WASCO WINS 8-1 TO STAY AT TOP

Heppner Fails to Find Soden, Who Allowed Three Hits.

A scratch run in the third inning is all that kept Heppner from being shut out at the hands of Wasco at Rodeo field Sunday, the visitors taking the third game of the Wheatland league series 8-1, and maintaining their position at the head of the percentage column.

Pitcher S. Soden had so much smoke on the ball that it clouded the home boys' vision to the extent that only three hits were garnered off him. Cason's hit in the third was the only one that gave results, a dropped third strike and mis-throw to first allowing him to get to second, from where he stole third and was allowed to score on a wild pitch.

Wasco's first run came in the second when Bates' hit combined with a walk and Cason's error netted a lone tally. In the sixth they came to the front with three tallies, the result of three errors and a double blow by J. Soden. Their remaining four runs came in the seventh. S. Soden knocked a two-bagger, going to third on Osborne's hit. Wilson flied out to center, S. Osborne scoring. Van Marter got over-anxious on Tucker's grounder, dropped it, and Tucker was safe. J. Soden was out, pitcher to first, when Weedman knocked a circuit clout, scoring Tucker and Osborne ahead of him. Drake whiffed Bates to end the inning. That's all the scoring there was, though Heppner perked up in the eighth, when, with two gone, Turner clouted a two-bagger and went to third on Gay Anderson's single. Thorn sent an easy roller to first and this chance was over. Anderson had gone to center field the inning previous, and this was his only trip to bat. To show the fans he hadn't really slowed up so very much, he put a stop to a threatening Wasco attack in the ninth by making a pretty catch of Tucker's sky-scraped and catching Osborne napping off first base by a beautiful throw. There was already one away.

Umpires, W. Poulson and Bill Myers.

Ione, playing at Fossil, game was rained out in the fourth inning with score Ione 4, Fossil 0; will probably be counted as no game. Condon, playing at Arlington, won the game 4-0.

Heppner plays a return game at Wasco Sunday.

Dr. Barker to Deliver Commencement Address

Dr. Bert B. Barker, vice president of the University of Oregon, has accepted the invitation to make the commencement address to the graduating class of Heppner high school on May 24. Dr. Barker is a speaker of note, and Jas. M. Burgess, superintendent, feels the school fortunate in obtaining his services.

Commencement week bids fair to be a crowded one for the graduating class, as numerous activities are scheduled for that time, among the foremost being the annual Junior-Senior banquet, plans for which are now being made.

CREAM ROUTE ESTABLISHED. W. C. Cox, manager of the Morrow County Creamery company, announces that with the installation of a new Ford delivery truck the company has established a cream route that has been proving successful during the short time of operation. The route takes the truck down the O-W highway to Lexington and out across the hill into Rhea creek, then on down Willow creek as far as the Rood Eckleberry farm near Morgan, returning back up Willow creek.

Trained Bull. Parishville, N. Y., Apr. 24.—(Autocaster)—A farmer has trained a bull which is well broken to harness and has the pulling power of a heavy team, to pull automobiles out of mud holes near his home.

Cooking Class to Serve Men's Luncheon Club

An invitation was extended to the Heppner Business Men's Luncheon club by Jas. M. Burgess, superintendent of schools, at their Monday meeting to be the guests on Monday, May 8, at the usual hour, at a dinner to be served by the high school domestic science class. The dinner will fulfill part of the required work of the class for the year, and though the usual charge will be made, the men accepted the invitation by acclaim. The place for holding the dinner has not been announced, but will be stated on special invitations to be received by all members of the club.

A proposal for a business conference to be conducted at Heppner late in July by representatives of the department of commerce from Oregon State college was the main business before the meeting. Chas. W. Smith and J. W. Hiatt being appointed a committee to ascertain the wishes of the business men of the town regarding it. The proposal calls for a two-day session, free of charge, during which experts from the college would assist merchants in bookkeeping methods, credit systems, window displays, and various angles of business both in seasonal conferences and group meetings. A guarantee of 25 attendants at the meetings was the only stipulation.

Seven Carloads Electric Ranges in One Order

Yesterday the main offices of the Pacific Power and Light company advised M. L. Thorn, local manager, that they have just placed one of the largest orders for electric ranges ever made in the Pacific Northwest.

Seven carloads arrived on this order and additional orders are placed for later in the year. According to Mr. Thorn this one order contains enough ranges to provide every home in a moderate sized city with a range.

