcox does some dairying, raises alfalfa and wheat on his ranch and reports all vegetation has received a setback by the raw weather of the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Olden were Monday visitors in the city from their farm home in the Fairview section. Weather conditions are very unpleasant out that way of late and as a consequence vegetation is making a slow growth.

Mrs. Tony Garland arrived from her home in Idaho on Friday and is a guest at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Jones. Mrs. Garland expects to spend a fortnight in the city, visiting with relatives and friends.

Jason Biddle, Rhea creek farmer, was a visitor at Heppner on Saturday. He would be pleased to see the weather warm up some as frosty nights and blustery days do not aid growing conditions of grain and other vegetation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cochran of Ione were called to this city on Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of George Sperry. Other Ione people here were Mesdames M. E. Cotter, Ernest Lundell and O. D. Forbes.

Riley Munkers was in the city from Lexington for a short time on Wednesday. He has just returned from Portland, where he spent five months of the winter, and has arrived home in time to enjoy, we don't know how much more of a similar brand of weather, and he is beginning to think he will have had about enough when this spell has passed by.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sperry, Jr., arrived home from Eugene the first of the week, coming at this time in response to word announcing the death of Geo. Sperry. They have been spending the past few months at Eugene where Mrs. Sperry was under the care of a physician. She returns much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Allinger and daughter Lillian arrived the first of the week from Portland where Mrs. Allinger was under the care of a specialist for some time. She will remain with her daughter here for two weeks before returning to her home at Ione. Mr. Allinger reported her to be progressing nicely.

W. P. Mahoney, president of Oregon Woolgrowers, was a visitor in Heppner Monday. With others he was conferring with Congressman R. R. Butler concerning the establishing of a rural route out of Pilot Rock, according to report in Tuesday's East Oregonian.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting Thursday, April 18, at 2:30, in the basement of the Christian church. All members and friends are urged to come.—Secretary.

Howard McDuffee, deputy sheriff, made a trip to Tacoma this weekend, on official business.

Penny Manager Leaves For Spring Convention

J. D. Cash, manager of the local J. C. Penney company store will leave Saturday for Portland to attend the spring convention.

DRINK MORE MILK

Wise old Mother Nature made milk for children. Into it she put everything needed for sustenance, and in the most easily assimilated form.

So, Drink More Milk. Let the children have plenty. It is the cheapest food you can buy.

tend the annual spring convention of the organization which will open April 15th at the Hotel Multnomah. The convention, which is one of fourteen, covering the entire country, will be headed by George T. Mitchell, department of district managers, chairman; Roy H. Ott, director of public relations; F. W. Binzen, merchandise department; and G. E. Mack, district manager, will also be present from the home office.

The first two days will be devoted to business sessions in the morning and general conference between store managers and department managers from the home office in the afternoon.

On Tuesday evening there will be a banquet at the hotel with a short program of inspirational nature, followed by the initiation of new managers into the J. C. Penney company ranks.

A feature of the business sessions in the morning program of the first two days will be talks by store managers. Three managers will be selected for each of the fourteen conventions.

Results of Thinking

Benefits from never wasting anything are clearly emphasized if we, as a scientist would, think about the matter, consider our condition and possibilities of "arriving" if we are prudent.

Just notice how people who save regularly do succeed.