"This indicates very forcibly the big trend to cooking by electricity," said Mr. Thorn. "Only a few years ago, none of us would have been optimistic enough to have predicted the placing of such an order. Now we know that one or two summer months will exhaust this supply."

A very interesting thing about this seven-carload shipment is the fact that every one of these hundreds of ranges is finished in white porcelain enamel. Kitchens finished in white or light tints are in vogue now, and women are insisting on all white models in their electric ranges since it has been demonstrated that they can be kept spotlessly clean for years.

MRS. SARAH F. SPERRY. Another of Eastern Oregon's pioneers answered to the call on April 21, at the age of 64 years and 3 months.

Mrs. Sarah F. Sperry died in Heppner at the home of her daughter, Lorena Isom, following a prolonged illness. The funeral was held on Tuesday at the I. O. O. F. hall at Hardman. Rev. Stanley Moore of Heppner officiating. The service was attended by a large group of friends and relatives, and the many beautiful floral offerings attest to the respect which the community accorded her.

Sarah F. Compton was born in Bates county, Missouri, in 1865. She was married to Emery Sperry in 1881 and came with him to Oregon in 1885, settling near Morgan. They later engaged in farming on a homestead near Parkers Mill where they remained until the death of Mr. Sperry in 1910. To Mr. and Mrs. Sperry were born nine children, seven of whom are still living, these being Mrs. Jim Burnside of Hardman, Mrs. Bert Ward of Perma, Mrs. M. H. Harvey of Harshman, Eight Mile, Mrs. Walter Farrens, Hardman, Mrs. Clyde Swift and Lorena Isom, Heppner, and Mrs. Blaine Chapel of Hardman. Besides these Mrs. Sperry is survived by two sisters and one brother of Oregon City, twelve grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mrs. Sperry passed the last years of her life in quiet contentment with her daughter, Mrs. Blaine Chapel. She was one of Hardman's most respected citizens and there are many who mourn her sound counsel and neighborly friendliness. Her untimely death lends her family the sympathy of the entire community.—Contributed.

Guy Hastings received an injury to his shoulder Wednesday when thrown from a horse.

Mrs. Bogue, mother of Mrs. Mike Rowell of Rhea creek, received a broken rib when she slipped and fell a few days ago. Mrs. Bogue is 82 years of age.

'PICKLES' DATE SET FOR MAY THE 9TH

High School Operetta One of Best; Scenes and Music Beautiful.

Each year the presentation of an operetta is among the major entertainment events sponsored by the high school, and "Pickles," the operetta to be given at the school auditorium May 9, will not be an exception, assures Jas. M. Burgess, superintendent. Practices have been going on for weeks, and every indication points to a wonderful finesse by the date of presentation.

"Pickles" is one of the most popular of the late operettas, carrying a large number of voice parts, as well as several speaking parts. The music is beautiful throughout, and the settings will far surpass those of previous years, it is declared. The theme itself is enticing as well as exceedingly humorous.

Jonas H. Pennington, an American millionaire pickle manufacturer, with his daughter, June, arrives in Vienna amidst preparations for the annual carnival. To his consternation he finds Jones, his advertising expert, advertising Pennington's Peter Piper Pickles too well. An old acquaintance, Lady Vivian, a wealthy Englishwoman, also arrives on her annual quest in search of her daughter, who was lost near Vienna at carnival time when a baby, Kinski, the pompous police chief, plots to substitute the lost child of Lady Vivian and marry her for the fortune.

A band of gypsies visits the carnival led by Jigo, the chieftain, and his supposed daughter Iona. Events lead all to the Gypsy camp, where a magic pool reveals the face of Lady Vivian's daughter. Arthur Crefont, a poor artist, wins recognition of his art and also the hand of June Pennington. Lady Vivian consents to become Mrs. Pennington; Kinski's plot is exposed; Iona is restored to her mother and Jones is rewarded with success in his campaign for the hand of Iona.

Kate Francis Eds, coach, has selected the cast as follows: Hans Mader, proprietor of the Wurtzelpaerter Inn, Homer Hayes; Louise, a waitress, Jeanette Turner; Captain Kinski, chief of detective bureau of Vienna, Harlan Devine; Bumski and Rumski, Kinski's faithful sleuths, Earl Thomson and Eddie Kenny; J. Jennison Jones, an advertising expert, Clarence Hayes; Jigo, a Hungarian Gypsy, Fletcher Walker; Iona, a Gypsy girl, Anna McDaid; Arthur Crefont, a young American artist, John Franzen; June Pennington, an American heiress, Louise Langdon; Jonas H. Pennington, proprietor of "Peter Piper Pickles," Terrel George; Lady Vivian Delancy, a charming English widow, Donna Brown.

The Burgers chorus: Aley Peck, Gerald Swaggart, Gay Anderson, Homer Hayes, Lee Vinson, Billy Cox, Ramond Clark and Earl Bryant.

WRITING ON THE WALL. At the feast of Belshazzar and his lords the hand of God wrote their judgment on the wall but it needed a Daniel to read the writing. There can be no doubt that the hand of God is still writing. Can we read his message? This is the theme for discussion at the Church of Christ on Sunday evening. The morning sermon will be, "The Personality of the Holy Spirit."

Be a part of our big Bible school at 9:45 Christian Endeavor at 8:30. MILTON W. BOWER, Minister.

STATE EXAMS SET. We are informed by County School Superintendent, Mrs. Lucy Rodgers, that the state examinations for the 6th, 7th and 8th grades in Morrow county schools will be Thursday and Friday, May 16th and 17th.

About Warts. Chicago, Apr. 24.—(Autocaster)—Says Karl P. Schmidt in a book recently published by the Field Museum of Natural History: "The belief that the handling of toads causes warts is wholly without foundation. It evidently has arisen from the simple analogy between the warts of toads and the existence of warts on the hands of small boys."

Kid McCoy, who has been married thirteen times, is now fire chief at San Quentin. Well, the kid certainly should know how to put out the old flames.

Umatilla Wins Firsts in Declamatory Meet

Though Morrow county never took a first place in the Morrow-Umatilla County Declamatory contest at Pendleton Saturday, the contest was exceptionally good, and Morrow county does not need to feel ashamed of the showing made, declares Lucy E. Rodgers, county superintendent of schools. While this is but the fourth year that declamation work has been stressed in the schools of Morrow county, our larger neighboring county has been carrying on the work for years, at the same time having many more pupils from whom to choose.

Declamatory work has been gaining a new impetus since its inception, with an improvement in quality as well as an increase in the number of pupils participating. Mrs. Rodgers says. A general improvement was noted in the inter-county contest over the contest a year ago.

Another year it is possible that other counties may participate. Mrs. Rodgers says she would be glad to see Gilliam or Grant, or both, come in, believing it would give our county an even chance. In all probability the contest will be held in Heppner next year, she says.

Judges of the contest were all from La Grande, being Katherine Sartain and Zella Thomas, teachers, and E. A. Sayre, superintendent of schools of Union county. The judges' decisions were unanimous in all but one division.

Co-Operation the Solution. Editor Fred J. Toose of the St. Helens Sentinel seems to be imbued with the importance of co-operation in the field of agriculture. In a late issue he says: "The day of co-operation marketing is here. And successful co-operation of the producers in matters of standardizing of products and producing in sufficient quantities to command the attention of buyers is necessary to success. Co-operation is the solution of the growers' marketing problem. It is the avenue through which Columbia county berries may be marketed and the foundation laid for permanent canneries here. And the outstanding feature of the co-operation marketing is that the grower gets full value for his products."

Making Spuds Attractive. A suggestion worth while in these days of apartment house existence is found in the following item: "An Idaho shipper introduced a 25-pound white muslin bag, attractively branded, which met with popular favor as a consumer package. Several shippers, car-lot receivers, jobbers and retail chain-stores are shipping or re-packing potatoes in these 25-pound bags under their own brand. It has been estimated that 15 to 20 per cent of the potatoes used in the market reach the consumer in these small bags. Honesty and pridefully packed, what a pleasure to consumers these sacks are and what a chance for growers to establish a name."

Protecting the Shipper. The Produce Agency Act, passed by Congress in 1927 for the protection of growers and shippers of fruit and vegetables, provides for punishment of the commission merchant who receives farm products in interstate commerce if he fails in properly accounting or makes false statements to the injury of the shipper, also for dumping products without good and sufficient cause. Shippers who feel aggrieved or injured may report to the bureau of agricultural economics, Washington, D. C., which will investigate the complaint and take such steps as may appear necessary.

Strong Market Expected. Heavy marketing of fed cattle early in the year, together with reduced shipments of stockers and feeders to the country, point to reduced supplies of fat cattle in the late summer and fall and the probability of a strong market for such kinds similar to that experienced in late 1927, according to the bureau of agricultural economics.

Good Price for Wool. Wool prices are quite encouraging this spring. Sheep owners in Walla Walla county report having recently received 30 cents a pound for their fleeces, which is two cents a pound better than last year.

The State Grange will meet at Marshfield this year June 11-14.

COUNTY AGENT MOVES. The office of County Agent Smith was moved this week from the Gilman building, where it has been located for a number of years, to rooms upstairs in the I. O. O. F. building, just down the hall from the offices of Dr. Johnston. This move on the part of the county agent was made necessary by the leasing of the room in the Gilman building to parties who are opening up a new bakery here.

HOOVER OPPOSES DEBENTURE PLAN

State Market Agent Sees Good Wool Price in Weekly Report.

SEYMOUR JONES, State Market Agent. President Hoover has taken a positive stand against the debenture plan which, through the influence of the Grange, has been made a part of the McNary farm-relief bill. The president, in a formal letter to Senator McNary on the subject, says that the debenture plan would bring disaster to the American farmer; that the theoretical benefits would not be reflected to the farmers; that it would lead to profiteering by speculators and others, as well as over-production of the affected commodities; thus adding to the difficulties from which the farmers now suffers from that cause; that the introduction of such a plan would inevitably confuse and minimize the much more far-reaching plan of farm-relief, upon the fundamental principles of which there has been general agreement.

Car Turns Turtle and Occupants are Trapped

Art Ritchie and Sherman Shaw were the victims of a car wreck on Sunday evening when the Ford coupe that Mr. Ritchie was driving left the highway near the Guy Boyer place on Hinton creek and turned over on them.

The men had gone for a little ride up the creek, turning at the John Kilkenny place. They were making pretty fair time as they got opposite the Boyer place, when a tire on one of the front wheels slipped the rim, the bare wheel dug into the gravel and the car left the road and shot down the bank. It caught the occupants underneath, and they were held in this position for about an hour, when Mrs. Ben Cox, who was driving by, came to their relief and helped to get the machine raised so that the men could crawl out. Mr. Shaw had the ligaments torn loose in his right shoulder and Mr. Ritchie received a cut on the leg, but no bones were broken. The car was a complete wreck.

Will Make Survey for A Pure Water Supply. In company with Mayor McCarty, L. R. Stockman of Baker, engineer in charge of the construction of the new reservoir for the city, will go out to the mountains about the intake of the present city water system, to make a preliminary survey looking to the extension of the system that a clear and pure water supply may be had for the city.

Whether or not the city will be able to proceed with an extension of this kind soon, we are not informed, but it is encouraging to have them take steps looking to such a move in the near future. It would not only give us clear water, but it should also add to the supply and guarantee an abundance of water no matter what the season might be.

FOOT HEALTH. (State Board of Health.) Do you have trouble with your feet? More than fifty per cent have foot trouble. Most of these people could have had better feet if they had worn better shoes.

Well, what can you do about it? A plan of foot hygiene is simple and short, and if started now will greatly add to your foot health. A normal healthy foot behaves itself at all times and a foot which isn't normal and healthy can be made so if attention is given to bathing, foot wear, and exercise. Perspiring feet are a great annoyance. They are seldom the cause of ill health. This condition can be avoided by wearing larger and better-fitting shoes. The feet should be washed daily with soap and warm water. Rinse them with cold water. The temperature and moisture within the shoe play an important part in the care of the feet.

Blisters are dangerous not merely because of pain but because of the possibility of infection. Broken blisters should be dressed with antiseptics. The site of the blister should be protected and relieved from pressure so as to give the skin a chance to become normal and able to withstand the friction of the shoe. As a precaution against infection, the feet should be kept clean.

The correct shoe to wear is one made as follows: (1) Straight inner edge of sole. (2) Narrow shank. (3) Broad toe, and (4) Broad heel, with heel coming well forward especially on the inner edge of shoe.

Don't allow shoe clerks to induce you into wearing ornamental shoes for anything but ornamental occasions. The stage shoe with its pointed toe and small size was never intended for every day use.

If your feet tire or swell, devote ten to fifteen minutes a day to foot exercise. After the bath, while sitting on a low chair so that your feet can easily reach the ground, place your feet about eight inches apart, toes straight ahead. Keep the heels still, turn your toes in and curl them under. Hold the position to the count of ten and then replace to the starting position. Toes straight.

Walking is good exercise to build strength in the feet, but there is a right way to walk. The weight should be thrown on the outer side of the foot, feet should be parallel in a straight line and not turned out or in, and the heel should strike the ground first with the weight, then swing forward to the toe which gives a push for your next step. These simple suggestions faithfully pursued will increase your foot health.

NEW RESERVOIR FILLED. The new 310,000 gallon reservoir for Heppner's city waterworks was filled to capacity yesterday and last night. Water was turned in at 10:30 a. m., Wednesday, and it took about 24 hours for it to fill to capacity. The contractors are now finishing up their work about the reservoir, and according to L. R. Stockman, engineer, the job should be ready for acceptance by the city council at their next meeting, the first Monday in May. This will also give time for testing out the concrete work on the reservoir and prove its ability to stand the water pressure. To a common layman it has the appearance of being a very fine and substantial piece of work.

VAN MARGER WINS LATOURELL CUP

Locals Place High In Oregonian's Statewide Tournament.

Celebrating Heppner's good showing in the preliminary competition of the Oregonian state telegraphic trapshooting tournament, Chas. H. Latourell, president, treated all the members of Heppner Rod and Gun club who had made the team during the shoot to a chicken dinner at the Elkhorn restaurant Wednesday evening. A feature of the evening was the presentation of the Latourell well cup to L. Van Marter who held local high gun. Out of 650 targets Mr. Van Marter broke 95.20 per cent. Adam Knoblock was next with 93.1 per cent of 450 targets, and Glenn Hayes third with 92.8 per cent of 475.

Last Sunday completed the preliminary competition, and though some ties remain to be decided Heppner is sure of at least fourth place, and will be among the 15 teams to participate in the shoot-off match for the Oregonian trophy at Portland, Saturday, May 4. This trophy was won by the locals at the inception of the tournament four years ago.

Heppner won all three matches Sunday with a perfect 75 score, Van Marter, Albert Bowker and Glenn Hayes each turning in a straight 25. Teams defeated were Portland, Eugene and La Grande.

Seven men will make the trip to Portland from here, these including the five-man team that won the trophy four years ago, L. Van Marter, Chas. Latourell, Albert Bowker, Dr. A. D. McMurdo and Chas. Vaughn, with the addition of Adam Knoblock and Glenn Hayes both of whom have made the Sunday three-man teams a number of times during the present shoot.

A plan to decide the team that will compete in the shoot-off was devised at the dinner. Each of the men will shoot 100 birds on three days, ending Sunday, and the five with the highest scores will compose the team. In a practice shoot yesterday afternoon Mr. Latourell himself broke 100 straight the first time, he says, that he has made an unbroken run of this number.

Auxiliary Sewing Club Has Meeting Yesterday. The American Legion Auxiliary Sewing club met with the Relief Corps on Wednesday afternoon at Legion hall. Quilt blocks were made and a number of children's garments completed.

For the Auxiliary benefit dance to be given at Elks hall on Friday evening, May 3, the following decorating committee was appointed: Mrs. A. H. Johnston, chairman, Mrs. Arthur McCate and Mrs. Mitchell Thorn. Any auxiliary member having flowers or plants to donate or that can be used on this occasion, will please notify the decorating committee.

ALL SAINTS' EPISCOPAL CHURCH. Holy Communion at 7:00 a. m. Church school at 9:45 o'clock. Morning prayer and sermon at 11. "Thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know; and the God in whose hand thy life is and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified."—Daniel 5:23.

These are the words of Daniel the prophet to Belshazzar the king. They apply most uniquely to the men of today. The men of today worship their own brain power, and the puny machines they create—senseless folly—instead of giving glory to God who gives both creative brain power and the material of which the dumb mechanical God—Machinery—is made. Cast away mental egotism, selfishness and spiritual laziness and come and worship the Lord of our lives.

REV. STANLEY MOORE, Missionary-in-Charge.

BOY SCOUTS. The Boy Scouts are going to go on an over-night camp up Rhea creek this Friday and Saturday. Scout Executive Douglas Hawley will be here in town between five and six o'clock Friday evening with delegations of Scouts from Pendleton, Hermiston, and perhaps some from Pilot Rock. These scouts will be the guests of Heppner Troop 61 on this trip.

The boys have been doing good work in passing of Scouts' tests, and the whole troop is making progress. It may be possible that some of the boys will return from this camping trip as first class scouts.
